SIMON-HITLER CONFER

Avenues Of European Peace Are Now Being "Explored"

Europe Awaits Hitler And Simon Meeting Result

Momentous Conference On Peace Of Europe Taking Place In Berlin

MUSSOLINI'S ARMY CRITICAL PROBLEM

Hitler's Program Is Now Known To Sir John Simon—Is Extensive

LONDON, Mar. 25.—Behind closed doors two men talked today in Berlin and 400,000,000 Europeans waited tensely for results which may mean peace or war.

As foreign secretary, Sir John Simon of Britain came face to face with Hitler for the first time today, Europe agreed it was the most momentous meeting since the Germans put under the treaty of Versaillles the signature which they have now repudiated.

Grave Day

This was almost the only point on which Europe agreed on this "most grave day in history," as James Louis Garvin, editor of the London Sunday Observer, calls it.

Three little bright points appeared at the last minute on the gloomy horizon.

Hungary announced she did not at this moment intend to follow Germany's example and rearm openly, which would have meant war in the Balkans.

Rumania denied a report she was mobilizing.

Foreign minister Koki Hirota of Japan announced there were no negotiations for a Japanese-German alliance but that Germany had declared she would never demand return of her Pacific Island colonies, mandated to Japan.

On the other hand, dark clouds rolled upon Germany's north and southeastern borders. From Vienna, special envoy Franz von Papen hastened to Berlin and it is believed he

BEAVER COUNTY FUGITIVES CAPTURED IN YOUNGSTOWN

(International News Service)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Mar. 25.—Two prisoners who broke out of the county jail of Beaver county, Pennsylvania, were captured here today by police squads.

Shortly after word was flashed to the countryside the men had escaped by using a rope to scale the jail walls, the two convicts, Charles Unkovan, 24, and Joseph Skoski, 22, who were being held to start serving long terms for robbery with guns, appeared at a gasoline filling station. The attendant, who had been listening to police broadcasts on short wave radio, recognized them and hurriedly telephoned headquarters.

A police squad headed by Sergeant Edward Foley, rushed in pursuit. The convicts, riding in a stolen car, were curbed and surrendered without resistance.

Skoski, it was disclosed, had been

Work-Relief Measure May Reach President's Desk By End Of Week

Measure Now In Conference To Adjust House And Senate Differences

PASSED IN SENATE SATURDAY AFTERNOON

"Silver Bloc" Making Final Effort To Have Program Included In Bill

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Mar. 25.—The House "silver bloc" moved today to foil the "plot" of Senate leaders by seeking House acceptance of the Thomas silver "rider" to the $4,880,000,000 work-relief bill.

The Thomas amendment admittedly was accepted by senate leaders to break the jam and obtain passage of the work-relief bill. It was their plan to knock it out in conference with the house.

But house silverites were called into conference today with leaders proposing to stage a fight in the house for acceptance of the silver amendment.

This coup, if it succeeds would either force President Roosevelt to accept the silver proposals or again open up the work-relief fight in the senate.

Calls "Silver Bloc"

Rep. John A. Martin (D) of Colorado, as unofficial chairman called the house "silver bloc" into conference to make a final decision.

Meantime, Chairman Buchanan (D) of Texas of the appropriations committee, in charge of the bill, disclosed that he planned to promptly ask the house to send the measure to conference.

Unless a new filibuster develops or the silverites win, the gigantic appropriation measure designated to put 3,500,000 unemployed persons to work, may reach President Roosevelt's desk late this week.

The measure passed in the senate late Saturday and was sent to a

Governor's Family Moves Into Mansion

State Mansion At Harrisburg Is Resplendent In $20,000 Worth Of New Decorations

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 25.—Pennsylvania's first family today moved into the state's ancient brownstone executive mansion along the Susquehanna, again resplendent in $20,000 worth of new decorations, furnishings and repairs.

With Gov. George H. Earle in Washington, the moving operations were supervised by Mrs. Earle, her secretary and servants.

The mansion was a considerably brighter place as the belongings of the official family were unpacked. Workmen and interior decorators have spent the last two months refurnishing the old house. Dull draperies and decorations have been replaced by others of brighter hues under the direction of Mrs. Edgar Munson, of Muncy.

Records show the Earle's were the fifteenth executive family to reside in the mansion since it was turned over to Pennsylvania by the city of Harrisburg in 1864. Since acquiring the residence, the state has spent more than $200,000 for repairs and furnishings to meet the desires of the succeeding governors and their families. The high mark was in the administration of Governor Edwin E. Stuart when $48,000 was spent.

GASTON POST TO INAUGURATE PLANS

Plans will be set in motion at the meeting of the Perry S. Gaston post, American Legion, Tuesday evening, for the entertainment of National Commander Frank N. Belgrano, who will be here on May 9 for the annual national commander's banquet.

The date for the banquet was set following the visit of the national commander to Pittsburgh on Friday.

There will also be an address at the meeting of the post Tuesday evening by an "unknown soldier", which will be worth hearing. Commander Ches C. Sweesy stated today.

Seek To Avert New Coal Strike

New Contract Must Be Reached By April To Avert Walkout

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 25.—Facing a walkout of 300,000 soft coal miners unless a new contract is reached by April 1, negotiating committees of Appalachian bituminous operators and the United Mine Workers of America met again today in an effort to solve their problems.

John L. Lewis, militant leader of the miners' union, declared that unless a new contract is signed by midnight of March 31, not a miner would enter the soft coal shafts the next day. This is a policy long pursued by the union and will be adhered to this time, Lewis said.

The union is striving for a substantial increase in the wage scale, a 30-hour week and better working conditions. The operators want the existing contract to be renewed, contending they would be unable to operate the mines under the proposed contract.

As the deadline approaches there is a possibility the administration will take a hand in the matter. Leaders of both groups, however, declined to comment on this possibility.

"Heart Balm" In New York State Thing Of Past

Bill Passed By New York Legislature May Become Model For Other States

(International News Service)

ALBANY, N. Y., Mar. 25.—The McNaboe bill outlawing "heart balm" suits in New York state, passed by both houses of the legislature, may serve as a model for many other states throughout the nation.

Senator John J. McNaboe, author of the measure, revealed today that legislators from six other states have requested copies of the bill, indicating that they would sponsor similar measures.

The requests came from Connecticut, Missouri, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Texas and Idaho.

Senate May Expand Tobacco Tax Measure Into General Sales Tax

By ROBERT F. GORMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Mar. 25.—Its lines holding intact, the Democratic majority in the house today was prepared to send the remainder of Gov. George H. Earle's sweeping tax program, now totaling more than $214,000,000 to an uncertain fate in the Republican senate this week.

A dozen bills, rated at $71,175,000 for the biennium, were listed for final passage as special orders of business tonight and tomorrow. When passed finally, they will join measures aggregating almost $135,000,000 now held by the senate finance committee.

Bills designed to yield $35,300,000 by extending the gross receipts tax to manufacturers headed the $41,300,000 group for final passage tonight. Measures transferring collection of inheritance and mercantile taxes to the department of revenue and extending the gross receipts tax to mutual insurance and gas, water and steam companies rounded out the list.

Tomorrow's special final passage of calendar listed bills totaling $29,875,000, topped by the $20,000,000 six per cent tax on the net income of

Chamber Of Deputies Votes For Move By 453-125 Margin

(International News Service)

PARIS, Mar. 25.—America's and Japan's naval increases were brought into the arms picture along with Germany's conscription today as the chamber of deputies, turning to France's sea defense, voted a special billion-Franc increase in the marine appropraition by 453 to 125.

The program calls for a new treaty-limit first-line battleship of 35,000 tons to cost 785,000,000 Francs; two destroyers totaling 3,400 tons to cost 148,000,000 Francs, and 132,000,000 Francs to equip the new units.

The total outlay is to be 1,065,000,000 Francs, or about $70,290,000.

Emphasizing foreign naval construction, Pierre Appell put particular stress on Germany's acceleration of her new 10,000-ton "pocket battleship" construction program as he presented the supplementary naval estimates to the chamber.

Rotary Club Plays Host To Farm Group

New Castle's Rotary club today played host to a large group of Lawrence county farmers at its annual "Rural Day" program at The Castleton.

The Rotarians recently were banqueted by the farm group at Westfield grange and the noon treat of the Rotarians reciprocated for it.

City Officials To Decide Upon Paving

Council will meet with the city engineer informally in the near future in the hope of deciding what thoroughfares will be amiesited this spring. There are about 16 petitions before city officials in which property-owners want their thoroughfares improved. According to a report in city hall it may be impossible to do all of the work this spring and summer. The cost will be borne by assessment against abutting property-owners.

Girl Friends Of Desperadoes Are Sent To Prison

(International News Service)

MIAMI, Fla., Mar. 25.—The girl friends of Alvin Karpis and Harry Campbell, notorious fugitive desperadoes, learned today stern justice awaits those who associate with criminals.

Five year penitentiary sentences were pronounced on Dolores Delaney, 19, and Winona Burdette, 21, when the girls, arrested at Atlantic City when Karpis and Campbell shot their way through a police trap, pleaded guilty before Federal Judge Halsted Ritter to harboring the desperadoes.

Court Decision Sustains Death Decree Of Luzerne County Jury

GOVERNOR ONLY CHANCE FOR YOUTH

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 25—Bobby Allan Edwards, 22, convicted "American tragedy" slayer of Miss Freda McKechnie, 27, must die in the electric chair, the state supreme court ruled today in affirming a Luzerne county jury's verdict.

The commonwealth's highest tribunal refused to grant the youthful defendant of Edwardsville, Pa., a new trial. Its decision makes it necessary for Edwards to die in the electric chair unless executive clemency is granted by Gov. George H. Earle.

The youth was convicted of killing his childhood sweetheart last July when the two kept a swimming "date" at Harvey's lake near Wilkes-Barre. The commonwealth contended Edwards beat Miss McKechnie, an expectant mother, to death so that he could marry the second girl in the love triangle—Miss Margaret Crain, 23, a music teacher of East Aurora, N. Y.

Edwards, one-time coal miner and later an engineer, admitted he had maintained an intimate friendship with the tragedy victim for some time prior to the killing.

Opinion Unanimous.

Underworld Is In Hiding, Plan To Kill Fails

State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney, Of Chicago, Fired Upon By Assassins

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Mar. 25.—"There's going to be 'heat,' and lots of it!"

But despite this statement by state's attorney Thomas J. Courtney following a daring attempt to assassinate him, no arrests had been made today.

Though Courtney intimated he knew the identity of the men who fired eight shots at him yesterday as he was being driven to his home, he refused to name the suspects.

It was hinted, however, that remnants of the Capone gang were responsible for the attempted assassination, a belief strengthened by Courtney's long crusade rackets controlled by Capone interests.

Meanwhile the Chicago underworld cowered in fear and scurried for hideouts as police plans for a gigantic criminal round-up.

Some Projects Are Resumed

R. W. D. Workmen Take Up Jobs On Eight Projects Here

ABOUT 500 MEN ARE AFFECTED

Work on eight RWD projects in New Castle and outside resumed today when approximately 500 men went back to work. Among the projects resumed were Cascade street, Rural avenue, Balph avenue and the Harbor road.

For a number of reasons these projects are considered important. When Cascade street was abandoned it created a fire hazard in that equipment could not get in to the properties in case of fire. Rural avenue is still blocked to traffic from the North Hill, the Harbor road is a mud streak and makes traffic impossible. Balph avenue is in similar condition.

Because of this, W. Leslie Wilson, acting RWD administrator, thought it best to resume work on these projects and get them finished as soon as possible.

With the passage of the immense relief bill in the senate it is thought that more RWD projects will open up in the near future.

DATES FOR TRYING COURT CASES FIXED

Judges R. L. Hildebrand and Jas. A. Chambers held a session of court this morning at which they went over the trial list with attorneys and fixed the time for hearing the different cases, during three terms of common pleas court, which will be held during the month of April. But it did look like he was bringing out some stuff that the Democrat is a mighty honorable and respectable citizen. And his parable should be given mighty serious consideration, for he is about half right.

There is some schemes that haven't exactly percolated for the Democrats. Anyhow it's good to hear that we have again, after a relapse, returned to a party system.

French Naval Building Move Is Troublesome

Spectre Of Naval Building Race Seen As Conference Is Opened

DISCUSSION TODAY IS PRELIMINARY

Mussolini's Call For Increased Army Comes In For Early Attention

(International News Service)

"Explorations" into avenues of peace were begun by Great Britain and France in Berlin today.

Developments in leading capitals were:

Berlin—Conversations between Chancellor Hitler and British Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon described as "satisfactory" although new French naval building injected unexpected factor into discussions.

Paris—By an overwhelming vote, chamber of deputies passed special billion-franc appropriation to strengthen France's marine defenses.

Tokyo—Japan expressed willingness to meet with Versailles treaty signatories to consider German conscription.

Spectre Of Naval Building Race

BERLIN, Mar. 25.—The spectre of a European naval building race stalked today into the Reich chancellory where Adolf Hitler, Fuehrer of Germany, and Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon of Britain "explored" avenues of preserving peace in a heavily armed Europe.

Into the conference room where British and German statesmen were gathered for the most momentous discussions since the close of the World war, was brought word of the action of the French chamber of deputies in voting a special billion Franc appropriation to strengthen France's sea defenses.

The conversations in the chancellory were officially described to International News Service at the luncheon recess as "satisfactory", but it was indicated the information from Paris injected an unexpectedly lively factor into the discussions.

Mussolini's Action Cited

Luncheon originally was scheduled for 1 p. m., but just before that the wires brought word of France's new preparedness measure. As a result, the morning session lasted for an additional hour.

The early part of the day, it was learned, was spent in exchanging friendly views and expounding the respective positions of Britain and the Reich regarding dominant European problems.

During the early conversation, Hitler was reported to have called Sir John's attention to Germany's highly-armed neighbors, justifying on these grounds the arms equality of the Reich as essential to national security.

One source declared Hitler particularly alluded to Premier Mussoli-

The human breast is filled with hope, the poet tells us so, and that is why each year I try to get some grass to grow, beneath some spreading maple trees that shade the porch and lawn, but every fall it is the same, the grass is dead and gone. But every spring I try again with seeds of wondrous price, for one should try to have his yard look green and clean and nice. But it appears it will not grow, try though I may each spring, the weather's sixty-one which means again I'll try to wring some life from seeds that I have bought, to make a verdant lawn, where I can sit and rest my bones, ere summer will be gone.

CONFESSION SOLVES BOY'S DEATH

Convicted Man Adds New Crime

Albert H. Fish Admits He Took Life Of Gaffney Boy 6 Years Ago

CONFESSION GIVEN, POLICE ANNOUNCE

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 25.—Another major mystery in the annals of the police department was marked "solved" today.

Ever since he vanished from his Brooklyn home eight years ago, police hunted continuously for Billy Gaffney. Yesterday, however, Albert H. Fish, 65-year-old "monster man", who was convicted Friday night in White Plains of the "fiend murder" of 10-year-old Grace Budd, six years ago, confessed that the Gaffney boy also was a victim of his mad blood lust.

To Die In Chair.

In a four-page signed document, made public by his attorney, James Dempsey, the depraved old man revealed that he kidnaped the blond-haired tot from in front of his home, took him to a city dump and there committed unimagined horrors before slaying his victim. A search was under way for the boy's body today.

The written confession in many respects is a virtual parallel to his story of the manner in which he slew the Budd girl in an abandoned Westchester county cottage and then dismembered her body.

Meanwhile Fish was scheduled to be sentenced by Supreme Court Justice Frederick P. Close in White Plains to die in the electric chair for the murder of the Budd girl.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Mar. 25—Albert Fish, 65, convicted of the murder of 10-year old Grace Budd, was sentenced to death today by supreme court justice Frederick P. Glose.

The time of execution was set for the week of April 29.

came to tell Hitler the time is ripe to demand a plebiscite to give the Nazis there a chance.

Mussolini's Army Ready

Against such a demand Mussolini's army, a million strong, is flocking now to the colors and one of Simon's hardest tasks will be to find a way to keep the bayonets of Italy's dictator from clashing with those of Germany's.

At the same time, in a corner of Tiny Luthuania is a smouldering spark more immediately threatening to Europe's powder barrel than any other.

There the German majority in the town of Memel is clamoring for a return to Germany and at this very moment a verdict is expected from Kovno in the court-martial of 123 Nazis for a conspiracy to effect a "putsch" against Lithuanian rule.

The Lithuanian prosecutors asked death for five Germans accused of murdering a member of their secret society who had turned traitor. If the court decrees death or confirms any of the long-term prison sentences asked against prominent Nazis, public feeling in Germany will flame.

But Memel is Lithuania's only port and she declares she will fight to the last man of her two million population to hold it.

She has ordered arms from the Soviet union and just as Italy's army stands menacingly behind Austria, so the vast red army lies separated only by a narrow strip of Polish teritory from Lithuania which Moscow wants to support against its arch-enemy Berlin.

Memel itself is unimportant but Moscow is convinced if Germany gets Memel it means the first step to German domination of all the Baltic states, and this the soviet union would resist by force.

Hitler's Program

Against this explosive background Simon and Hitler are now "exploring" each other's minds. Simon knows that Hitler's maximum program is.

First, complete military equality. Having seized it, Germany will never abandon it.

Second, increase of her navy to possibly 400,000 tons, four times the present German navy, about one-third the British or approximately the same as the French.

This demand would be grounded on the necessity of protection against the soviet fleet, which however is only a fraction of the present German fleet.

Third, return of the former German colonies, the most important being Tanganyika, under British, and German southwest Africa, under union of South Africa mandate.

Fourth, return of German sovereignty over traffic on the rivers Oder, Weser and Rhine, which the treaty of Versailles put under international control.

Fifth, a plebiscite in Memel.

Sixth, a plebiscite in Austria.

It is quite certain Hitler won't make all these demands at once. It is Simon's job to find out which Hitler will ultimately insist upon as his pride for entry into a collective system of peace.

On the other hand, Hitler's job is to find out from Simon what is the minimum Britain must have to keep her from making an alliance with France.

WORK-RELIEF BILL TO REACH PRESIDENT BY END OF WEEK

house and senate conference to adjust controversial issues.

The Thomas silver "rider" requires coinage of silver bullion at $1.29 an ounce, reissuance of silver certificates, and makes discretionary use of silver in settling foreign trade balances and sale of gold and silver.

"This is the last chance for silver" said Martin. "If the house allows the silver amendment to be stricken out, silver is done for in this session.

"I propose that the house accept the silver amendment before the works bill goes to conference. If we don't do that, we may as well lay down and quite on silver in the house.

Says Amendment Conservative

"The Thomas amendment is conservative. It would put about $350,000,000 new currency into circulation. It is evident from the senate debate, that the leaders intended to strike the amendment out in conference.

Other senate amendments to the bill were said by House leaders to be generally satisfactory.

The Russell compromise amendment on prevailing wages, chairman Buchanan said, leaves the president free to put into effect the work-relief wage he had planned.

The allocations made by the senate, Buchanan asserted, were little different from what was originally proposed in the house. A senate amendment prohibiting use of the fund for expanding the national defense may be fought by the preparedness- minded house. Another amendment authorizing loans for purchase of farm lands and equipment by tenants was to be assailed.

Final passage of the bill this week is a necessity, with the law operating the CCC expiring March 31. The FERA and the PWA also are extended in the bill.

Y. W. Business Women To Dine

Will Have Program Tuesday Evening As Part Of International Movement

MRS. METZLER WILL PRESIDE

As a part of the international program of the Y. W. C. A., a banquet will take place in the local institution's dining room, Tuesday evening at 6:30, under the auspices of the business and professional members of the Y. W. C. A.

Mrs. Charles T. Metzler, chairman of the business and professional group of the Y. W. C. A. will preside.

The program will include a piano solo by Miss Mesaldo Morganti; a presentation of the camp period this summer by Mrs. Robert Eckles, chairman of the camp committee for the business and professional group, and vocal solo by Miss Elizabeth Litier.

This will be followed by a series of negro spirituals, by a chorus from the Elm Street Y. W. C. A., which will pertain to the theme of the banquet, "New Frontiers." The chorus is directed by Mrs. Elizabeth Lash.

The first number, "Go Down Moses," will introduce Edward Reese of the State Employment office, who will speak on "Unemployment Frontiers."

The next number, "Walk Together Children," will introduce Miss Anna Taylor, who will speak on the subject, "Racial Frontiers." The number, "Ain't Gonna Study War No More," will introduce Mrs. William Cosel, who will speak on "International Frontiers." The program will be concluded with the singing of several more numbers by the chorus.

The business girl's club from the Butler Y. W. C. A. will be special guests on this occasion and reservations for the dinner must be received at the Y. W. C. A. this evening, Phone 6120.

VETERAN POSTMAN WILL BE RETIRED

about 46 years ago, only covers a period in excess of 30 years. For a part of the time he was not in the postal service.

On October 1, 1889 he was named substitute clerk at the Pittsburgh post office and on January 1, 1892 became a regular clerk. Resigning that position on March 31, 1900, he eventually came to New Castle and here on January 9, 1913 was appointed a substitute rural carrier. On July 1, 1914 he was named a regular rural carrier and served in that capacity until he was transferred to a city carrier's route on October 31, 1918.

In the Seventh ward district Mr. Woods is widely known for it was out of that ward's branch office that he served most of his time. He was transferred to the East Side route not so long ago.

Mr. Woods, the third veteran carrier to be retired by the post office here during the past year, resides at 111 East Clayton street.

The two other postmen who retired within the past year were George Swisher and Wylie Wallace.

Courses Open To Senate.

Several courses were open to senate Republicans still holding the upper hand. They may summarily reject major features of the governor's program and expand the tobacco tax into a general sales tax, at the same time attempting to move a state income tax bill through the Democratic house to raise needed revenue. If both Democrats and Republicans refuse to give ground, a deadlock will result.

Still remaining to be acted upon in the house were the $1,500,000 gift tax, the $3,000,000 mileage tax on foreign trucks operating in Pennsylvania and the $4,000,000 severance tax on natural resources. The gift tax was expected to be reported from committee promptly; action on the truck tax was debatable because of the fear it may involve Pennsylvania in a "war" with neighboring states while the severance tax was considered dead.

In present form, the administration tax program, including an $11,000,000 "working margin" over the $203,000,000 requested by the governor. This will permit dropping the severance tax and making other minor amendments.

With final enactment of the tax bills in the house, the senate was expected to begin work in earnest on the revenue program. Sen. John J. McClure, chairman of the finance committee, has indicted he will follow house procedure and grant hearing on controversial measures. The first, on the $40,000,000 gasoline tax boost, was listed for today.

Some May Pass.

Some legislative observers foresaw passage in the senate of a number of the governor's bills, but there was considerable doubt as to whether the entire program can be pushed thru the upper house. The gasoline tax bill and the measures levying new taxes on business and industry were expected to be fought even more bitterly than they were in the house.

While the house busied itself with tax measures, the senate was to act finally on the Howell-Woodward bill preventing "party raiding" by candidates for public office. Amended to exclude judges, the bill was up several times for final passage which had been postponed to permit a clarification of sentiment on the amendment.

Hearings were listed in the senate this week for measures designed to prevent stream pollution and on the amended Reed bill granting blind persons $50 monthly pensions.

In the house hearings were scheduled for the administration workmen's compensation and state income tax bills, the bill prohibiting industrial homework and the Moomaw bill designed to reduce the number of tax collectors in the state from more than 2500 to 113 and establish a centralized tax collection system.

ini's week-end call for increased conscription and branded as "ironic" France's action in citing Germany before the League of Nations on charges of violating the Versailles treaty.

German quarters indicated the conference in the main today would be confined to topics of an "exploratory and conversational nature aimed to clarify mutual standpoints."

British circles were inclined to be guardedly optimistic but refused to commit themselves.

The discussions were resumed at 4 p. m. after a lengthy luncheon.

Soviet "Menace"

Berlin, Mar. 25.—The Soviet Russian "menace" to Germany and the threat of a new naval building race in Europe today dominated a four-hour conference between Chancellor Adolf Hitler and Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon of Britain.

Hitler, it was learned, virtually monopolized the conversation, while Sir John merely injected an occasional question or explanation. The German standpoint on all questions regarding rearmament and equality was exhaustively portrayed.

The proposed eastern Locarno pact was the great issue against which Hitler unloosed his verbal barrage, and he insisted that German's preparedness was to defend herself against the possibility of a Red invasion.

Forty thousand women and girls were "reported missing" in England in the last year.

Competent Service Is Needed For A Funeral

No Charge For Consultation

Anyone desiring information about funeral service is invited to call. We will be glad to explain anything you wish to know. Our booklet, "Facts About Funerals," is mailed upon request.

A funeral service is a memory investment. If properly planned and conducted, it will result in a cherished memory. . . . But since a funeral cannot be rehearsed nor repeated, only competent service should be depended upon.

Modern facilities and equipment, including our Funeral Home are an aid to Book-Leyde Funeral Service. . . . But they are, after all, the part which money could purchase. . . . The knowledge, experience and personal service offered by the head of this organization is your assurance of competent funeral service.

ADVERSE-I-TEA IS PLANNED BY P. E. O.

Covers were laid for 20 guests at several prettily adorned tables for dinner Saturday evening, in the home of Miss Olivia Griffith, on West Washington street, for the regular assembly of the P. E. O. Sisterhood. One guest was among the number, Mrs. George Smith of Springfield, Ill., who has recently moved to the city. Mrs. Smith is a member of the P. E. O. organization at Springfield. The dinner committee consisted of Miss Iretta Dart, Miss Maude Young and Mrs. Earl Dart.

The program following was of much interest as plans were furthered for a social affair to be held April 12, in the First U. P. church on Clenmore boulevard. It will be called an "Adverse-i-tea," suggestive of the evening's program as Mrs. Carrie Jeffrey Roberts will give a book review of Anthony Adverse, the much discussed book, as the feature of the evening's entertainment. The affair will be open to the public, a silver offering to be lifted which will be directed towards the charitable work done by the P. E. O's. Miss Alice Sterling is general chairman being assisted by capable committees in completing arrangements.

After the business session, Mrs. William Mayberry gave a splendid talk on "Cotty Cottage," the institution at Nevada, Mo., which is owned by the P. E. O. Sisterhood.

TENTH BIRTHDAY IS CELEBRATED

In honor of the tenth birthday of her son Gayle, Mrs. William G. Patton of 907 Loraine avenue entertained a number of young friends at a party Saturday afternoon.

The hours were enlivened with musical numbers by Peggy Kennedy, Patsy Ann McClurg, Betty Bigley, Edna Vogan, Anna Earhart and Mary Elizabeth Gettings. Several readings were given by Maxine Bigley. A delightful luncheon was served by Mrs. Patton, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Pearl Yard, Mrs. R. H. English, Mary Ellen Gettings, Maxine Bigley and Patsy McClurg.

In remembrance of the day, the young host received a number of handsome gifts.

At Cleveland Concert.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Platt Meehan and Mr. and Mrs. D. Duff Scott were in Cleveland Saturday to attend the concert presented by the Cleveland orchestra of which Arthur Rodzinski is conductor.

F. H. And C. Club

Associates of the F. H. and C. Luncheon Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Mary Shaner, 317 Sycamore street, Wednesday for an all day quilting. The event was previously planned to take place in the home of Mrs. Helen Ray of Hillcrest avenue. The women will be met at Long avenue with the cars.

CASTLETON SCENE OF INITIATION BREAKFAST

A breakfast of pretty appointments in the private diningroom of The Castleton Sunday morning, March 24, interested members of the Junior Business and Professional Women's club, over which Miss Lucille Emery, president, presided.

At 9 o'clock, twenty-three were served at tables arranged with bouquets of jonquils and other spring flowers. Following, Miss Emery conducted the impressive initiation ceremonies, assisted by Miss Grace Sankey. Those who received the pledge, included Lucille Haben, Mary Whalen, Lucille Usselton, Helen Brown, Dorothy Boyles, Ameida Ruby, Jean Glenn, Mary Goehring, Matilda Chapman and Claudia Bowman.

Afterwards, the girls attended the Sunday services held at the First Methodist church.

TO ATTEND DINNER FOR NOTED WRITER

Mrs. S. D. Pearson, of Moody avenue, will be among a number of dinner guests Tuesday evening, at the home of Mrs. John M. Phillips, on Brownless road, Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Phillips, state president of Federation of Pennsylvania Women, is entertaining for Mrs. Anna Steese Richardson, internationally known lecturer, and a member of the editorial staff of the Woman's Home Companion. Mrs. Richardson is speaking in the William Penn hotel, Pittsburgh, Tuesday noon, at a luncheon meeting given in her honor by the League of American Pen Women and the Advertising club.

The dinner event in the evening is a federation courtesy to this noted writer and Mrs. Pearson will greet Mrs. Richardson as a director of the southwestern district of the state organization, and state chairman of conservation and gardens.

Birthday Party

William McChesney was pleasantly surprised Saturday evening when members of the Fife and Drum Corps of the Sons of Veterans and their wives, invaded his home on Atlantic avenue to share in celebrating his birthday anniversary.

Bingo, games, and music whiled away the hours in a delightful manner, and following, lunch was served to eighteen by the ladies in charge. Those who contributed to the musical program, included Harvey Brest, Ben Kennedy and Roy Kirkwood.

Many handsome gifts were received by the honored one.

Bestyette Bridge

LEWIS PITTLER AND YOUNGSTOWN GIRL WED

Of interest locally, is the wedding of Miss Sally Freed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Freed, Bryson avenue, Youngstown, Ohio, and Lewis Pittler, son of Mrs. C. Pittler, Reynolds street, New Castle, which took place March 24, at 5 o'clock in the former's home, in the presence of relatives and friends numbering approximately seventy-five.

Rabbi Kollin of the Anshe Enth Temple in Youngstown, officiated, and supplementing the ceremony, a wedding supper was served at tables beautifully decorated in nuptial suggestions. During the evening an informal reception was held, at the bride's home.

Mr. and Mrs. Pittler later left on an Eastern motor trip, and upon their return, will take up residence in Warren, Ohio, where he is affiliated with the Warren Automotive Service Company.

VETS AUXILIARY PLANS ACTIVITIES

Plans were outlined for many activities which will be carried out by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, at their recent meeting.

Mrs. Ruth Conner, president of the Auxiliary presided, and reports were received from the recent card party, of which Mrs. Flossie Potter was chairlady.

Mrs. Reba LaRue was named chairlady for the joint Mother's Day banquet, and will be assisted by Mrs. Georgette Wimer, Lillian Falls and Elsie Lach.

Mrs. Mary Cox was named chairlady for Poppy Day, when the Auxiliary will assist the post in the conduct of this evening.

Patriotic Instructor Mary Cox gave an outline of the historical events celebrated during March. The members were asked to get in touch with President Ruth Conner to receive their Americanization buttons, the proceeds from the sale of which will be used to combat communism.

A card party was planned for a later date at the home of Mrs. Louise Evans, the proceeds from which will be devoted to the construction of a recreation hall at the Widows and Orphans Home at Eaton Rapids, Mich. Plans were also made for a card party at the Legion Home on April 10. Mrs. Reba LaRue will be general chairlady.

Special guests of the evening were Mrs. Gertrude Smith, of Butler, Department District Deputy: and Mrs. Loretta Carney, of Butler, Tri-county Council Americanization chairlady, both of whom gave interesting talks.

The Auxiliary is making plans for an Americanization program to be presented in the Legion Home, April 24, the details for which will be announced later.

Lunch was served at the close of the evening, by the committee consisting of Mrs. Elsie Lach, Louise Evans and Georgette Wimer.

B. P. W. CLUB HAVING ANNUAL STLYE SHOW

Thursday of this week will bring the annual card party and style review sponsored by the New Castle Business and Professional Women's club and presented in the Strouss-Hirshberg store.

Always one of the spring's largest affairs, this year's event promises to be even greater than ever before. The style show will open at 8 p. m. and all the latest spring creations will be exhibited. Card playing will follow.

International Relations

International Relations committee of the Woman's Club will meet at the home of Mrs. M. Schoenberger, 408 East Moody avenue, Tuesday afternoon, at 2.

NEW FAMILIES MOVE TO CITY

Come April first and the proverbial moving day, New Castle will welcome many new residents from out of town this spring.

Among the number are Rev. and Mrs. John McIlvaine, new pastor of the First Presbyterian church, who will move here within the near future from Indiana, Pa., and will occupy the former Roy Bradford home, on Leasure avenue. While Dr. McIlvaine will not occupy the pulpit at the First church, until April 14, he will locate in New Castle about the first of the month.

Other new residents who have recently moved to town include Mr. and Mrs. George B. Smith and family, who have come from Springfield, Ill., and are living in the Fred Butz home on Sumner avenue. Also from Springfield, Ill., have arrived Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCoy who are residing in the 200 block on Sumner avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Piper and family have moved into a residence at 1059 Beckford street.

For Mrs. Coulter

Honoring Mrs. A. B. Coulter, of 917 Harrison street, a surprise birthday was given at her home Saturday evening by her brothers and her sister, who came from Wilkinsburg, Oil City and Butler for the occasion.

The group arrived at an appointed time and brought with them a delicious prepared chicken dinner and a large birthday cake. The group sat down to a merry repast at 6 o'clock, and the later hours were spent informally, with music being furnished by a seven-piece orchestra compared of youthful members of the families.

Among those present from out-of-town were H. Floyd Ramsey and family, Wilkinsburg, N. Leroy Ramsey and family, of Oil City, George Stoughton and family, of Butler, and James Ramsey, of Butler, who will remain for a few weeks with his daughter, Mrs. Coulter.

Three Anniversaries

A party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Kulkin, West Long avenue, on Saturday afternoon, celebrated a triple anniversary. It was the occasion of little Donald Sanford Kulkin's third birthday anniversary, his mother's birthday and the fourth anniversary of his parents' marriage.

Thirteen young friends and their mothers were invited to the party and the hours from 2 to 5 o'clock proved most delightful for all.

The youngsters played games in the nursery and prizes were awarded to Sylvia Moresky, Lois Pitnoff, Alvin Kulkin, Nolan Cobb and Jay Prubulsky.

Later the guests were seated at the dining room table where a large birthday cake was arranged in the middle and a delicious repast was served. The little honored guest received a number of lovely gifts.

Bridgettes Club

Thursday, April 4, the Bridgettes Club members will assemble in the home of Mrs. Richard Nesbitt, East Washington street, for a social time.

Their last gathering occurred on March 21 in the home of Edna Zassarena, North Ray street, when she entertained at a novel "kid party" Kid games replaced the usual bridge feature, and prizes were awarded to Blanche Claypool and Ruby Neme.

Miss Helen Neme was a special guest of the occasion.

After the program, the guests were served a delicious spaghetti supper with all the side delectables that completes such a feast. Radio music and other pastimes concluded the evening.

Farewell Party.

Members of the Neisbro club honored Joseph Friendman of 221 Northview avenue at a farewell party held in Neisner's store Saturday evening.

Mr. Friedman, who has been at the head of the shoe department here for some time, assumed his duties as manager of a Sharon store this morning. He received a valuable gift, presented by Miss Ravina Simon, president of the club. Mr. Friedman responded with a few words. Louis Weinstein, manager of the store, and Harry Weinberg, who succeeds Friedman, also spoke.

Names of All-American flowers or vegetables for 1935, will be given in response to roll call and Mrs. Martha Young will give a paper on the Care of the Lawn. Culture and use of gourds will be discussed by Mrs. Vane Johns while Mrs. Elizabeth Guthrie will tell of old gardens around Philadelphia.

A. A. Club.

Miss Elizabeth Leishman was a charming hostess to the A. A. club members when they met at her home on Cunningham avenue recently. New officers were in charge of the business meeting, after which games were played with the prizes going to Jean Riley and Gretta Nesbitt.

The guests were invited to the dining room for luncheon, where 12 guests found places at a large table decorated in Easter colors. Tiny chicks were at each place and in serving, the hostess was assisted by her sister Jean.

On April 5, the club will meet at the home of Katherine Smith, Waldo street, the girls to honor the birthday of Ada Riley at this party.

Luncheon-Bridge.

Mrs. Ira J. McAnlis of Young street has invited the Minerva club to her home on Friday for luncheon and bridge.

TALK TO CULMINATE PURIM CELEBRATION

Various programs and entertainments have been given by the Jewish organizations of late in observance of Purim and Hadassahs 23rd birthday, which have proven outstanding as well as interesting.

On Tuesday afternoon local women will hear Mrs. M. P. Epstein, Hadassah leader of New York, give a radio talk on "Learning Begins at Forty" in her "Back to the classroom movement of the Jewish women of America" which will culminate a week's celebration of Purim.

Kupple Kard Klub.

An evening of card playing interested the Kupple Kard Klub Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest King, Thorpe street. Prizes for the high scores at the close of the play were won by Mrs. Russell Kemp and Ernest King.

A tasty lunch was served by Mrs. King during the evening.

In two weeks the club will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Zeigler, Rose avenue.

Alcanza Kensington.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Matthews will open their home on the Butler road to members of the Alcanza Kensington Friday evening, when Miss Catherine Matthews will preside as hostess.

1934 Jolly Quilters

Members of the 1934 Jolly Quilters will be entertained Wednesday at an all day session in the home of Mrs. David Abernathy, South New Castle Borough.

MRS. BEISEL DEPARTS FOR D. A. C. CONFERENCE

Mrs. Benjamin Beisel of East Wallace avenue left today for Philadelphia, where on Tuesday she will attend as state historian, and a delegate from Kus Kus Ka chapter, the conference of the Daughters of American Colonists which will be held in the Bellevue-Stratford hotel.

The conference program promises to be one of much interest with prominent speakers. Among the large number of delegates from all over the state will be Mrs. John Daub of Sewickley, who will represent that district. The Kus Kus Ka chapter is comprised of members of several counties, including Lawrence, Mercer, Butler and Beaver.

DESSERT-BRIDGE AT FIELD CLUB WEDNESDAY

Mrs. J. H. Gibson has been named hostess for the dessert-bridge event to be held Wednesday afternoon at the New Castle Field club at 1:30 o'clock.

After partaking of the dessert, card games will interest the women, with lovely prizes to be awarded those winning distinction.

Dinner Guests

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Downs of Castlewood were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hawk on Hamilton street, Sunday evening. An informal social time followed the serving of a sumptuous menu.

Amity Club.

The Misses Florence and Yolanda Carney of Gilmore street will entertain members of the Amity club in their home on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

C. S. Club Meeting

An all day quilting will feature the meeting Thursday for C. S. club members with Mrs. L. H. Scheidemantle of the Ellwood City-New Castle road.

BIRTHDAY PARTY AT B. F. JOHNSTON HOME

Mr. and Mrs. B. French Johnston of Hillcrest avenue entertained a gathering of 17 youngsters in their home Saturday afternoon in honor of their little daughter Mary Ann Johnston, whose birthday fell Sunday, March 24.

The occasion proved a most enjoyable one and games of a wide variety interested the young folks, as did the toys scattered about.

At the appointed hour, the hosts served a delicious and attractive lunch, Mrs. Paul D. Weller assisting. The table was beautifully appointed in tones of green and white, and the center was graced with a large birthday cake topped with tiny candles.

A collection of pretty gifts was received by the honored guest in remembrance of a lovely party.

Depression Party

Mrs. Robert Welsh entertained 35 girls and boys in her home at 109 South Ray street on the evening of March 22. The occasion marked the birthday of her son Grover, and the young people spent the evening with games and music. Prizes were won by Wayne McEwen, Marcella Ely, Charles Byler, the favors being given for the best costumes depicting the times.

Ruth McEwan won a prize for being the poorest dressed. Lunch of a depression nature was served by Mrs. Welsh, assisted by Dorothy Montgomery. Lunch consisted of cake, cheese and jelly beans. The guest of honor received many presents, just what the boys and girls had lying around.

Kumfy Klub

Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Rudolph extended the hospitality of their home on Croton avenue, recently, to associates in the Kumfy Klub. The usual round of cards was of interest with Mrs. Carl McCreary winning the favor. A delicious repast was served.

On April 5, Mr. and Mrs. A. Tunison, of Croton avenue, will be hosts.

FAITH

Jokers in Some of Our State Laws

Anyone living in another state able to drive a car can drive all through Pennsylvania and never any questions asked. If the same party moves into our state and spends his money here or becomes a tax payer he is not allowed to drive a car until he answers a lot of questions that not one out of every fifty Pennsylvania drivers would be able to answer today.

ANOTHER ONE. The state compels the owner of every automobile to have his car inspected twice a year regardless of age and condition of same. The same state sells this driver who has passed this examination and has had his car inspected, liquors which if the driver drinks, as he often times does, he is not safe to drive his own car he has had inspected and holds a driver's card for but is also a detriment to the law-abiding drivers.

MARS CHORTLES

WORLD events of the last few days have brought the cause of international peace close to collapse and all of the results of the numerous endeavors in Washington, London, Paris and Geneva have been reduced to nothing.

Through his exalteration of the martial spirit, Chancelior Hitler has caused the war drums to roll, the sabers to rattle, hob-nailed shoes to echo through the streets and war planes to drone with growing volume in the air.

"Cannon are more beautiful than words," said Mussolini, who predicted eight years ago that 1935 would be the crucial year in Europe. The grim sentiment expressed at that time has been echoed in practical form by Germany and Japan, Poland and Jugoslavia.

In France and England, where there has been a sincere desire for peace on the part of the mass of the people, the apparent triumph of the militaristic urge must necessarily alter the trend toward peaceful objectives.

In the long run, Germany will not gain substantially by her defiance of her old enemies and her violation of the restrictions of the Treaty of Versailles. France and Britain and the nations that have most to fear from the possibility of German aggressions, will continue to maintain their present superiority in most lines of defense by materially enlarging existing naval and military forces.

Such a situation will naturally aggravate international relations on the continent and will contribute to the development of one of those crises from which the sparks of war fly upward.

NO HATRED

If a world war which extinguished ten million lives, reduced cities and towns to dust, laid waste miles of territory in many lands and produced a heritage of misery for generations yet unborn, can be viewed as having any redeeming feature, the absence of a spirit of hatred in the hearts of the combatants may be given this characterization.

There were many evidences during the war and there have been many others in the years of peace to prove that the fighting men were not permanently embittered against their opponents. For the most part they took a detached attitude toward their grim purpose, carrying out their deadly duty, killing and maiming, but not hating.

First Sergeant John W. Robson, now with the Fourth Infantry at Fort Missoula, Mont., and Franz Ackfel, a former German soldier, can testify to the absence of hard feelings. When Ackfel was taken prisoner in the San Mihiel drive, his watch was appropriated by an American soldier as a souvenir of a memorable occasion.

The soldier, as an expression of affection for his top-sergeant, probably without parallel in the whole A. E. F., gave the watch to Robson, who has sent it, through the medium of the American Red Cross, back to its original owner, Ackfel, who is now the keeper of a lighthouse in the Baltic Sea.

This incident is important only because it is significant of the relations now existing between old foes. It is this feeling that serves as the most substantial basis for lasting peace in a world of bungling statesmen.

"CANNED" LETTERS

This pother in the senate about the propaganda of the utility holding companies has its amusing side. The senators are fairly swamped by mail asking them not to vote for the administration bill, which would, with some exceptions, wipe these concerns out at the end of five years. So they quickly pass a resolution to have the federal trade commission investigate the methods of this propaganda and its cost.

There is no doubt, of course, that most of these are "canned" letters, that is to say communications directly inspired by some of the holding companies through orders to employees and solicitation to outsiders. Is there anything new about that? When national lawmakers are bombarded by communications from organized groups, however, they do not protest. These letters represent votes. If the holding companies now under the displeasure of President Roosevelt represented as many, would the senate have done what it did?

If the holding companies cannot make out a good case on its merits, all this propaganda falls of its own weight. But is it anything for the senate to get angry or self-righteous about?

There is always a La Follette to out-La Follette the Huey Longs.

A Springfield, Mo., co-ed has made application to spring the trap at a hanging. Sweet young thing.

Hollywood concedes that Dickens has possibilities. Apparently, then, the old master has arrived after 123 years.

A New York husband contends in court that he married to gain $10,000 and then failed to collect, which seems fair enough.

La Follette now wants to make it ten billion, saying five billion is not enough. But, Bobby, if the amount had been set at ten billion in the first place would that be enough or would it then require twenty billion?

TRAITS OF THE RACE

A Jew visited a village in Scotland, noticed there was only one church here, and was informed that all sects worshiped in it.

"How do you manage?" he asked.

"Oh," replied a villager, "the Catholics hold their service at 9 o'clock, the Presbyterians at 10 o'clock, the Methodists at 11 o'clock, and the Baptists at 12 o'clock."

"And what about the Jews?"

"They hold the mortgage."

WHIZ!

"What I say to my wife goes."

"You don't say."

"Yes—it goes all over the neighborhood."

EVERYTHING GETS AROUND

Everything gets around.

Sooner or later it does.

Everything circulates.

Even matter gets around. . . . A seed falls and germinates. It pushes its way through the dark earth, reaches the sunlight, grows toward the sky. It becomes a great tree and lives for a thousand years, dies and rots and nourishes the rich earth and is food for other seeds.

Water gets around. . . . It falls on the hills and flows to the valleys. It rushes to the sea and joins the great currents there. It rises toward the sun, congregates in clouds, falls again to the thirsty earth.

Ideas get around. . . . The thoughts that men have live undiminished and unscarred through the tumultous centuries. Rejected by the ignorant, embraced by the wise, they survive. . . . The thoughts men had in India 5,000 years ago fell into books and went across the sea to New England and into the brain of a Yankee named Thoreau. He wrote an essay on "Civil Disobedience" Half a century later a little brown Hindu read that essay in South Africa, took that idea back with him to India and proposed "Civil Disobedience" to the restless masses of his native land. . . . That idea got around.

Truth gets around. . . . Lies get around. . . . Gossip gets around. . . . Fear gets around. . . . Everything, today or tomorrow, this year or next, gets around. It creeps, it tunnels, it walks, it runs, it flies, it filters—and it gets around.

What you are truly like—gets around. People find out and they tell—with a wink, with a growl, with a lift of the eyebrows, with silence, with the eagerly spoken word. If you are a fine fellow or a hypocrite, a racketeer or a square shooter, the news gets around. People will know, because—as the wind moves and the water flows and thoughts fly from man to man — Everything Gets Around.

ACT YOUR AGE

The kittenish middle-aged woman is decidedly amusing, but not in the way she intends.

Her facial contortions are ridiculous: her attempts at "making eyes" are ludicrous: her efforts to be coy create laughter.

Her efforts to be vivacious are foolish.

Her attempt to appear demure brings only ridicule.

Her semblance of great interest in what a male companion is saying denotes poor acting.

Even her sympathy extended when a person has informed her of their afflictions has not a true ring.

Ever watch her try to put her feet in a graceful pose?

She thinks they are attractive and wants them to be noticed.

When she pouts, she is a scream.

When she tries to be profound, she appears to be even more shallow.

Why don't the "old gals" have better sense?

They might be attractive and create favorable impressions if they would be natural and do what is expected of women of their age.

If you are one of these kittenish women, take your own measure with these comments in mind, before you hear what others are saying of you.

BICKERING

I can stand rooms in disarray
But not ill temper's harsh display.

I can stand hallways, blocked with toys
And childhood's oft-repeated noise.

I can stand carpets tracked with mud
But petty quarrels, chill my blood.

I can untroubled wreckage see.
But from an angry word I flee.

Rather than orderly and neat
I'd keep the home a refuge sweet.

Where happily the children play,
Are glad to be, and glad to stay;

A place whate'er the days may bring
That's never marred by bickering.

CAPACITY

A Marine pensioner reported sick one morning at the Navy Hospital and complained of indigestion.

The Medico asked him several questions about his diet one of them being "How much beer do you drink a day?"

The pensioner replied, 'Six to eight pints if I can get it."

"Gracious!" said the Doctor, "enough to have a bath in."

"Enough to have a bath in, sir!" replied the old warrior. "Why, when I was soldering, it wouldn't be enough to wet a good soldier's mustache!"

The old Marines did not shave their upper lips.

Correctly Speaking—

A passage more than 300 words long, even if it constitutes a single unit of the composition, should usually not be written as a single paragraph, but should be divided into two or three paragraphs of convenient length.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 6:16. Sun rises tomorrow 5:55.

We notice that city schools do not have much trouble any more with truancy. We're glad of that. In our younger days we played "hookey" so much our teacher was always delighted when occasionally we turned up in school. We thought we were fooling our-teacher then, but we weren't. She boarded around and grew fat, while we played "hookey", grew up lank and lean, and so full of ignorance that our skull became lopsided and we couldn't get a hat to fit. We wouldn't mention our defects in public only as a terrible example of what a boy comes to when he plays "hookey".

One ordinary man plus a private broadcasting station equals a great political power.

The world learned to read and outgrew oratory. Then along came the radio, and we call it progress.

When you see a man and his wife fighting it's a pretty good idea to let them have it out. We make this observation after reading of a Wheeling, W. Va., man who tried to intervene between husband and wife. They quit fighting and both went after the peacemaker with knives, inflicting serious injuries. Married folks just don't want anybody to come between them when they're out for blood.

A free country is one where you can go into court and stop almost anything except crime.

And now the Department of Agriculture is going to let farmers plant all the wheat they want to. The department has finally learned what most any schoolboy ought to have known from the start, that a reduction of the crop here gives Canada and other countries a chance to cop the American markets. Now if they'll only take the processing tax off hogs we may afford a slice of bacon for breakfast.

It is said that a woman has thrown her hat into the ring in the race for mayor of Chicago. Well, if her hat is anything like some worn in New Castle, it's going to take a microscope to see it.

Alas! when he outgrows humility, he also outgrows the ability to learn.

Hotels can recognize a bachelor. He thinks he isn't getting his money's worth if he doesn't leave his room in a mess.

Legislators are so busy thinking up new taxes at Harrisburg that the proposed new marriage license law is in cold storage. It would require young couples to give from three to five days notice of their intentions to wed. It's the same kind of a law that has proven so obnoxious in other states. Just because there are occasional elopements, some people are so foolish as to believe that they can be stopped by law.

Senator Norris is the latest bent on redistributing wealth in this country. It beats all how quickly some of our statesmen can learn Long division.

Jimmy Doolittle is one man who doesn't live up to his name. He's done everything but little for aviation.

There's always something. Senators are above poverty, dirt, hardship and the itch, but they have Huey.

Soon after we reached the long pants stage we had a hankering to go west and fight Indians. There were plenty of redskins beyond the Mississippi in those days and from the accounts we read of them in the yellow backed novels, the early settlers were having a hard time saving their scalps. But we didn't go and we're glad now, for the westerners seem to be having as hard a time as they did when they had to fight the Indians. Just now the old "Father of Waters" is overflowing its banks and many are losing their homes. Terrific wind storms are carrying way the top-soil. Last summer there was the drouth and the grasshoppers. Yes, we're sure glad we never yielded to the lure of the west, but have been content to remain right here in good old Pennsylvania with nothing to fear but the politicians and the tax collectors.

Suckers won't believe it, but a business that has great profits in sight doesn't offer shares to the public.

Nobody is supposed to carry firearms any more without a permit. It is said that thirteen thousands such permits have been issued in Pennsylvania during the past year. It's no wonder so much shooting is done. Nearly every family has a revolver, shotgun or rifle. Who ever heard of a thief or highwayman who didn't carry around an arsenal with him. It seems sort of one-sided to let thugs carry the guns and citizens the pop-guns, but we haven't any suggestions on how to stop it.

Another sign of a low I. Q. is the belief that any man interested in birds and trees is a sissy.

If a doctor helps a gangster and doesn't report it, he is an accessory. If he does report it, he is a corpse.

Scientists can still tell the natural span of life by watching Bermuda. It has no cars or trucks.

General Hugh S. Johnson says he will fire only one more shot at Rev. Charles E. Coughlin and Senator Huey P. Long when he is certain they have "shot their whole wad." From the way these boys ramble on, it looks like the General will die of old age before they ever dry up.

A seven-year-old girl in Baku, Russia, has developed a thick black beard. Bet she's the envy of all the boys in their teen age of that town.

Saving the wild ducks isn't a new idea. We even save a condemned man who attempts suicide so we can hang him later.

The bad man thinks he is safe in the bushes, but this isn't true unless they are ambushes.

Another unfair thing about marriage is that the preacher never refunds your money if it doesn't work.

It took Hugo Schultz, of Kelso, Wash., 46 years to find out he couldn't get along with his wife, so he is seeking a divorce. He should at least have waited until he celebrated his golden wedding anniversary. Look at all those years he has wasted.

History seems to prove that revolutions and reigns of terror are the result of action on the part of a comparatively small number of determined fanatics, so a contemporary informs us. A small number of determined people can raise an awful stink, whether they be right or wrong.

AMERICANISM: Itching to punish Japan for abusing poor weak China; allowing code authorities to make rules that ruin the little fellows.

A fussilade must be something dreadful. It always makes the worst criminal roar away at high speed.

It is said that Admiral Richard E. Byrd is in such poor health that he will never be able to make another trip to the Antarctic. This will probably result in his pension being increased.

Efforts to the Y. M. C. A. to recruit its fishing club ought to be a whale of a success. The boy who can't enthuse over being a fisherman is a blind robin in a world of landscapes and waterscapes. We wouldn't trade our recollections of our fishing days for a diamond mine in Africa. There's something fascinating about digging bait, storing it in an old tin can, swinging a pole over your shoulder and hiking to some secluded spot on a winding stream. And as you spit on your bait and throw it far out a-stream, how you are lulled by the murmur of water over stony riffles, the bullfrog singing under cover of the swamp grass, the vision of turtles sunning themselves on a convenient log, and the water snakes clinging to pendant boughs of the weeping willow. My gosh, we wish we were a boy again just to join that fishing club.

Some youngsters have strict parents and others never learn to be convincing liars.

Correct this sentence: "Our church thinks card playing and dancing wicked," said the man, "so we kicked out all the rich people who violated our rules."

Westminster college coeds are said to be spending their spare time knitting, just like their great-grandmothers used to do, but knitting don't mean to them what it did to the aforesaid grandmothers. In grandmother's day she had to take wool from the carder and make it into yarns with the old spinning wheel. In those by-gone days girls knit their own stockings, mens socks, pulse warmers, and great long scarfs. We don't know what the coeds knit but if our eyes still see straight we know it's not their s' ckings. At any rate we're glad to know the coeds are industrious, and by way of relieving the monotony of knitting, we'd suggest they keep singing that old familiar hymn. "There's an old spinning wheel in the parlor", just to keep their minds off the boys.

Prisons Increase Crime Treatment Breeds Insanity Idleness Also Blamed

Central Press
New York Bureau
235 East 45th street

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Mar. 25.—During these periods of depression, when poverty and depressed home conditions bring on increases in crime, a cry goes up from fortunate ones to "treat them rough."

And the rougher that malefactors are treated the greater is the increase in crime.

"Treating them rough" formerly was the "cure" for insanity, too. It merely increased insanity.

A noted authority on the mental condition of prisoners is Dr. Amos T. Baker, director of the classification of New York's Sing Sing penitentiary.

He says:

"Mental diseases in correctional institutions show a definite connection with the manner in which the institutions are operated."

In Sing Sing, where the maximum of freedom is allowed prisoners, the number of prisoners with disturbed mental states is only one per cent.

In prisons where there is rigid discipline and a complete prison atmosphere, the number of inmates with disturbed mental condition runs from 12 to 15 per cent.

Those men later are turned out on society in a far worse condition than when they were committed to prison.

They no longer are fit to cope with the world on an equitable basis, that the world accords a released convict.

In the meantime, only a few states are there any men in charge of prison capable of understanding and correcting the man sent to prison. Politics still rules and incompetent wardens and brutal guards do treat the unfortunates in their care "rough". From police to judge to warden to guard, the entire process is one designed to crush the good in a man, to embitter him permanently toward society.

ONE REFORMATORY

Depression breeds chiefly the young criminal.

Idleness turns youth to mischief.

Once, however, he does come within the clutches of the law, his descent is hastened in every conceivable manner.

We read, for example, these newspaper headlines concerning the Ohio State reformatory (for young offenders):

"Mansfield's cells bulge, breed sloth. Three prisoners for every shop job, 3,247 in reformatory designed for 1,500. Crime germs multiply. Hardened punished, but few of others salvaged."

Those headlines tell the story.

Young boys are imprisoned helter-skelter with already hardened criminals in the twenties, with mental defectives, with moral degenerates. It would take a strong youth to resist—in that old, ramshackle, vermin-infested, smelly, gloomy institution. There are few visitors, no really good contacts, no literature, no learning, no vista for the future.

There is merely prison—forgotten youth, among the debris of humanity.

That probably is a description of "reformatories" in many states.

IDLE EAGER TO WORK

There is another statement that gains during a depression:

"Oh, most of them wouldn't work if they could."

That is a conscience easer for the man who has against the man who has not.

One of the best authorities in America contradicts the statement. Says New York City's commissioner of public welfare, William Hodson, a student of unemployment problems:

"I resent on their behalf the libelous statements and accusations that these people are not willing to work. . . . There ought to be some decency and fairness in comments on these people. . . .

"If I had my way and the money, I would take every able-bodied person off relief and put him to work. There is no question concerning the demoralizing effect on the morale and the spirit of people on relief who sit at home with no opportunity to work. My opinion is that the great mass of people on relief want nothing so much as a job."

TODAY Is The Day

By CLARK KINNAIRD Copyright 1935 Central Press

MONDAY, MARCH 25.

Today's Yesterdays— This, the traditional Lady Day, was the beginning of the year in England and its American colonies until an act of Parliament in 1751, moved the beginning of the year to the day after December 31st, substituted the Gregorian for the Julian calandar, and directed that Sept. 3, 1752, should be reckoned as Sept. 14, thus cancelling the 11 days difference then existing between the two calendars.

March 25, 1519—Hernando Cortes, 34, took possession of the three-centuries-old town of Tobasco, at the southern extremity of the country, and began his ruthless conquest of Mexico.

This is a notable date in American history, of course, because from Mexico the Spanish spread northward to settle in California, New Mexico, Arizona, Texas, Louisana, etc.

March 25, 1785—Giovanni Battista Amici was born in Modena, Italy destined to become the inventor of the dioptic or achromatic microscope.

March 25, 1807 —British parliament abolished the slave trade in Britain and all its possessions.

This was only a preliminary to abolition of slavery itself in all British territory, an action which Britain took 30 years before the U. S.

Notable Nativities—John Gutzon Borglum, b. 1871, American sculptor ....Simon Flexner, b. 1863, American physician and humanitarian... Arturo Toscanini, b. 1867, No. 1 symphony conductor of the world. ....Anna Eleanor "Sisie" Dall, b. 1927, well publicized grand-daughter of President F. D. Roosevelt.

You're Wrong If You Believe—That the U. S. was the first republic to be established in North America.

It wasn't. The republic of Tlaxcala, which was strong enough to resist the attempts of the Azteo empire of Montezuma to conquer it, was flourishing in Mexico when the Spanish began their invasion.

William E. Long, Elizabethton, Tenn., tells us we're wrong if we believe that John the Baptist was ever baptized.

What do our Write-a-Wrong club members say of this? We're still hearing from those who say M. L. Tampke, San Antonio, is wrong if he believes the Bible doesn't say Jonah was swallowed by a whale. Mrs. George Holland, Minneapolis, Minn., and J. V. Bell, Fontana, N. C. mention it in letters with right more Wrongs.

What Back To Farm Meant For One Jobless City Man

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON.—What the rural rehabilitation program of the Federal Emergency Relief Administration has done for one family is told in a letter received at relief headquarters here.

It came from Herbert Huffman, of Franklin County, Ill., He says:

"I am a graduate of the college of architecture of Chicago Tech, and before the depression was architectural engineer for Montgomery Ward and Company.

"Now I am a farmer, on my way to security and independence. But the years between the time that my position was discontinued, and the time that I became established on a farm, were very black years.

"When my savings were all spent, I moved to the country. I had lived 15 years of my boyhood on a farm, and thought I could not be starved there. I borrowed horses and managed for a little land on the shares, here and there.

"But it was a hopeless job. I got a few weeks work teaching in an emergency relief school, and earned $50, with which I bought two very scrubby horses. One of them died. I arranged for use of a farm of 113 acres, 85 acres of it tillable. The house was dilapidated to the point where it was not habitable. There were no fences worth the name. Water had to be hauled. Wheels on the two wagons were about ready to go. The mouldboards on the old walking plow were worn through, and the landslide worn out.

"Last spring I was accepted as a rural rehabilitation client. I was allowed $170 in materal for the dwelling, and with the help of other clients, rebuilt the foundation, plastered and papered the interior, built a good fireplace and mantel, and built some new floors. I managed for a furnace which, installed, cost $20. Livestock and other farm production goods were advanced to me as follows:

"Two horses, 100 baby chicks, 12 bu. soy beans, 300 lbs. potato seed, 10 bu. corn, 1 set harness, 50 lb. sudan seed, 3½ tons fertilizer, 100 lbs. control mash, 100 lbs. growing mash, kerosene, 70 bu. wheat seed.

"I produced this season 308 shocks of corn, and 100 shocks of fodder, and raised to maturity 85 of the 100 baby chicks which were supplied to me I have obtained 17 head of cattle with the help of a loan from the Production Credit Corporation. I have put in a pump which gives an adequate water supply, and have built a milk house and 300 rods of fence.

"The acreage that I have planted for 1935, or have ready for planting, will yeild at average rate of production and average prices, $1,245.

"My wife has been working part time, and has used the money to buy furniture. We have managed for a pony for our boy. We are on our way up again."

Huffman sent in snapshots showing his house, a comfortable appearing storey and half frame-building; his boy, a sturdy youngster, and his pony, and his wellgroomed team of farm horses.

NOVELTY

A Civil war veteran had spent a week at a New York hotel. When he went to pay his bill the clerk asked:

"What was your rank?"

"Oh just a private," the old soldier replied.

"Well, I won't charge you anything You are the first private I ever met."

Bold, brazen or vulgar display: any degree of nakedness we are not used to.

A trainload of MAYTAGS

valued at over ¼ of a million dollars for PENNSYLVANIA

For homes without electricity, Maytags are equipped with gasoline multi-motor

Maytag

MODEL 36

• Yes, a solid trainload of Maytag washers was rushed into Pennsylvania to meet the insistent demand. Here's indisputable proof that women recognize real value when they see it. For it is true that Maytag quality at today's low prices represents value even greater than Maytag has ever offered before.

• It is an investment in sound, practical economy . . . in lower cost washings for more years than any other washer.

• Prove it to yourself. Compare this fine, square-tub, cast-aluminum Maytag with any other washer—regardless of price. Then learn how small a down payment will place one in your home.

Rumor Princess Mdivani Has Two Rivals For Hand

Two European Noblemen Reported Seeking Hand Of Princess Barbara

(International News Service)

LONDON, Mar. 25.—Barbara Hutton Mdivani isn't half way across the Atlantic on her way to a Reno divorce yet, but gossips already have, first her, then Prince Alexis Mdivani practically at the church door for new matrimonial ventures.

Nominee No. 1 for the third Princess Alexis Mdivani is Mlle Gita Alpa, famous Viennese operetta and film star, but no sooner had her name been read in the teacups of Mayfair than Mlle. Alpa denied the reports.

Out Of Order

"The Prince and I are most intimate friends," she told International News Service, "but the question of marriage has never arisen. Marriage is out of the question."

The dazzling actress, however, did reveal that Prince Alexis might appear on the stage, if not at the altar.

Alexis intends, it is understood, to continue his work with the Georgian legation in Paris, in spite of reports that Barbara gave him enough of the Woolworth millions to insure him a luxurious life.

The German Count Kurt Haukwitz and Austrian Count Szapery were mentioned in the Sunday dispatch as two of Barbara's possible suitors.

Junior Council Sabbath Held At Temple Israel

Large Attendance Marks Impressive Junior Council Sabbath Friday At Temple Israel

Junior Council Sabbath at Temple Israel, Friday evening, was marked by an exceptionally large attendance, including many from out of town as well as local residents.

The impressive services were carried out in perfect order, with Reva Love opening by reading a part of the services, including Hebrew. Miss Doris Shenkin read "Portion Of The Week" and Miss Esther Fishskin read the 31st chapter of the book of Proverbs beginning with the tenth verse.

Of special interest was the talk given by Miss Rheba Frank on "What It Means To Be A Jew" who stressed in well chosen words, the steadfastness of the Jewish faith, world peace, world brotherhood and love among men.

A social period concluded the evening, with members of the Junior Council presiding as hostesses. Miss Dorothy Blau, chairman, was assisted by Sara Adelman, Doris Shenkin, Bertha Rosen, Fannie Braunstein and Beatrice Gonick.

WHERE NIGHT OF REVELRY TURNED INTO TRAGEDY

Six persons were burned to death and 34 others were seriously injured at the Club Rendezvous in suburban Chicago, when more than 500 Northwestern university students jammed into the place to celebrate the closing of a school show. Investigators said that the main entrance had a door which swung inward and not outward. Fleeing guests were trapped when the main door jammed, leaving only one other door for escape. The holocaust, which was attributed to an overheated toaster, spread rapidly to all parts of the tavern trapping the merrymakers. Photo at top shows investigators searching ruins; lower photo is exterior view of the wayside inn after disaster.

Powerful Naval Aerial Bombers Are Being Built

New Type Fighting Planes Will Carry Six Machine Guns

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 25.—The United States will possess a fleet of the most powerful naval aerial bombers known to exist in the world today if current tests prove successful.

Naval officials disclosed today that two of these bombers already have been built and now are undergoing experimental tests, one on the west coast and one at Norfolk, Va.

Representing the latest development in giant bombing planes, each machine is equipped to carry two tons of bombs and six machine guns.

The machines are twin-engined, with each motor developing 830 horsepower, and have a wing spread of 100 feet.

If the tests prove successful the navy hopes to acquire a fleet of five squadrons of six planes each.

Dresch Will Not Be Appointed As Relief Director

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 25.—Earl Dresch, Mercer county poor director, is ineligible for appointment as county relief director, Robert L. Johnson, state relief administrator, said today.

Informed petitions were being circulated asking Dresch's appointment, Johnson said:

"Mr. Dresch is not and will not be considered for appointment as director because of his position on the poor board."

Johnson explained it was the board's policy not to place persons holding elective or political office in administrative positions. He declined to reveal the names of any persons under consideration for the post.

Louis Howe Is Better Today

Doctors Do Not Hold Much Hope For Secretary To President Roosevelt

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 25.—Louis McHenry Howe, senior secretary to President Roosevelt, spent the "most comfortable night" since his illness became critical, physicians reported at the White House today.

Upon awakening this morning, Howe asked for and was given a cigarette. Little hope for his recovery was held by physicians, however. Howe is suffering from bronchial and asthmatic ailments, lately aggravated by pleurisy in one lung.

New Jersey Pair Face Paris Trial

(International News Service)

PARIS, Mar. 25—Midst the wails of two babies born to two of the defendants during their long period in jail, twenty-one persons accused of espionage against the French government went on trial today.

The accused included Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gordon Switz of East Orange, N. J., alleged active participants in the spy ring which France accuses soviet Russia of financing.

The Rio Grande river is navigable for only sixty miles from its mouth.

Versailles Treaty Remains In Force

Despite Repudiation By Germany Of Military Clauses, Treaty Remains In Force

(International News Service)

LONDON, Mar. 25.—The treaty of Versailles remains in full force despite Germany's repudiation of the military clauses, Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald told the house of commons today.

Gordon Hall-Caine, conservative, asked whether the German action "affected or intended to affect any provisions other than those relating to fighting forces."

"The treaty of Versailles did not provide for denunciation by its signatories," MacDonald said.

Mrs. Ethel Koop Somewhat Better

Woman Faces Criminal Action As Result Of Death Of Husband At Akron, Ohio

(International News Service)

AKRON, O., Mar. 25—Codition of Mrs. Ethel Koop, suffering alleged self-inflicted gun wounds, was reported as "fair" by attaches at city hospital here today.

The 48 year old woman, whose serious wounds have kept her in serious condition at the hospital for some time, faces possible criminal charges as the result of the death of her 49 year old husband, Henry J. Koop, of wounds Mrs. Koop is alleged to have inflicted.

Slayer Of Small Girl Given 50 Years Sentence

(International News Service)

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Mar. 25.—Lawrence Clinton Stone, 24, today was sentenced to from 50 years to life imprisonment by supreme court justice William F. Blsaklsy after pleading guilty to second degree murder in the slaying of Nancy Jean Costigan, five years old.

Stone was arrested after the charred body of the little girl was found in a furnace.

GIRL SCOUTS

TROOP 6

Girl Scout troop No. 6 held its regular Saturday morning meeting in city hall. A new folk dance was studied and a relay game was played. In patrol corners, a list of the good and bad points was made, which was read in the Court of Honor afterwards.

Plans were made for a luncheon hike to be held in two weeks. After the regular work, the meeting was closed with Taps.

Cannot Stretch Hose Across Sidewalk

Mayor Charles B. Mayne today stated that the practice of big trucks being filled with gasoline by hose stretched from a tank across the sidewalk to the tank of a truck or car must stop immediately.

He made the ruling after the practice had been brought to his attention by Solicitor Robert White who had received complaints about the practice.

White told the mayor that should a pedestrian trip on the hose the city would probably be held liable for damages, hence the mayor's edict.

Council Passes Two Ordinances

Measures Compensate Employes For Using Own Cars; Cut Engineer's Pay

Council adopted two ordinances when the body met in the city hall today. One prescribed compensation for city employes who use their own cars in the transaction of city business. According to the ordinance, each of the employes will receive $8.50 a month and be allotted a reasonable supply of oil and gasoline. They must carry their own liability insurance. The other ordinance fixed the salary of the city engineer at $2,500, which is $500 less than the former engineer received.

It takes time to provide an old-age pension. You see Congress must first consider all the nutty ways of doing it.

Alleged Bank Bandit Is Held

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, Pa., Mar. 25.—The third person indicted for the robbery of the First National Bank of Avonmore last May 21, in which $9,700 was taken, was under arrest here today.

The man, Warren Cert, 22, was arrested in Wheeling, W. Va., and returned here. He has been identified through fingerprints, police say. The other two, Vance Carter of Vandergrift and Joseph Plezarki of New Kensington, convicted, are now serving prison sentences.

TO VIEW PROPERTY

April 5 was set as the time when council will view the property located at 512 East Division street which has been declared a hazard by Fire Chief Stockman; according to action taken by the officials when they met in the city building today. The building was damaged by fire in 1931.

MAN DEAD FOR HER HONOR

MISS GLADYS MAE KELLY, DAUGHTER OF MRS. PAYNE

Authorities continued to investigate the murder of 52-year-old Adelbert Ewing of North Fairfield, O., shot to death in a tourist camp at Pascagoula, Miss., by Mrs. Vivian Payne when she found Ewing in a "compromising position" with her 15-year-old daughter, Gladys, shown above. The mother asserted she killed Ewing to save her daughter's honor, police say. The girl's step-father, the Rev. J J. Payne, saw the shooting, according to police.

Relief "Chiseling" Measure Is Taken Up By State Senate

Bill Has Passed House, Will Try To Take "Chiseling" Out Of Relief

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 25.—Legal anonymity behind which persons on relief rolls can hide their savings and securities would be torn away by legislation which has passed the house and today was before the senate.

The bill, introduced by Rep. Samuel Weiss, Allegheny, was aimed at so-called relief "chiselers," who accept government aid before they have exhausted their personal resources.

At present there is no way to determine how many are in relief lists. The law prohibits banks from revealing the accounts of customers. Weiss' bill would make it mandatory for banks to disclose the accounts of relief recipients upon demand of the relief director or of legislative investigating committees.

Hit-Run Driver Kills Youth And Injures Another

Two Boys Found Lying In Ditch Near Punxsutawney, Pa., Probe Is Started

(International News Service)

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., Mar. 25.—One boy dead in a ditch on Fairview Hill, just east of here. Another boy, bruised, cut and perhaps internally injured. Motorists whizzing by in the dusk, none stopping, thinking the two were merely "thumbing hitch-hikers."

This was the story disclosed to police today after they learned Homer Hoeh, 17, of Fairview, had been instantly killed by a hit-and-run motorist. Clifford Brown, 15, was the injured boy.

Finally James Coble, school director, stopped his car. But the Hoeh boy was dead. Brown said the car which struck them had no lights.

Death Sentence For Burglar In Robbery Slaying

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Mar. 25.—John W. Koziar was in a cell here today marked for death in the electric chair by a jury which found him guilty of the wanton slaying of Samson Rosenshein during an attempted burglary of Rosenshein's home. The jury deliberated for five hours.

Koziar, West Virginia miner, testified "he got scared" while robbing Rosenshein's home, and killed the man. He claimed that a "devil" entered him after a mine accident some years ago and he turned to a life of crime.

POLICE CHARGE RECKLESS DRIVING

W. A. Gould and William Jenkins of 422 Neshannock avenue, were found in a truck in Sampson street late Sunday afternoon after it was alleged the truck had knocked down a mail box in Harbor street. In police court today Gould was held on a charge of reckless operation of an automobile. Jenkins was discharged.

Teacher Attempts Unsuccessfully To Revive Husband

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Mar. 25. — A high school teacher who found her husband, Robert Conn, 40, hanging by a rope from a rafter in the private garage in the rear of their home, tried to save him by using artificial respiration, it was revealed here today. Her efforts failed.

Mrs. Anna Conn, finding the suspended body, cut it down hurriedly and worked over it for an hour until a respiration squad arrived. She said her husband, World War veteran who had undergone treatment for infirmaries, probably had been despondent.

Many Drivers Lose Licenses

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 25.—Revocations and suspensions of drivers' licenses zoomed sharply upward the week ending March 19 when 310 drivers lost their cards, the Bureau of Highway Patrol and Safety reported today. Of this number 128 were revoked and 173 suspended, a total of 70 more withdrawals than the preceding week. Revocations to date totaled 922 and suspensions 1275.

Look and Feel Clean, Sweet and Fresh Every Day

Drink a glass of real hot water before breakfast to wash out poisons.

Life is not merely to live, but to live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatism; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store which will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

Atterbury Says Legislation Will Hamper Railroad

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 25.—General W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, today charged that proposed legislation in congress and the state legislature would adversely affect the railroad industry.

Striking at bills providing for larger train crews, increased wages and decreased working hours, Atterbury declared "such legislation will mean ultimately less employment".

The warning was sounded in the company's annual report for 1934, which confirmed preliminary figures showing a net income of $18,815,694, a decrease as compared with 1933 of $465,476, and equal to $1.43 a share on the railroad's capital stock.

Two dividends of one per cent each, totaling $13,167,696, were paid out of earnings during 1934. Both railway operating revenues and expenses increases during the year. Revenues were $343,668,699, an increase of $18,952,886 of 5.8 per cent over 1933, and expenses $282,351,683, a jump of $19,612,729 or 9.7 per cent. Net operating income dropped $659,843 to $61,317,016, equal to 2.4 per cent on investment in road equipment.

Gross income was $101,330,907, a decrease of $2,265,551.

Mayor McNair Says He'll Not Proclaim Daylight Savings

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 25.—Mayor McNair will not proclaim daylight saving in Pittsburgh this year unless the state law forbidding the change of time is repealed.

This announcement from the mayor threatens to cause confusion in this, the eighteenth year of daylight saving, so dear to the heart of Council President Robert Garland.

Under normal conditions, the clocks of Pittsburgh would be turned forward one hour April 28.

The mayor, somewhat low in spirits following the extraction of a tooth, announced:

"Unless the state law is repealed, I will not proclaim daylight saving time this year. I won't openly violate the state law with the ripper bill coming out of committee in a few days. I have had a warning to behave and I am going to heed."

Ryan Discusses New Coal Strike

Insurgent Leader Declares Workers Will Be Placed In Two Hostile Camps

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 25.—Coal miners of Western Pennsylvania today discussed the prediction of Martin Ryan that if a coal strike of the bituminous fields occurs next Monday, workers will be placed in two hostile camps.

Ryan is a leader of the insurgent members of the United Mine Workers of America and has been the head of several "outlaw" strikes of miners of the Frick Coal Company at Uniontown and Brownsville.

In an address to 100 miners here he bitterly assailed John L. Lewis, union head, and P. T. Fagan of Pittsburgh, head of District No. 5. Ryan also denounced policies of William Hynes of Uniontown, president of District No. 4.

"I have been crucified for years by these so-called union leaders," Ryan shouted. "They called a special convention to try me, and the only reason I was not fired out of the union was that they decided my following was too strong.

"We have got to plan what stand we are going to take in the coming fight. Personally I don't want to be kicked around by these self-styled leaders. We must take the public into our confidence and tell them what is going on."

Ryan accused Hynes and Fagan of making contracts with producing companies without protecting rights of the "captive tonnage" miners.

Railroad Man Is Fatally Burned

Explosion Takes Life Of Brakeman In Philadelphia Yards

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 25.—John A. Lobue, 30, a railroad brakeman, was killed today when he thrust a lighted lamp through a porthole atop an empty alcohol tankcar in a South Philadelphia freight yard.

The resulting explosion blew Lobue nearly 20 feet in the air and transformed him into a human torch. He died before receiving medical attention.

Accident Victim Out Of Hospital

William Edward Steele, of 1717 East Washington street, who together with his wife was injured several weeks ago, when his automobile skidded and crashed into a telephone pole on Adams and East Washington streets, returned to his home from the New Castle hospital, over the week end.

Mrs. Steele, who is confined to the New Castle hospital, is steadily improving.

Treasury Department Explodes Myth Being Widely Circulated

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 25.—Have you a 1922 penny? If you have, take the word of President Roosevelt, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, Nellie Tayloe Ross, director of the mint, and W. A. Julian treasurer of the United States, that your copper is worth exactly one cent, and cannot be exchanged for a new Ford automobile.

But before going any further into "how you can't trade a 1922 penny for a Ford," here is some other business the federal government is not transacting:

The PWA has not furnished funds to buy in confederate money, dollar for dollar—this was the conception held by a southern gentleman whose grandfather wore the gray in the Civil War;

Secretary Morgenthau is "fresh out" of gold detectors, delicate mechanisms with which buried treasures are "found"—A man in Kansas, who "suspected" the general location of a gold cache, wanted the secretary to ship him one and he would pay all freight charges;

No Fords For Penny

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation is not bidding on old coin collections, as a man in the southwest has been led into believing. Neglecting to disclose any details—whether they were foreign or domestic, dimes or dollars—this man asked the FDIC to submit a bid on his collection of 1,736 coins.

The "Ford for a penny" buncombe has been by far the most popular with the nation's gullibles, however. Hundreds of letter relating that Henry Ford owns 150 of 200 outstanding pennies minted in 1922," and is so anxious to possess the other 50 that he's trading automobiles for them have been received at the treasury. All seek confirmation by the government.

Now, that's correct, except for the trifling detail: Instead of 200, there are 7,160,000 pennies of 1922 outstanding.

A BUILDER, GIVES PEP

MANY folks have thin, pale blood—they're weak, feel tired, logy and dull. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a dependable tonic which will increase the appetite and eliminate poisons from the intestines. It stimulates the digestion, makes the blood redder, and you gain in vim and vigor.

Michael Walsh of 1928 Washburn St., Scranton, Pa., said: "I used to have quite a bit of stomach complaint. I did not rest well at night either. I felt weak, had no strength or 'pep' and hardly felt like working. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery built me up in fine shape—improved my appetite, rid me of the indigestion, and the tired feeling."

70 Years Spry

On March 22nd, this year, Provident Mutual was 70 years old. That's a lot of years. According to the best colloquialisms, that makes us "ripe." It makes us too ripe, in fact—too ripe by 15 years—to buy for ourselves a PROVIDENT PROVIDOR, that comprehensive retirement plan for men under 55. However, not being an individual, we find ourselves as gay as we ever were, a whole lot stronger, and more mellow with each new birthday. And if the years deny us the PROVIDENT PROVIDOR, they can't deny our offering its opportunities to others. So, if you are under 55—if, let us say, you were "founded" after 1880—it will pay you well to investigate the PROVIDENT PROVIDOR. In addition to paying you $200 a month for life beginning at 55, 60 or 65, it will pay $20,000 to your family if you die before that age. Ask your Provident Mutual agent about the PROVIDENT PROVIDOR today.

On Court House Hill

Motion for a new trial has been made in the case of William Thompson, who was convicted of adultery at the recent term of court. The motion will be argued later.

A notary public commission has been placed on record at the register and recorder's office for Miss Belle Dillon, of this city. Bond has also been filed.

An application for a new trial has been made in the case of M. A. Newton, of Ellwood City, who was convicted of driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor. Newton denied the charge at the trial.

An application for a new trial has been made by George Fox, who was convicted of failing to stop and render assistance in connection with the death of Charles Pattison on the New Castle-New Bedford road. Fox claimed at the trial that he had stopped his car to get a milk can which had fallen off, when he found Pattison lying by the roadside. He had no knowledge of striking him.

County commissioners will install a separate hot water heating tank at the county home. Heretofore the hot water has been taken from the boilers of the heating system, and on account of the large amount used, it has interferred with the successful operation of the plant.

Petition for the appointment of a guardian for Simon Sankovich of Bessemer, has been presented by his daughter, Mildred Sankovich. The elder Sankovich was recently taken to the Torrance hospital. He had an insurance policy for $1,000 upon which the payments are $51.04 per month, but the company will not pay out the insurance until a guardian is appointed. A hearing on the petition will be held April 1.

Prothonotary R. M. Campbell has prepared a trial list for the three terms of common pleas court which will be held during the month of April. There are 46 cases on the list. Judges Hildebrand and Chambers held a session of court this forenoon at which they went over the list with attorneys and fixed the time for hearing the different cases.

Will of the late Adeline McGinnis, of North Beaver township, has been admitted to probate at the register and recorder's office. To her nephew, C. Dale Robinson, of North Beaver township, and niece, Mabel Byers, of New Wilmington, decedent, left a property in North Beaver township. To a nephew, Harlan Wilson, $500; to a nephew, John Robinson, $500. Other bequests are made to grand nephews and nieces. Attorney W. K. Hugus is named as executor.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Clark have presented a petition in court asking that the Lawrence Savings and Trust Company, guardian of their son, Samuel, advance $210 with which to purchase an artificial leg for the boy who is ten years old. Samuel was injured while returning home from school when a dead tree fell upon him. There was long litigation over the case but the owner of the property on Pennsylvania avenue, on which the tree was located, finally had to pay the verdict. The Lawrence Savings and Trust Company was appointed guardian to take care of the funds. The petition for $210 for the artificial leg was granted.

In the case of Roy C. Raubenolt, administrator of Carol Raubenolt against Morris Newmark, Judge Hildebrand has handed down an opinion in which a rule to strike off statement of claim is discharged and the defendant is allowed fifteen days in which to file an affidavit of defense. The case is one growing out of an automobile accident in Ohio, which resulted in the death of Carol Raubenolt.

Alas! If the statesman is big enough to think of the whole country, he doesn't fatten his own district enough to hold his job.

TRIPLE PROBE FOR CHICAGO ROADHOUSE FIRE

Six Persons Die In Flames

Eighteen Others Who Were In Fire Disaster Are in Hospitals

CAUSE OF BLAZE REMAINS UNKNOWN

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Mar. 25.—A triple investigation of the disastrous fire in a roadhouse where six persons kept a rendevous with death, was begun today. Terming the roadhouse a fire trap city, county and state officials promised action to prevent a recurrence of such a holocaust.

A coroner's inquest is to be held with survivors of the tragedy repeating their vivid and gruesome stories.

Eighteen In Hospital

Eighteen of the merry-makers who saw the scene of gayety and laughter change in a moment to one of horror and death, are in hospitals, several of them in critical condition with little chance of surviving.

Cause of the fire remained unknown but the rapid spread of the flames was blamed on the highly inflammable drapes about the dance floor and the tissue paper decorations. Officials blamed the trapping of the 100 guests on the lack of exits.

There was but one door leading from the dance floor. Windows were screened or covered by the heavy drapes. The door opened inward and when the hysterical patrons surged against it they were trapped.

Among the guests were a number of Northwestern University students. Two of them were among the victims.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 48 hours ending at 3:30 p. m., March 24, 14 arrests on charges as follows: Suspicion 2, drunkenness 5 and violation of parking regulations 7.

It is anticipated that, if not today a bill will be introduced Friday in council which will provide how many and how goats shall be kept within the city limits. One place is said to have 21 goats which has ired neighbors who claim the odor is offensive. Councilmen are not averse to anyone keeping one goat for milk but have indicated they are opposed to maintenance of a herd of goats.

New Castle police department sergeants who have been licensed to radio police calls have reported that they hear important calls sounded in Hartford, Conn., Cleveland, O., Youngstown and other places. Some of the operatives in the cruiser cars have the monotony of the night broken when calls come in on their receivers from Camden, N. J., and other places. Locally, radio calls have resulted in the police cars giving good service when calls are sent to the police station and are relayed by radio to the scout car operatives.

Chief of police Haven and Solicitor Robert White have recommended to members of city council that the latter, should they be so disposed, make refunds of portions of monies paid for the holding of dances in places where liquor is dispensed. The communication covers the month of February. The places entitled to a return if council concurs in the recommendation are as follows: Bay of Naples, $1.00; Cooper's casino, $16.00; Elite cafe, $5.00; Riviera cafe, $14.00; Riverside cafe, $1.00; Rendzevous cafe, $21.00; Savage hotel, $9.00 and Zoiwoski gardens, $1.00. According to the ordinance, each place must pay a yearly license of $15.00 and $1.00 for each day dancing is permitted. The law calls for a refund of 90 percent of the amount paid the city. Sometime ago Solicitor White ruled in an opinion to Controller Earl Wimer that the ordinance was legal. However, no refunds have been granted. It has been intimated that Wimer would welcome some proprietor taking the fight to court.

City employes who use their own automobiles in the transaction of city business, will receive $8.50, each month for the use thereof, according to an ordinance introduced before council and now in committee. The employes also will receive sufficient oil and gasoline for their trips. The owners of the cars must carry their own public liability, according to the bill.

Make Plans For Oriental Dinner

Third Annual Oriental Dinner And Dance At Cathedral On June 15

Preparations are now being made for the third annual Oriental dinner and dance to be held at the Cathedral on Saturday evening, June 15, for the benefit of the St. Elias Syrian Orthodox church. On previous occasions the dinner has been very successful and was approved by the people who attended.

This annual event will produce the color and charm of the Far East, and the entertainment, including the fascinating dances and music of the Syrian people will be a spectacle that will always be remembered. Excellent food, tasty dishes of the Orient, will be one of the many features.

The Syrian people of New Castle are making every effort to raise funds for the church. The committee in charge of this dinner includes Arch Priest Rev. Constantine Abou Addel, Elias Jacob, Tom Deep, Esper Bashour, Moses Jacob, Anthony Deep, Mrs. Charlie Albert, Mrs. John Davis, Mrs. Gus Taleganis, Mrs. Esper Bashour and Mrs. K. W. Siyufy.

MAN KILLED IN "BORROWED" AUTO

YOUNGSTOWN, O. Mar. 25—Jack Lyons, 35, of Warren, O., was killed instantly and two companions were badly injured Sunday afternoon, when an automobile in which they were riding careened around a corner and struck a pole.

The driver and a woman companion disappeared after the accident. The auto owner reported to state highway patrolmen that he had left his car to be washed in a Warren service station.

The Bonus And 1936.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

GALLUP, New Mexico, Mar. 24.—This is written traveling over the mountains toward the east high up in Arizona. In all directions are beautiful pine trees, magnificent high peaks covered with snow, dark romantic gullies, fertile valleys that need only cultivation, and at this moment looking from the car window, not a house or a human being in sight. Man may be "a gregarious animal" but it is pleasant, sometimes, to see this earth with no human being busy spoiling its beauty.

THE WORLD'S NEWS comes in the Phoenix Gazette, ably run by Messrs. Stauffer, Knorpp and Nuckolls.

Part of the news tells of food prices going up, not good news for the consuming citizen, but good for farmers of all kinds.

The consumer should realize that prices going up does not mean, absolutely, that producers are getting more. It means that we are really using fifty-nine cent dollars; inflation is with us, although we do not realize it yet.

Prices indicate inflation before human beings know of it.

IF CONSUMERS COULD get food at prices nearer to the price paid to the producer, everything would seem marvelously cheap. The whole problem is one of distribution.

For instance, driving toward the Cajon pass through the Southern Sierras, east of Los Angeles, you read a citrus growers' advertisement, "Large sweet grapefruit, one cent apiece. Six dozen oranges for twenty-five cents." Cheap vitamines there.

OTHER EDITORS may be interested in an idea developed by the Phoenix Gazette, which each day prints a "guest editorial" written by one of its readers.

Mr. Lynn M. Laney, in his "guest editorial" says "notwithstanding the free and easy flow of potent beverages under present conditions, it is just as important, now, as ever, to be sober."

This guest editor recommends sobriety in spite of the fact that "if a man stays sober and works hard and as a result makes a fair income, both the government and the state levy a fine, in the form of an income tax, against him for his conduct; but despite this discouraging circumstance, we still say there are decided advantages in remaining sober."

MR. CLARENCE DARROW, able clever criminal lawyer, tells the Senate committee, "Big business has all the advantage, and NRA only has increased that advantage."

If that be true, big business knows about its own affairs less than Mr. Darrow does, for big business men, and little business men as well, are extremely anxious to get rid of NRA and resume business as they have learned to run it.

THE HOUSE voted 318 to 90 in favor of paying the soldiers' bonus in what is foolishly called "inflation" money.

Geese, in and out of office, think money cannot be good unless it first appears in the shape of bonds that pay interest and double the debt, and the cost to taxpayers.

All the soldiers will ever get is plain American greenbacks. Why give them two billion dollars of those greenbacks and insist on giving two billions more in interest, to some one else?

Has not the government brains and character enough to decide how much it will print and then stop? Must it play the part of a drunkard who cannot take one drink without a debauch to follow?

THE PRESIDENT would veto the bill. The House would override his veto. What the Senate will do about overriding the veto is uncertain. It would like an excuse not to pay the soldiers, and at the same time avoid losing the soldiers votes. For that the veto would be convenient. Sentors could tell the veterans, "don't blame me, blame the President".

DANGEROUS and destructive sand storms continue throughout large areas, Kansas most severely afflicted. Yesterday an engineer and fireman overcome by dust, almost suffocated, were lifted from the locomotive. Numerous cases of pneumonia have developed as a result of breathing dust, that clogs the lungs, weakens resistance.

A dispatch from Springfield, Colorado, to the Albuquerque Journal tells of four residents of Baca county dead from "dust pneumonia". Many others will die.

AT NEWTON, KANSAS, one determined farmer, with a large broom swept the dust from a five foot swatch on the windward side of his wheatfield, that his cows might eat the green winter wheat before dust kills it.

The national government might well take serious interest in this dust danger, increasing year by year.

Rows of trees creating windbreaks might be used to stop the flying dust clouds, and the agricultural department might develop some swiftly growing plant that could easily be sown, by government airplanes, if necessary, immediately after the harvesting of corn, wheat, rye and other crops. Early planting of winter wheat or rye, might develop a sufficient "cover crop" to meet the winter wind and dust storms. The cost of the seed and sowing would be offset by increased fertility after "plowing under" building up the land with humus.

This offers opportunity for the inventive mind to work and for the government to act.

Eckert Supports Patman Inflationary Bonus Measure

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent
New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 25.—Representative Charles L. Eckert of Beaver voted consistently for the inflationary Patman bonus bill last week when the house considered and finally passed the measure.

The bill calls for payment of adjusted service certificates to the extent of their full matured valued with printing press money, and Mr. Eckert opposed any modification of this. He voted against the Vinson amendment which would have floated government bonds to raise money with which to pay the bonus. He voted against an amendment which would have paid the veteran by giving him a government bond worth the present value of his certificate.

Both amendments were rejected, and Mr. Eckert then voted for the unchanged Patman measure when it was finally approved in the house by a 228 vote margin. It is widely predicted President Roosevelt will veto the bill if the senate passes it, which is unlikely.

Organist Here Now Is Qualified Pilot

While piloting an airplane thru the skies is a far cry from presiding over a mighty organ, Thomas H. Webber, Jr., organist at the First Presbyterian church here, has found thrills from both of them.

At Pittsburgh last Friday Webber completed his flying and theoretical tests for a private pilot's license. He took the flight test in a Taylor Cub monoplane with Aeronautics Branch Inspector Russell A. Young.

Mr. Webber received his flight training at New Castle airport and was soloed last October 18 by L. G. Theakston, flight instructor here, and is the first of 34 to receive a pilot's license since classes started here last May.

To Remove House From College Campus

Landscaping Of Westminster College Campus Is Under Way

(Special To The News,
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Mar. 25—Landscaping plans for the Westminster college campus, started last spring through the generosity of J. S. Mack, McKeesport, a member of the board of trustees, are gradually taking form as workmen are completing grading, seeding, and planting.

Work was renewed on the campus last week. Additional grass seed was sown, the entire campus was rolled, additional shrubs and trees will be planted and older trees on the campus will be trimmed and treated by tree surgeons.

Many of the trees and bushes around the Elliott house will be removed within the next two weeks. In all probability, the Elliott house acquired by the college through a donation by Mr. Mack last spring, will be moved from the campus some time in early May. This will give Westminster a campus sweep from the United Presbyterian church on Maple street at the north to the football field on the south.

Future plans for the development of the campus are being made by landscape architects under the direction of Mr. Mack and of the board of trustees committee which includes Dr. John McBride, Attorney Bruce McCrory and Dr. H. H. Donaldson.

THOUSANDS HAVE LEARNED PLYMOUTH COSTS LESS TO RUN!

Actually uses 12 to 20% less Gas and Oil

"OIL'S O. K., MISTER." Plymouth's new cooling makes your oil last, and lubricate better.

Drive "All Three" if you want the Real Economy story

EVERYBODY KNOWS that Plymouth is again the biggest car of "All Three." Its beauty is obvious.

Everybody knows that Plymouth is the safest car, with genuine Hydraulic Brakes and All-Steel Body.

Every one who's had a "Floating Ride" knows that Plymouth's back seat rides as comfortably as the front. And no one could ask for more power than this new high-efficiency engine delivers.

So the only question left to ask is about economy. And our answer to that is: "Plymouth costs less to operate than any other full-sized car today!"

Thousands of Plymouth owners know the car uses 12% to 20% less gas and oil. This extraordinary economy is made possible by new cooling and ignition.

Plymouth saves you money at every point. Valve-seat inserts . . . an air-cooled, 15% bigger clutch . . . four-bearing crankshaft . . . 28 anti-friction bearings . . . self-equalizing brakes . . . Floating Power engine mountings . . . all cut down costs.

Drive "All Three" leading low-priced cars. Compare them on total economy. Any Dodge, De Soto or Chrysler dealer will help you. (Ask about official Chrysler Motors Commercial Credit Plan.)

ONLY PLYMOUTH GIVES YOU ALL FOUR:

1. GENUINE HYDRAULIC BRAKES
2. SAFETY-STEEL BODY
3. WEIGHT RE-DISTRIBUTION
4. 12% TO 20% LESS GAS & OIL

(Below) SO QUIET! So smooth running! Floating Power engine mountings absorb vibration.

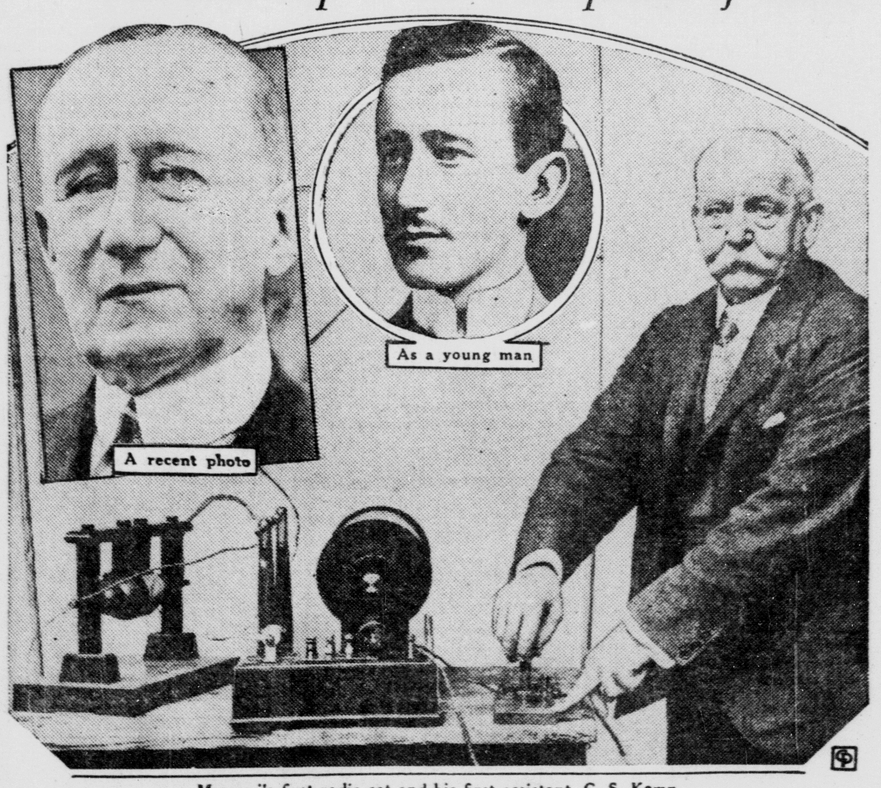
When Marconi Invented Wireless Telegraphy, The First Step in the Development of Radio



Marconi's first radio set and his first assistant, C. S. Kemp

ALTHOUGH several scientists contributed to its invention, the distinction of being called the "father of radio" undoubtedly is due Guglielmo Marconi, Italian electrical engineer. While attending the University of Bologna, at Bologna, Italy, Marconi came into contact with Professor Righi, who had long been interested in the nature of the Hertzian waves. Seeing the possibilities of the waves, Marconi began experiments in 1895, and before the end of the year had established successful wireless communication over a distance of a mile. In 1896 he went to England and secured the first patent on wireless telegraphy by means of electric waves. Later he developed equipment to contact a ship 18 miles away, and from that time on radio development grew by leaps and bounds into its present form.

St. Michaels, Hearts Battle In Title Game

Championship Of Second Half Of Church League To Be Decided Tonight

SUNDAY SCHOOL GAMES POSTPONED

Tonight at the "Y" floor at 8 o'clock two of the finest basketball teams in the city, will meet for the second half championship of the New Castle Church League. The teams are, St. Michaels, first-half champions and the Sacred Hearts. Seats will be at a premium tonight as these two quintets tangle.

There is a strong rivalry between the two contesting teams. The Hearts have defeated the Mikes three times this year, can they make it five straight? This is the question of the hour. The St. Michaels say that tonight the "jinx" will be chased far far away. The Sacred Hearts are quite confident that the St. Michaels will succumb to their attack.

Strong Lineups

Coach Michael "Jake" Babovsky will start his strongest lineup in an effort to snap the Sacred Hearts. "Shimmy" Balla and Andy Motsko will go to the forward posts, with Chernyavsky at center, and Johnny Carik, Mikey Slosernick, Mackiewicz, Hnat and Johnny Slosernick holding down the guard jobs.

The Hearts will have Gennock, Gallagher, Viggiano and B. Cooper as their big stars.

If the St. Michaels wallop the Hearts tonight, it will mean the church championship as the Babovskymen took the first-half championship in easy fashion. If the Hearts win tonight it will mean a playoff for the church league title.

The Sunday school games scheduled for tonight have been postponed until Wednesday night.

Yarosz Again Injures Knee

Yarosz Forced To Postpone Bout With Abie Bain In Cleveland

(International News Service)

MONACA, Pa., Mar. 25—Another injury to the knee he hurt when defeated by Babe Risko, at Scranton on New Years today forced Teddy Yarosz, middleweight champion, to concel an eight-round bout against Abie Bain in Cleveland tonight.

Yarosz pulled a tendon in his knee while going through a final workout with his brother here Saturday afternoon. On the advice of physicians, his manager, Ray Foutts cancelled the Cleveland bout. Physicians said the injury was not serious, but recommended the fighter remain inactive for another month.

Pulaskis Defeat Farrell Boosters

K. Pulaskis End Fine Basketball Season With 38 To 35 Victory

MATEJA-BORON STARS OF GAME

K. Pulaski closed a most successful basketball season Sunday afternoon at the Pulaski hall before a large crowd, by handing the highly touted and heretofore undefeated Farrell Boosters a 38 to 35 defeat, with "Cash" Mateja and "Kitty" Boron the big scoring stars for the Oaklanders with 29 of the points.

Mateja, Boron Stars

Ginsberg and O'Flaherty were the best in the lineup of the Farrellites. The Farrell boys outscored the Pulaskis in the second half, 17 to 15, but the lead piled up by the Peplowsky quintet in the first half was enough to carry the Oaklanders through victorious.

In the preliminary game the K. Pulaski Reserves defeated the Acmes of New Castle 29 to 18, with "Tillie" Slezeski and Gorgacz the best for the Pulaski Reserves, and Raskowski and Duncho the best for the Acmes.

Pulaski Fine Team

The Pulaskis in their first year of organization have gained a place in the basketball sun of New Castle and Lawrence county. Next year the Pulaskis will be back with a stronger team and will be out to take the championship, according to Business Manager Peplowsky and Coach Walter Sniezek.

Washington Will Be In Flag Race, Says Bucky Harris

By FRANK BUCK O'NEILL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BILOXI, Miss., Mar. 25.—The fate of the Washington Senators in 1935 will be decided by the pitchers. The team is sufficiently powerful in other departments to give a good account of itself. In the event that Detroit, ranking favorite, should should slip; that Cleveland should be thrown out of stride by Billy Knickerbocker's illness, and that the New York Yankees fail to add power where it is obviously needed, the Senators might slip in and grab the pennant.

With all other clubs playing to normal form, the Senators have an outside chance if the hurling is of real major league calibre.

Cronin Sold

The baseball world looked to Washington as a center of winter and spring trading activity after the sale of Joe Cronin to the Boston Red Sox. It was thought that President Griffith would launch an impressive building campaign.

The anticipated activities, however, simmered down to the purchase of Irving "Bump" Hadley from the St. Louis Browns.

Lyn Lary, who was tossed in by Tom Yawkey in the deal for Cronin, looks as the shortstop of the Senators for the coming season, although it is by no means assured that he will beat out Red Kress, another contender for a steady job.

To the outfield of 1934 have been added Jakie Powell and Fred Singston of Albany, two powerful hitters and prolific run producers. Sam Holbrook and Jack Redmond are young catchers of exceptional promise.

Whitehill Best

The best pitcher on the Washington club last year, and one of the probable leaders this season is Earl Whitehill, veteran left-hander. Bob Burke, who is in better form this spring than ever before in his life, looms, as a winning pitcher.

Monte Weaver and Bump Hadley are ranked as probable first string right-handers, with Ed. Linke rating right behind them.

Strong Outfield

Heinie Manush, perennial contender for hitting honors in the American League, and sometime winner of the batting crown, will be in left field and hit third. Johnny Stone will be in right, and either Fred Scuhlte or Powell will be in center.

It is safe to say that Washington has three of the best young catchers in the game in Cliff Bolton, Sam Holbrook and Jack Redmond.

Bucky Harris, the new manager, is really an old Rover come home. He has instilled a fine spirit in the club, and if the boys don't finish high in the race you may look to other causes than the management of Harris.

Westminster College News Notes Of Sport

Ray Sweeney, Youngstown, a forward and John Wilhelm, Kittanning, a guard, two seniors on the Westminster college basketball team this year will be on the all-star team which plays an all-star New York district team in St. Nicholas arena, New York on March 29. Others on the team from this section and the middle west will be Ginsberg, Geneva: Serany, Duquesne: Cottom and Shaver, Purdue.

Wes Bennett, star center on the Westminster basketball team will have his tonsils removed this week. Bennett was sick during the last three and one-half weeks of the schedule, and has been considerably underweight. It is thought that the removal of his tonsils will aid him in keeping in top-notch form next season, his last on the Titan team.

John Lawther and R. X. Graham, athletic director and assistant at Westminster College, will attend two meetings of athletic officials and coaches in Webster Hall, Pittsburgh, on March 30. One meeting will have to do with selection of basketball officials for next year, and the other with the selection of football officials.

Mauno "Whitey" Siljander, former Titan three-sports star and now a member of the W. S. Willigs basketball team, has a good chance of becoming head football and basketball coach at a large high school in the section this year. Announcement of Siljander's appointment is expected at any time.

Although there are plenty of applications in for the football coaching position at Westminster next year, it is probable that the men selected will be one who has at least an M. A. degree and who can be a full-time faculty member, teaching in the college as well as coaching the grid team. The officials and Athletic Council are of the opinion that such an arrangement will be best. The winning applicant will be required to teach an academic subject, not physical education. Bill Gilbane, head coach last year, has been made freshman coach at Brown University. Tom, Bill's brothtion. Tom was line coach last year er, is still in the running as a candidate for the Westminster position for the Titans.

Purification Of Streams Requested

Sportsmen Ask Citizens To Send Appeals To Batchelor, Kelso, Eroe

Committee on forests and waters will hold an open hearing Tuesday at Harrisburg on senate bill 273 which is an anti-pollution of streams measure and organizations and individuals of Lawrence county were today asked by the Lawrence County Sportsmen's association to urge passage of the measure.

According to Jack Boyles, secretary of the league, telegrams should be sent to Senator Batchlor and Representatives Kelso and Eroe.

During the past several years there has been many claims that pollution in Lawrence county streams has killed fish and endangered the health of bathers.

Cottagers are also requested by the sportsmen to interest themselves in the move and wire their representatives to help prevent pollution.

Last week the sportsmen, in session at the Armory, passed a resolution urging that support of the bill be given.

Lasky Claims Injured Hand

Says Injured Hand Kept Him From Defeating James J. Braddock

BELGRANO TO BE HERE ON MAY 9

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Mar. 25.—By this time, it is evident that the writer owes Art Lasky, Minneapolis and Los Angeles heavyweight, an apology and somebody in New York boxing owes him an explanation. He came out of the ring after 15 rounds with the astonishing James J. Braddock on Friday a badly beaten man but it is quite clear that he should never have been in the ring in the first place.

Lasky's left hand was not injured, as reported, during the fight. It was injured ten days before, at which time a reporter visited his camp, learned of the situation and was asked by the Lasky people not to use the story.

Hand Was Hurt

Somebody had persuaded them to "go through," doubtless pointing out that Lasky had taken one powder on Braddock two months before and couldn't afford another. It sounded like disinterested advice but probably wasn't.

The story, in fact, is that this looked like a spot to get Lasky knocked off, so that nothing could interfere with a Schmeling-Baer fight for the championship in June. In a manner of speaking, of course. I'm convinced that they did Lasky a favor in keeping him away from Schmeling. On what I saw of him Friday night, I should say, good hands or bad, he can't fight fast enough to keep off a swarm of mosquitoes.

Pitt Basketeers Accept Big Game

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 25.—Pittsburgh University has accepted a bid to play a "Rose Bowl" basketball game on April 13 at Atlantic City, officials of the school announced here today.

The post-season encounter, which will bring together Pitt's Panthers, champions of the eastern collegiate conference, and Louisiana State University, was approved unanimously by the local athletic board, Coach H. C. Carlson, the players and Chancellor John G. Bowman.

Polish Falcons Topple Gersons By Score 24-15

Falcons Take City-County Independent Championship In Two-Game Series

KAWA-BUDAI HIGH SCORERS

Polish Falcons basketball team is looking for new world's to conquer today following their 24 to 15 defeat of the Gersons, city league champions, yesterday afternoon at the Falcon floor. This was the second setback administered to the Gersons by the Ostroskymen. The victory gives the Falcons the independent championship of Lawrence county.

"Rus" Kawa and Budai helped to defeat the Gersons, these two fine forwards having more points than the Gersons combined team. The entire Falcon team deserves credit for the victory, as they played a great game defensively as well as offensively. "Jimmy" Shaffer was the only Gersons player able to score consistently, he had seven points. Reiber and Hutchison were held scoreless from the field.

The teams started out cautiously and at the end of the first period the Falcons were leading 4 to 3. In the second period the Gersons put on steam and the score was deadlocked at 9-9 as the whistle ended the first half.

Falcons Lead.

Play was fast and furious in the third period, but the Falcons managed to squeeze ahead 14 to 10 as the third stanza ended. In the final period the Falcons outscored the champions 10 to 5 and took a 24 to 15 victory. The guarding of Joe Kolodjeski, Sniezek and Brownie Ostrosky was the best seen this year at the Falcon floor, the highly touted Gersons being held to four field goals. There were no outstanding stars in the battle. Every man did his part. Coach Tony Ostrosky was highly pleased with the showing made by his Falcons.

The Gersons tried hard, but could not match the Falcons for cleverness and accuracy in locating the hoops.

In the preliminary the Falcon Reserves lost to the Indian Heads 44 to 32, with S. Deep, Nocera, B. and Henry Koszela doing the bulk of the scoring.

Biggest Crowd of Year.

The biggest crowd of the year witnessed the game, the Falcon hall was packed to capacity, with about 800 fans, while several hundred were turned away, according to Business Manager Russell Ficht. The Falcons will play any team in Lawrence county that disputes their championship rights.

Allentown Will Honor Champions

Allentown Fans Go Wild As High School Quintet Takes State Title

RANKINS LOSE BY SCORE 32-19

(International News Service)

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Mar. 25—A testimonial dinner and a victory parade tonight will be the reward tendered by this city of its scholastic basketball champions, the Allentown high school quintet which captured the state title Saturday night by defeating Rankin high school at Philadelphia.

While the victorious team remained in Philadelphia last night thousands of Allentown citizens staged one of the wildest demonstrations seen here since the Armistice celebration in 1918. Nearly 3000 returning rooters who saw the Allentown five win by the score of 32 to 19 were met by nearly double the number and formed a cheering section in Central Square.

High school classes were suspended today in preparation for tonight's events which will be climaxed by a victory bonfire.

Rosenberg Angered

Pittsburgh, Mar. 25—Race prejudice, in the opinion of Jock Rosenberg coach of the Rankin high school basketball team, was one of the major reasons for his team losing the state title to Allentown by a 32 to 19 score at Philadelphia Saturday night.

Rosenberg today attacked the unsportsmanlike tactics of spectators, saying personal insults were hurled at Wylie Campbell, Rankin's colored star, to such a degree that he did not score.

"Of course,' observed Rosenberg, "this will sound like an alibi to all except those who witnessed the spectacle of unsportsmanship. I add hastily that Allentown was a well-coached team, but I do not believe the team was better than several W. P. I. A. L. teams we played and defeated."

THE SPORT PATROL

By JOHN J. MAHER, JR.

THE BASKETBALL TIP-OFF

If the opinion of the coaches can be taken as an indication, it is very likely that the basketball center-jump will be eliminated from the game by the national rules committee which is to hold its annual meeting soon. The Pacific coast has already tried the game minus the tip-off, and now some of the leading coaches in the Middle West and East are favoring its abolition.

Coach Bill Chandler of Marquette, who saw a game without the jump when his team defeated Stanford, noted where several more minutes of actual play were injected into the contest. "In football the team scored upon has its choice of possession of the ball afterwards; why not in basketball?" he asks.

Harold G. Olson, coach at Ohio State, claims that some way must be found to give the ball to the little fellows part of the time, and believes that elimination of the tip-off would turn the trick. "Such a ruling would guarantee each team possession of the ball at least half the time, which is impossible these days when a big center and a smaller one jump for the ball," he says.

The main idea in mind seems to be to put the little fellow on an equal basis with the six-footer. This would be all right if the diminutives had no chance in the game as it is being played, and could not in any way cope with the giants. But are the little fellows really hopelessly outclassed?

Take some of the stars in this district as an example. Ray Sweeney of Westminster, Jimmy Murphy and Serany of Duquesne, and Hurley and Ginsberg of Geneva are classy cagers, yet all are in the pigmy division.

If a fellow happens to be blessed with unusual height, it should be his privilege to use this advantage. The center position provides him with this opportunity and, at the same time, there are four other posts on the team at which the smaller men can compete on equal terms with the taller ones.

So why not permit the tall individuals to dominate the tip-off and pivot play when the Lilliputians appear to have an equal chance in the other departments of the game?

There have in the past and are today many short players who have developed into floor stars. To what can the ability of these men to match the play of the tall youths be attributed?

There is only one answer. While these fellows lack height, they have something else—speed and agility—usually not found in the physical make-up of the bigger men. No matter how adept a huge athlete is in shaking the signs of awkwardness, he can never match the smaller man who is skilled in this art.

You have heard it said frequently that this or that athlete, though a giant in stature, has the speed and agility of a flyweight. This is not wholly true. He may seem to have it when compared with other large men, but he'll come out second best when matched with a smaller man in this phase of physical quality.

The smaller basketball players are permitted to use their speed and alertness to the utmost, in fact, such is encouraged, so why shouldn't the tall men be allowed to use a physical advantage bestowed on them? If a man has ability, he'll find a place in basketball, and it doesn't matter whether he's 5-feet-six or 6-feet-five.

The fact that the football team scored upon has its choice of possession of the ball afterwards is true, but injected as an example in a basketball discussion it doesn't hold water. In hockey, after a score is made, the puck is brought back to the center of the rink for a face-off just as the basketball is returned to the middle of the court for a tip-off. Of the two games—football and hockey—the latter is more closely allied to basketball and would provide a better parallel than football in the tip-off controversy.

Recreation Park Will Be Built In Somerset County

National Parks Service Approves Of Project Of 5000 Acres Of Ground

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 25—The national park service has finally approved establishment of a 5,000 acre recreation park in Somerset county, Pa., 60 miles from Pittsburgh, Rep. Snyder (D) of Pennsylvania announced today.

Purchase of the land is expected to be made in the near future, he said.

The survey of the land, which is on Laurel Hill creek, was made a year ago. It has been the subject of intense consideration since that time.

The park is designed to furnish recreational facilities, not only for the people of Pittsburgh, but for Johnstown and many other towns and cities in Pennsylvania.

World's First Brewery Sought

Believe That First Brewery Dates Back Possibly Some 6,000 Years

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 25.—Spurred by the uncovering of a flat seal in the ancient mound of Tepe Gawra in far-off Mesopotamia, archeologists today are reported to be hot on the trail of the world's first brewery, an establishment dating back possibly 6,000 years.

The seal, dug up by the University of Pennsylvania museum and American School of Oriental Research joint expedition, shows two men stirring the contents of a vat wtih long poles.

Flat Seals Used.

Charles Bache, expedition director, in a letter received at the University of Pennsylvania museum here, points out that "flat seals were used to identify property and carried the monograms of their owners. Thus, we may conclude in the present instance that, if individuals had property worth identifying, the Tepe Gawrans were not communistic, nor did all property belong to one ruling noble."

Near the hoary mound of Tepe Gawra lay the ruins of 20 "world's oldest" cities, piled one on the other, tracing the story of man back to Neolithic times.

"At Tepe Gawra every level, from the 12th which we have just excavated in part, down to level 20, which has been revealed to us only through a trial trench, shows this painted pottery to be a predominating feature," Bache stated in his report.

DR. IDA SHANNON IS WILLING TO ENDORSE HONEY CRUSHED BREAD

This Professional Woman, Woman Familiar With Corrective Diets, Does Not Hesitate to Recommend O. C. Orr's New Product As Constipation Relief.

Dr. Ida Shannon, Osteopath, personally investigated Orr's Honey Krushed Wheat Bread, found it filled with energy-giving ingredients, and writes as follows:

"My family and I have been eating your Honey Krushed Wheat Bread and I am glad to recommend it to my patients suffering from constipation, and others who have been forced to take laxatives and purges which many times are habit-forming. While I am reluctant to offer my endorsement to most products, I am glad to do so in your case."

Many leading doctors now prescribe Honey Krushed Wheat Bread to their patients because it contains the entire whole wheat kernel which gives the diet sufficient roughage to prevent constipation. And because it contains pure honey which doctors have found has a stimulating action upon the intestines.

Physicians throughout the country now prescribe Honey Krushed Wheat Bread in the treatment of Constipation because they have found that bran sometimes "packs up" in the intestines and causes serious harm whereas Honey Krushed Wheat Bread does not.

Make This Ten-Day Test

Try eating Honey Krushed Wheat Bread for just ten days. Before you know it the poisons that have accumulated in your intentines will vanish, you will feel like a new person and your elimination will be greatly improved. Then keep well by eating it every meal!

Be sure to get the Original Honey Krushed Wheat Bread which has a liberal extra coating of crushed wheat upon the outer crust and a red, purple and yellow band around the loaf.—Adv.

SISTERS ARE REUNITED AFTER 34 YEARS

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 25—Reunited for the first time after 34 years, two sisters have started a search for their father, last heard of in Canada.

Members of the family became separated at the death of the mother, Mrs. Minnie McFeely Baumgardner, in East Pittsburgh 34 years ago. The sisters were re-joined recently as Mrs. Jessie Hamilton, of nearby North Braddock, and Mrs. Sylvania Baumgardner McEneney, of Youngstown, O.

A brother resides at Turtle Creek, near here, but nothing has been heard of their father, William Baumgardner, who is believed working in Quebec, Canada.

Market Awaits Clarification Of European Situation Before Taking Action

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 25.—The stock market was quiet and steady today pending clarification of the foreign situation.

Utility shares held their own in the face of moderate profit taking which forced Consolidated Gas down a small fraction.

General Motors and Chrysler were steady in light trading, but Hudson lost more than a point on a fairly large turnover.

Industrial shares were dull. U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and other representative issues showed little change from Saturday's close.

Railroad shares were quiet and moderately steady as New York Central and several other of last week's favorites met with profit taking.

Liquors were quiet after last week's selling.

Aviation, specialties, building and food shares marked time.

German reverence for law and constituted authority is well exemplified by an old story of those last war days in 1918 when a crowd pushed towards the kaiser's palace just before his abdication and flight. It was a rioting mob in the making, mad with passion and anger—but the mob dared not walk on the grass lawn in front of the palace!

Beggar's Fortune Pawn In Court

(International News Service)

OBION, Tenn.—A beggar filed suit here to recover $14,000 he collected in alms. W. L. Brogden, crippled mendicant, banker his nickels and dimes under the name of C. S. Earp, of McConnell, Tenn., because, he said, someone was trying to take the money from him." Earp said the beggar gave him the money in return for a promise to take care of him for life.

"Brogden sneaked out of a window of my home several days after we made the bargain," Earp said, "and disappeared."

"I couldn't stand the food—what there was of it at Earp's house," the beggar declared.

Start Battle For Share Of Fortune

State Of Pennsylvania And Alleged Heirs From 21 Countries, Seek Part Of $16,000,000

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 25.—The long-delayed battle for the Garrett millions got underway today in orphans' court here.

Five thousand odd claimants, including the State of Pennsylvania and purported heirs from 21 countries, are seeking possession of the $17,000,000 fortune left by Mrs. Henrietta E. Garrett, widow of a Philadelphia snuff manufacturer.

Mrs. Garrett, who died in November, 1930, disposed of $62,000 in her will, but failed to carry out her husband's provisions in naming beneficiaries with respect to the balance.

Today's hearing concerned itself with interpretation of a clause placed by Walter Garrett in his will more than half a century ago. The real fireworks over claims will come later, possibly six months or a year from now.

Willed To Wife

Originally the proceedings today were to have dealt with an accounting, but that was postponed pending consideration of the clause. Garrett, who died in 1895, mentioned in his will:

"I give, devise and bequeath to my dear wife, Henrietta E. Garrett, her heirs, executors, administrators and assigns, all the rest, residue and remainder of my estate, real and personal whatsoever situate for her own absolute use and disposal.

"And not having been blessed with any children, I desire that at my death she shall make a will disposing of all her property so that she may know to whom it shall descend."

Momentous Conference On Peace Of Europe Taking Place In Berlin

MUSSOLINI'S ARMY CRITICAL PROBLEM

Hitler's Program Is Now Known To Sir John Simon—Is Extensive

LONDON, Mar. 25.—Behind closed doors two men talked today in Berlin and 400,000,000 Europeans waited tensely for results which may mean peace or war.

As foreign secretary, Sir John Simon of Britain came face to face with Hitler for the first time today. Europe agreed it was the most momentous meeting since the Germans put under the treaty of Versaillles the signature which they have now repudiated.

Grave Day

This was almost the only point on which Europe agreed on this "most grave day in history," as James Louis Garvin, editor of the London Sunday Observer, calls it.

Three little bright points appeared at the last minute on the gloomy horizon.

Hungary announced she did not at this moment intend to follow Germany's example and rearm openly, which would have meant war in the Balkans.

Rumania denied a report she was mobilizing.

Foreign minister Koki Hirota of Japan announced there were no negotiations for a Japanese-German alliance but that Germany had declared she would never demand return of her Pacific Island colonies, mandated to Japan.

On the other hand, dark clouds rolled upon Germany's north and southeastern borders. From Vienna, special envoy Franz von Papen hastened to Berlin and it is believed he

BEAVER COUNTY FUGITIVES CAPTURED IN YOUNGSTOWN

(International News Service)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Mar. 25.—Two prisoners who broke out of the county jail of Beaver county, Pennsylvania, were captured here today by police squads.

Shortly after word was flashed to the countryside the men had escaped by using a rope to scale the jail walls, the two convicts, Charles Unkovan, 24, and Joseph Skoski, 22, who were being held to start serving long terms for robbery with guns, appeared at a gasoline filling station. The attendant, who had been listening to police broadcasts on short wave radio, recognized them and hurriedly telephoned headquarters.

A police squad headed by Sergeant Edward Foley, rushed in pursuit. The convicts, riding in a stolen car, were curbed and surrendered without resistance.

Skoski, it was disclosed, had been

"Silver Bloc" Making Final Effort To Have Program Included In Bill

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Mar. 25.—The House "silver bloc" moved today to foil the "plot" of Senate leaders by seeking House acceptance of the Thomas silver "rider" to the $4,880,000,000 work-relief bill.

The Thomas amendment admittedly was accepted by senate leaders to break the jam and obtain passage of the work-relief bill. It was their plan to knock it out in conference with the house.

But house silverites were called into conference today with leaders proposing to stage a fight in the house for acceptance of the silver amendment.

This coup, if it succeeds would either force President Roosevelt to accept the silver proposals or again open up the work-relief fight in the senate.

Calls "Silver Bloc"

Rep. John A. Martin (D) of Colorado, as unofficial chairman called the house "silver bloc" into conference to make a final decision.

Meantime, Chairman Buchanan (D) of Texas of the appropriations committee, in charge of the bill, disclosed that he planned to promptly ask the house to send the measure to conference.

Unless a new filibuster develops or the silverites win, the gigantic appropriation measure designated to put 3,500,000 unemployed persons to work, may reach President Roosevelt's desk late this week.

The measure passed in the senate late Saturday and was sent to a

Governor's Family Moves Into Mansion

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 25.—Pennsylvania's first family today moved into the state's ancient brownstone executive mansion along the Susquehanna, again resplendent in $20,000 worth of new decorations, furnishings and repairs.

With Gov. George H. Earle in Washington, the moving operations were supervised by Mrs. Earle, her secretary and servants.

The mansion was a considerably brighter place as the belongings of the official family were unpacked. Workmen and interior decorators have spent the last two months refurnishing the old house. Dull draperies and decorations have been replaced by others of brighter hues under the direction of Mrs. Edgar Munson, of Muncy.

Records show the Earle's were the fifteenth executive family to reside in the mansion since it was turned over to Pennsylvania by the city of Harrisburg in 1864. Since acquiring the residence, the state has spent more than $200,000 for repairs and furnishings to meet the desires of the succeeding governors and their families. The high mark was in the administration of Governor Edwin E. Stuart when $48,000 was spent.

Seek To Avert New Coal Strike

New Contract Must Be Reached By April To Avert Walkout

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 25.—Facing a walkout of 300,000 soft coal miners unless a new contract is reached by April 1, negotiating committees of Appalachian bituminous operators and the United Mine Workers of America met again today in an effort to solve their problems.

John L. Lewis, militant leader of the miners' union, declared that unless a new contract is signed by midnight of March 31, not a miner would enter the soft coal shafts the next day. This is a policy long pursued by the union and will be adhered to this time, Lewis said.

The union is striving for a substantial increase in the wage scale, a 30-hour week and better working conditions. The operators want the existing contract to be renewed, contending they would be unable to operate the mines under the proposed contract.

As the deadline approaches there is a possibility the administration will take a hand in the matter. Leaders of both groups, however, declined to comment on this possibility.

Bill Passed By New York Legislature May Become Model For Other States

(International News Service)

ALBANY, N. Y., Mar. 25.—The McNaboe bill outlawing "heart balm" suits in New York state, passed by both houses of the legislature, may serve as a model for many other states throughout the nation.

Senator John J. McNaboe, author of the measure, revealed today that legislators from six other states have requested copies of the bill, indicating that they would sponsor similar measures.

The requests came from Connecticut, Missouri, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Texas and Idaho.

Senate May Expand Tobacco Tax Measure Into General Sales Tax

By ROBERT F. GORMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Mar. 25.—Its lines holding intact, the Democratic majority in the house today was prepared to send the remainder of Gov. George H. Earle's sweeping tax program, now totaling more than $214,000,000 to an uncertain fate in the Republican senate this week.

A dozen bills, rated at $71,175,000 for the biennium, were listed for final passage as special orders of business tonight and tomorrow. When passed finally, they will join measures aggregating almost $135,000,000 now held by the senate finance committee.

Bills designed to yield $35,300,000 by extending the gross receipts tax to manufacturers headed the $41,300,000 group for final passage tonight. Measures transferring collection of inheritance and mercantile taxes to the department of revenue and extending the gross receipts tax to mutual insurance and gas, water and steam companies rounded out the list.

Tomorrow's special final passage of calendar listed bills totaling $29,875,000, topped by the $20,000,000 six per cent tax on the net income of

Chamber Of Deputies Votes For Move By 453-125 Margin

(International News Service)

PARIS, Mar. 25.—America's and Japan's naval increases were brought into the arms picture along with Germany's conscription today as the chamber of deputies, turning to France's sea defense, voted a special billion-Franc increase in the marine appropraition by 453 to 125.

The program calls for a new treaty-limit first-line battleship of 35,000 tons to cost 785,000,000 Francs; two destroyers totaling 3,400 tons to cost 148,000,000 Francs, and 132,000,000 Francs to equip the new units.

The total outlay is to be 1,065,000,000 Francs, or about $70,290,000.

Emphasizing foreign naval construction, Pierre Appell put particular stress on Germany's acceleration of her new 10,000-ton "pocket battleship" construction program as he presented the supplementary naval estimates to the chamber.

Rotary Club Plays Host To Farm Group

New Castle's Rotary club today played host to a large group of Lawrence county farmers at its annual "Rural Day" program at The Castleton.

Here as chief speaker for the day was M. S. McDowell, State College, director of agriculture extension work in Pennsylvania. "Agricultural Trends" was his subject.

The Rotarians recently were banqueted by the farm group at Westfield grange and the noon treat of the Rotarians reciprocated for it.

City Officials To Decide Upon Paving

Council will meet with the city engineer informally in the near future in the hope of deciding what thoroughfares will be amiesited this spring. There are about 16 petitions before city officials in which property-owners want their thoroughfares improved. According to a report in city hall it may be impossible to do all of the work this spring and summer. The cost will be borne by assessment against abutting property-owners.

Girl Friends Of Desperadoes Are Sent To Prison

(International News Service)

MIAMI, Fla., Mar. 25.—The girl friends of Alvin Karpis and Harry Campbell, notorious fugitive desperadoes, learned today stern justice awaits those who associate with criminals.

Five year penitentiary sentences were pronounced on Dolores Delaney, 19, and Winona Burdette, 21, when the girls, arrested at Atlantic City when Karpis and Campbell shot their way through a police trap, pleaded guilty before Federal Judge Halsted Ritter to harboring the desperadoes.

Bobby Edwards Loses His Appeal

Court Decision Sustains Death Decree Of Luzerne County Jury

GOVERNOR ONLY CHANCE FOR YOUTH

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 25—Bobby Allan Edwards, 22, convicted "American tragedy" slayer of Miss Freda McKechnie, 27, must die in the electric chair, the state supreme court ruled today in affirming a Luzerne county jury's verdict.

The commonwealth's highest tribunal refused to grant the youthful defendant of Edwardsville, Pa., a new trial. Its decision makes it necessary for Edwards to die in the electric chair unless executive clemency is granted by Gov. George H. Earle.

The youth was convicted of killing his childhood sweetheart last July when the two kept a swimming "date" at Harvey's lake near Wilkes-Barre. The commonwealth contended Edwards beat Miss McKechnie, an expectant mother, to death so that he could marry the second girl in the love triangle—Miss Margaret Crain, 23, a music teacher of East Aurora, N. Y.

Edwards, one-time coal miner and later an engineer, admitted he had maintained an intimate friendship with the tragedy victim for some time prior to the killing.

Opinion Unanimous.

Pittsburgh, Mar. 25—Pennsylvania's supreme court today doomed Robert Allan Edwards, 22, Edwardsville mining engineer, to death in the electric chair for a crime of "a most

Underworld Is In Hiding, Plan To Kill Fails

State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney, Of Chicago, Fired Upon By Assassins

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Mar. 25.—"There's going to be 'heat,' and lots of it!"

But despite this statement by state's attorney Thomas J. Courtney following a daring attempt to assassinate him, no arrests had been made today.

Though Courtney intimated he knew the identity of the men who fired eight shots at him yesterday as he was being driven to his home, he refused to name the suspects.

It was hinted, however, that remnants of the Capone gang were responsible for the attempted assassination, a belief strengthened by Courtney's long crusade rackets controlled by Capone interests.

Meanwhile the Chicago underworld cowered in fear and scurried for hideouts as police plans for a gigantic criminal round-up.

CLAIRE BURMAN BORIN
NATHAN BORIN E. M. ASHER

Alleging that the affections of his wife were stolen, Nathan Borin, left, wealthy Chicagoan, has filed suit in Los Angeles for $500,000 against E. M. Asher, motion picture producer. Borin charges his wife has been with Asher at night clubs frequently since she went to Hollywood last December, and that Asher promised her a career if she would divorce Borin. The three principals are shown.

Some Projects Are Resumed

R. W. D. Workmen Take Up Jobs On Eight Projects Here

ABOUT 500 MEN ARE AFFECTED

Work on eight RWD projects in New Castle and outside resumed today when approximately 500 men went back to work. Among the projects resumed were Cascade street, Rural avenue, Balph avenue and the Harbor road.

For a number of reasons these projects are considered important. When Cascade street was abandoned it created a fire hazard in that equipment could not get in to the properties in case of fire. Rural avenue is still blocked to traffic from the North Hill, the Harbor road is a mud streak and make traffic impossible. Balph avenue is in similar condition.

Because of this, W. Leslie Wilson, acting RWD administrator, thought it best to resume work on these projects and get them finished as soon as possible.

With the passage of the immense relief bill in the senate it is thought that more RWD projects will open up in the near future.

DATES FOR TRYING COURT CASES FIXED

Judges R. L. Hildebrand and Jas. A. Chambers held a session of court this morning at which they went over the trial list with attorneys and fixed the time for hearing the different cases, during three terms of common pleas court, which will be held during the month of April. Court terms will begin on April 1st, 8th and 22nd.

SHOT FROM AMBUSH

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Mar. 25.—Shot from ambush as he emerged from an apartment house today, Robert P. Rinker, 34, of Chicago, slumped to the pavement fatally wounded with four slugs in his body.

The slayer escaped in the darkness after firing the fatal shots from behind a clump of bushes. Police sought a "blonde by the name of June," whom Rinker told friends he planned to visit.

Veteran Postman Will Be Retired

Today Starts Last Week For William C. Woods, East Side Carrier

A veteran New Castle letter carrier, William C. Woods, today commenced his final week of delivery rounds of a busy postman's career that began almost a half-century ago in Pittsburgh.

After his last trip over Route 3, his East Side residential route, next Saturday, Mr. Woods will report at the post office to hang up his mail sack for good.

SANTA MONICA, Cal., Mar. 25.—Just been reading Mr. Hoover's message to the underprivileged Republicans and I gather from reading between the lines that he wasn't just exactly 100 per cent sold on all that's going on. (Now mind you I may be wrong, that may have been just a wrong interpretation that I put on the message.)

But it did look like he was bringing out some stuff that the Democrat is a mighty honorable and respectable citizen. And his parable should be given mighty serious consideration, for he is about half right.

There is some schemes that haven't exactly percolated for the Democrats. Anyhow it's good to hear that we have again, after a relapse, returned to a party system.

French Naval Building Move Is Troublesome

Spectre Of Naval Building Race Seen As Conference Is Opened

Mussolini's Call For Increased Army Comes In For Early Attention

(International News Service)

"Explorations" into avenues of peace were begun by Great Britain and France in Berlin today.

Developments in leading capitals were:

Berlin—Conversations between Chancellor Hitler and British Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon described as "satisfactory" although new French naval building injected unexpected factor into discussions.

Paris—By an overwhelming vote, chamber of deputies passed special billion-franc appropriation to strengthen France's marine defenses.

Spectre Of Naval Building Race

BERLIN, Mar. 25.—The spectre of a European naval building race stalked today into the Reich chancellory where Adolf Hitler, Fuehrer of Germany, and Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon of Britain "explored" avenues of preserving peace in a heavily armed Europe.

Into the conference room where British and German statesmen were gathered for the most momentous discussions since the close of the World war, was brought word of the action of the French chamber of deputies in voting a special billion Franc appropriation to strengthen France's sea defenses.

The conversations in the chancellory were officially described to International News Service at the luncheon recess as "satisfactory", but it was indicated the information from Paris injected an unexpectedly lively factor into the discussions.

Mussolini's Action Cited

Luncheon originally was scheduled for 1 p. m., but just before that the wires brought word of France's new preparedness measure. As a result, the morning session lasted for an additional hour.

The early part of the day, it was learned, was spent in exchanging friendly views and expounding the respective positions of Britain and the Reich regarding dominant European problems.

During the early conversation Hitler was reported to have called Sir John's attention to Germany's highly-armed neighbors, justifying on these grounds the arms equality of the Reich as essential to national security.

One source declared Hitler particularly alluded to Premier Mussol-

The human breast is filled with hope, the poet tells us so, and that is why each year I try to get some grass to grow, beneath some spreading maple trees that shade the porch and lawn, but every fall it is the same, the grass is dead and gone. But every spring I try again with seeds of wondrous price, for one should try to have his yard look green and clean and nice. But it appears it will not grow, try though I may each spring, the weather's sixty-one which means again I'll try to wring some life from seeds that I have bought, to make a verdant lawn, where I can sit and rest my bones, ere summer will be gone.

CONFESSION SOLVES BOY'S DEATH

Convicted Man Adds New Crime

Albert H. Fish Admits He Took Life Of Gaffney Boy 6 Years Ago

CONFESSION GIVEN, POLICE ANNOUNCE

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 25.—Another major mystery in the annals of the police department was marked "solved" today.

Ever since he vanished from his Brooklyn home eight years ago, police hunted continuously for Billy Gaffney. Yesterday, however, Albert H. Fish, 65-year-old "monster man" who was convicted Friday night in White Plains of the "fiend murder" of 10-year-old Grace Budd, six years ago, confessed that the Gaffney boy also was a victim of his mad blood lust.

To Die In Chair.

In a four-page signed document, made public by his attorney, James Dempsey, the depraved old man revealed that he kidnaped the blond-haired tot from in front of his home, took him to a city dump and there committed unimagined horrors before slaying his victim. A search was under way for the boy's body today.

The written confession in many respects is a virtual parallel to his story of the manner in which he slew the Budd girl in an abandoned Westchester county cottage and then dismembered her body.

Meanwhile Fish was scheduled to be sentenced by Supreme Court Justice Frederick P. Close in White Plains to die in the electric chair for the murder of the Budd girl.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Mar. 25—Albert Fish, 65, convicted of the murder of 10-year old Grace Budd, was sentenced to death today by supreme court justice Frederick P. Glose.

The time of execution was set for the week of April 29.

came to tell Hitler the time is ripe to demand a plebiscite to give the Nazis there a chance.

Mussolini's Army Ready

Against such a demand Mussolini's army, a million strong, is flocking now to the colors and one of Simon's hardest tasks will be to find a way to keep the bayonets of Italy's dictator from clashing with those of Germany's.

At the same time, in a corner of Tiny Luthuania is a smouldering spark more immediately threatening to Europe's powder barrel than any other.

There the German majority in the town of Memel is clamoring for a return to Germany and at this very moment a verdict is expected from Kovno in the court-martial of 123 Nazis for a conspiracy to effect a "putsch" against Lithuanian rule.

The Lithuanian prosecutors asked death for five Germans accused of murdering a member of their secret society who had turned traitor. If the court decrees death or confirms any of the long-term prison sentences asked against prominent Nazis, public feeling in Germany will flame.

But Memel is Lithuania's only port and she declares she will fight to the last man of her two million population to hold it.

She has ordered arms from the Soviet union and just as Italy's army stands menacingly behind Austria, so the vast red army lies separated only by a narrow strip of Polish teritory from Lithuania which Moscow wants to support against its arch-enemy Berlin.

Memel itself is unimportant but Moscow is convinced if Germany gets Memel it means the first step to German domination of all the Baltic states, and this the soviet union would resist by force.

Hitler's Program

Against this explosive background Simon and Hitler are now "exploring" each other's minds. Simon knows that Hitler's maximum program is.

First, complete military equality. Having seized it, Germany will never abandon it.

Second, increase of her navy to possibly 400,000 tons, four times the present German navy, about one-third the British or approximately the same as the French.

This demand would be grounded on the necessity of protection against the soviet fleet, which however is only a fraction of the present German fleet.

Third, return of the former German colonies, the most important being Tanganyika, under British, and German southwest Africa, under union of South Africa mandate.

Fourth, return of German sovereignty over traffic on the rivers Oder, Weser and Rhine, which the treaty of Versailles put under international control.

Fifth, a plebiscite in Memel.

Sixth, a plebiscite in Austria.

It is quite certain Hitler won't make all these demands at once. It is Simon's job to find out which Hitler will ultimately insist upon as his pride for entry into a collective system of peace.

On the other hand, Hitler's job is to find out from Simon what is the minimum Britain must have to keep her from making an alliance with France.

WORK-RELIEF BILL TO REACH PRESIDENT BY END OF WEEK

house and senate conference to adjust controversial issues.

The Thomas silver "rider" requires coinage of silver bullion at $1.29 an ounce, reissuance of silver certificates, and makes discretionary use of silver in settling foreign trade balances and sale of gold and silver.

"This is the last chance for silver" said Martin. "If the house allows the silver amendment to be stricken out, silver is done for in this session.

"I propose that the house accept the silver amendment before the works bill goes to conference. If we don't do that, we may as well lay down and quite on silver in the house.

Says Amendment Conservative

"The Thomas amendment is conservative. It would put about $350,000,000 new currency into circulation. It is evident from the senate debate, that the leaders intended to strike the amendment out in conference.

Other senate amendments to the bill were said by House leaders to be generally satisfactory.

The Russell compromise amendment on prevailing wages, chairman Buchanan said, leaves the president free to put into effect the work-relief wage he had planned.

The allocations made by the senate, Buchanan asserted, were little different from what was originally proposed in the house. A senate amendment prohibiting use of the fund for expanding the national defense may be fought by the preparedness- minded house. Another amendment authorizing loans for purchase of farm lands and equipment by tenants was to be assailed.

Final passage of the bill this week is a necessity, with the law operating the CCC expiring March 31. The FERA and the PWA also are extended in the bill.

confined to the hospital. He eluded doctors and shortly after dusk met his pal. Both climbed the wall and intimidated a passing motorist to obtain an automobile. Their escape was not noticed until the nightly checkup of prisoners was made.

Both men were returned to the Beaver county jail this forenoon to await transfer to Western penitentiary.

BEAVER, Pa., Mar. 25—Charles Unkovcan, sentenced to serve from two and one-half to five years for burglary, and Joseph Skoski, given five to ten years for robbery, were returned to the county jail here today.

They escaped last night and were captured in Youngstown. They will not be sent to the Western penitentiary for some days, officials said.

Y. W. Business Women To Dine

Will Have Program Tuesday Evening As Part Of International Movement

MRS. METZLER WILL PRESIDE

As a part of the international program of the Y. W. C. A., a banquet will take place in the local institution's dining room, Tuesday evening at 6:30, under the auspices of the business and professional members of the Y. W. C. A.

Mrs. Charles T. Metzler, chairman of the business and professional group of the Y. W. C. A. will preside.

The program will include a piano solo by Miss Mesaldo Morganti; a presentation of the camp period this summer by Mrs. Robert Eckles, chairman of the camp committee for the business and professional group, and vocal solo by Miss Elizabeth Litier.

This will be followed by a series of negro spirituals, by a chorus from the Elm Street Y. W. C. A., which will pertain to the theme of the banquet, "New Frontiers." The chorus is directed by Mrs. Elizabeth Lash.

The first number, "Go Down Moses," will introduce Edward Reese of the State Employment office, who will speak on "Unemployment Frontiers."

The next number, "Walk Together Children," will introduce Miss Anna Taylor, who will speak on the subject, "Racial Frontiers." The number, "Ain't Gonna Study War No More," will introduce Mrs. William Cosel, who will speak on "International Frontiers." The program will be concluded with the singing of several more numbers by the chorus.

The business girl's club from the Butler Y. W. C. A. will be special guests on this occasion and reservations for the dinner must be received at the Y. W. C. A. this evening, Phone 6120.

VETERAN POSTMAN WILL BE RETIRED

about 46 years ago, only covers a period in excess of 30 years. For a part of the time he was not in the postal service.

On October 1, 1889 he was named substitute clerk at the Pittsburgh post office and on January 1, 1892 became a regular clerk. Resigning that position on March 31, 1900, he eventually came to New Castle and here on January 9, 1913 was appointed a substitute rural carrier. On July 1, 1914 he was named a regular rural carrier and served in that capacity until he was transferred to a city carrier's route on October 31, 1918.

In the Seventh ward district Mr. Woods is widely known for it was out of that ward's branch office that he served most of his time. He was transferred to the East Side route not so long ago.

Mr. Woods, the third veteran carrier to be retired by the post office here during the past year, resides at 111 East Clayton street.

The two other postmen who retired within the past year were George Swisher and Wylie Wallace.

In an unanimous opinion, the court upheld the conviction verdict of a lower court because "we find the evidence of the prisoner's guilt to be overwhelming." No date has been set for Bobby's execution and his only chance of escaping the electric chair is through the state pardon board or Gov. George H. Earle.

HOUSE PREPARES TO SEND SENATE LAST OF TAX BILLS

Courses Open To Senate.

Several courses were open to senate Republicans still holding the upper hand. They may summarily reject major features of the governor's program and expand the tobacco tax into a general sales tax, at the same time attempting to move a state income tax bill through the Democratic house to raise needed revenue. If both Democrats and Republicans refuse to give ground, a deadlock will result.

Still remaining to be acted upon in the house were the $1,500,000 gift tax, the $3,000,000 mileage tax on foreign trucks operating in Pennsylvania and the $4,000,000 severance tax on natural resources. The gift tax was expected to be reported from committee promptly; action on the truck tax was debatable because of the fear it may involve Pennsylvania in a "war" with neighboring states while the severance tax was considered dead.

In present form, the administration tax program, including an $11,000,000 "working margin" over the $203,000,000 requested by the governor. This will permit dropping the severance tax and making other minor amendments.

With final enactment of the tax bills in the house, the senate was expected to begin work in earnest on the revenue program. Sen. John J. McClure, chairman of the finance committee, has indicted he will follow house procedure and grant hearing on controversial measures. The first, on the $40,000,000 gasoline tax boost, was listed for today.

Some May Pass.

Some legislative observers foresaw passage in the senate of a number of the governor's bills, but there was considerable doubt as to whether the entire program can be pushed thru the upper house. The gasoline tax bill and the measures levying new taxes on business and industry were expected to be fought even more bitterly than they were in the house.

While the house busied itself with tax measures, the senate was to act finally on the Howell-Woodward bill preventing "party raiding" by candidates for public office. Amended to exclude judges, the bill was up several times for final passage which had been postponed to permit a clarification of sentiment on the amendment.

Hearings were listed in the senate this week for measures designed to prevent stream pollution and on the amended Reed bill granting blind persons $50 monthly pensions.

In the house hearings were scheduled for the administration workmen's compensation and state income tax bills, the bill prohibiting industrial homework and the Moomaw bill designed to reduce the number of tax collectors in the state from more than 2500 to 113 and establish a centralized tax collection system.

FRENCH NAVAL BUILDING MOVE IS TROUBLESOME

ini's week-end call for increased conscription and branded as "ironic" France's action in citing Germany before the League of Nations on charges of violating the Versailles treaty.

German quarters indicated the conference in the main today would be confined to topics of an "exploratory and conversational nature aimed to clarify mutual standpoints."

British circles were inclined to be guardedly optimistic but refused to commit themselves.

The discussions were resumed at 4 p. m. after a lengthy luncheon.

Soviet "Menace"

Berlin, Mar. 25.—The Soviet Russian "menace" to Germany and the threat of a new naval building race in Europe today dominated a four-hour conference between Chancellor Adolf Hitler and Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon of Britain.

Hitler, it was learned, virtually monopolized the conversation, while Sir John merely injected an occasional question or explanation. The German standpoint on all questions regarding rearmament and equality was exhaustively portrayed.

The proposed eastern Locarno pact was the great issue against which Hitler unloosed his verbal barrage, and he insisted that German's preparedness was to defend herself against the possibility of a Red invasion.

Forty thousand women and girls were "reported missing" in England in the last year.

Pallbearers were F. Wilkes, E. Allen, J. Brown, O. Burnett, D. Jasper and H. Carter, Sr. Interment was made in Greenwood cemetery.

Evans Funeral

Funeral services for little Anna Marlene Evans were conducted from the family home on East Madison avenue on Sunday afternoon with Rev. Mont Boyd, pastor of the Christian and Missionary Alliance church of Marion Hill, near New Brighton, in charge.

During the services Mrs. Fred Whittles and Mrs. Hormiltoy sang, "Safe in The Arms of Jesus," and "God's Way is the Best Way."

Interment was made in Valley View cemetery.

Charles Wilson Funeral

Funeral services for Charles Wilson, of South Beaver township, Beaver county, were conducted at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon and were attended by a large crowd of friends.

Rev. F. B. Gilchrist, pastor of the United Brethren church of Beaver Falls was in charge, assisted by Rev. R. H. Henry, of the Darlington Presbyterian church, and Rev. D. R. Campbell, of the United Presbyterian church of Darlington.

Pallbearers were Dr. John M. Davis, Carl Craft, William and Charles Jackson, Carl and Edward Gregg. Interment was made in Seceder cemetery, near Darlington.

Mrs. Margaret Clark

Mrs. Margaret Peebles Clark of The Castleton hotel died in the Jameson Memorial hospital last evening.

Mrs. Clark was born in this city, the daughter of John and Isabel Peebles, and was the last member of her family, one of the oldest families of New Castle. She was the widow of Gilbert M. Clark.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday at the Offutt funeral home, and interment will be made in Oak Park cemetery. The Rev. Philip C. Pearson, rector of the Trinity Episcopal church, will be in charge.

Funeral of Mrs. Lago

Funeral services of Mrs. Anna Lago of Bessemer were conducted at two o'clock Sunday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Samuel Rhuele, in Bessemer, with Rev. W. J. Engles of the Bessemer Presbyterian church in charge.

Two beautiful selections, "End of the Long Road" and "There Is No Night There", were rendered during the services by Mrs. Hayes, Lester Nord and Mrs. Griffiths, with Mae Beal accompanying at the piano. A large crowd of friends were present for the rites.

Pallbearers were John Nelson, Gerald Carlon, J. L. Carlon, Eric Nelson, Charles O. Nord and Michael Nord. Interment was made in Forest Lawn cemetery, Youngtown, O.

Mrs. Casper Baker

Mrs. Eliza Wallace Hill Baker, wife of Casper Baker of Unionville, O., died on Saturday.

She leaves her husband, four sons: John H., Wallace, Elmer and Clyde Baker, and two daughters, Cora and Loella, of Pittsburgh.

Funeral services were conducted Monday at two p. m. from the Behm funeral parlors. Interment will be made in Fairview cemetery, Madison, O.

Mrs. John H. Magee.

Mrs. John H. Magee, well known resident of Perry township, died at the age of 81 years, Sunday morning, at her home, near Portersville. Her death came after a lingering illness with heart complications and followed a paralytic stroke.

She was a member of the Portersville Presbyterian church; she was loved and highly respected by all who knew her.

She leaves her husband and the following sons and daughters, George H. Magee and Allen Magee, at home, in Perry township, Dr. Thomas B. Magee, of Ellwood City, Mrs. James M. Blackwood, of New Castle, and Mrs. Helen M. Wilson, of Ellwood City; twenty-four grandchildren, and five great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Moundville United Presbyterian church, with Rev. George Cheeseman, pastor of the Portersville Presbyterian church, in charge. Burial will be made in the Moundville church cemetery.

Shirley Isabel Gibson.

Shirley Isabel Gibson, aged 8 years, daughter of Mrs. Rebecca Gibson of 135 South Mercer street, New Wilmington, died in the Jameson Memorial hospital at 10:20 p. m. Sunday one week after undergoing an operation for appendicitis.

Shirley was born in Lawrence county on December 30, 1926. She attended the United Presbyterian Sunday school at New Wilmington and was loved by all who knew her.

She leaves her mother and the following brothers and one sister: Herbert B., Virgil, Stewart, Lester and Bessie, all at home, and Arthur and Charles of New Castle R. D. 5. Her father preceded her in death on January 5, 1932.

Funeral services will be conducted from the residence at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and interment will be made in Lebanon cemetery, Mercer county.

Charles McClung.

Lawrence county is mourning today the death of one of its best known and highly respected residents, Charles McClung, of Pulaski, R. D. 1, a descendant of one of this region's first families.

Mr. McClung died very suddenly at 7 o'clock this morning. His death most unexpectedly to his family and friends because he had been in fairly good health and had been getting around as usual yesterday. On February 12 of this year Mr. McClung celebrated his 83rd birthday anniversary.

Mr. McClung was born in Pulaski township, near Frizzleburg, and had passed his entire lifetime on the same farm. He was preceded in death a number of years ago by his wife, Mrs. Hettie Cover McClung.

One son, Louis McClung, who is city treasurer of New Castle, and one daughter, Mrs. Ethel Kegarise, of Pulaski township, survive.

Funeral services will be conducted at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in charge of Dr. C. B. Wingerd, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, of New Castle. Interment will be made in Evergreen cemetery.

Miss Martha Leamon Berry.

Miss Martha Leamon Berry, aged 81 years, died at her home, 203 Park avenue, at 6 o'clock Sunday evening of pneumonia. She had been in failing health for the past two years.

Miss Berry was born in Washington county, Pa., on June 28, 1853, the daughter of William and Martha J. Cockins Berry. For the past 40 years she had resided in New Castle and was an active member of the Highland U. P. church. She was a charter member of the Woman's Missionary society and a member of Mrs. Mary A. Balph's Sunday school class of that church.

She leaves one brother, J. G. Berry of Boise, Idaho, and three sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Welch of Wilkinsburg, Mrs. Ida Vannatta of Mercer county and Mrs. Mary B. McCalmont of Oklahoma City, Okla. J. Glenn Berry of New Castle is a nephew.

The body has been taken to the Boyd funeral home and funeral services will be conducted there at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday in charge of Dr. D. L. Ferguson, pastor of the Highland U. P. church Interment will be made in Oak Park cemetery.

Michael Platko.

Michael Platko, aged 60 years, died at his home on Hanna street, South New Castle borough, on Sunday at 8 a. m. after an extended illness.

He was born in Czechoslovakia, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Platko. He was a member of the St. Nicholas Greek Catholic church of this city. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Mary Platko; one son, Michael; four daughters, Mrs. Mary Zuzow, Mrs. Anna Pastirak, Mrs. Elizabeth Dominski, all of New Castle, and Mrs. Suzanna Estok of Bridgeport, Conn., and 24 grandchildren.

Funeral services will take place at 9 a. m. Tuesday from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Mary Zuzow, Hanna street, South New Castle borough, and interment will be made in St. Nicholas cemetery. Rev. Joseph J. Milly, pastor of the St. Nicholas Greek Catholic church, will be in charge of the services.

GRASS FIRES ARE CAUSE OF ALARMS

Firemen answered two alarms since Saturday noon, occasioned by burning grass and brush.

At 8:15 Saturday evening, a call was received that there was a fire on Greenwood avenue, which proved to be burning grass in Greenwood cemetery. Sixth ward and B. truck companies answered the alarm.

A telephone call was received at Central station at 11:15 this morning that there was dense smoke coming from the rear of 516 Hillcrest avenue. Chief Stockman went to the scene and found people in the vicinity burning brush and grass.

Competent Service Is Needed For A Funeral
No Charge For Consultation
Anyone desiring information about funeral service is invited to call. We will be glad to explain anything you wish to know. Our booklet, "Facts About Funerals," is mailed upon request.
A funeral service is a memory investment. If properly planned and conducted, it will result in a cherished memory. . . . But since a funeral cannot be rehearsed nor repeated, only competent service should be depended upon.
Modern facilities and equipment, including our Funeral Home are an aid to Book-Leyde Funeral Service. . . . But they are, after all, the part which money could purchase. . . . The knowledge, experience and personal service offered by the head of this organization is your assurance of competent funeral service.

ADVERSE-I-TEA IS PLANNED BY P. E. O.

Covers were laid for 20 guests at several prettily adorned tables for dinner Saturday evening, in the home of Miss Olivia Griffith, on West Washington street, for the regular assembly of the P. E. O. Sisterhood. One guest was among the number, Mrs. George Smith of Springfield, Ill., who has recently moved to the city. Mrs. Smith is a member of the P. E. O. organization at Springfield. The dinner committee consisted of Miss Iretta Dart, Miss Maude Young and Mrs. Earl Dart.

The program following was of much interest as plans were furthered for a social affair to be held April 12, in the First U. P. church on Clenmore boulevard. It will be called an "Adverse-i-tea," suggestive of the evening's program as Mrs. Carrie Jeffrey Roberts will give a book review of Anthony Adverse, the much discussed book, as the feature of the evening's entertainment. The affair will be open to the public, a silver offering to be lifted which will be directed towards the charitable work done by the P. E. O's. Miss Alice Sterling is general chairman being assisted by capable committees in completing arrangements.

After the business session, Mrs. William Mayberry gave a splendid talk on "Cotty Cottage," the institution at Nevada, Mo., which is owned by the P. E. O. Sisterhood.

TENTH BIRTHDAY IS CELEBRATED

In honor of the tenth birthday of her son Gayle, Mrs. William G. Patton of 907 Loraine avenue entertained a number of young friends at a party Saturday afternoon.

The hours were enlivened with musical numbers by Peggy Kennedy, Patsy Ann McClurg, Betty Bigley, Edna Vogan, Anna Earhart and Mary Elizabeth Gettings. Several readings were given by Maxine Bigley. A delightful luncheon was served by Mrs. Patton, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Pearl Yard, Mrs. R. H. English, Mary Ellen Gettings, Maxine Bigley and Patsy McClurg.

In remembrance of the day, the young host received a number of handsome gifts.

At Cleveland Concert.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Platt Meehan and Mr. and Mrs. D. Duff Scott were in Cleveland Saturday to attend the concert presented by the Cleveland orchestra of which Arthur Rodzinski is conductor.

F. H. And C. Club

Associates of the F. H. and C. Luncheon Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Mary Shaner, 317 Sycamore street, Wednesday for an all day quilting. The event was previously planned to take place in the home of Mrs. Helen Ray of Hillcrest avenue. The women will be met at Long avenue with the cars.

CASTLETON SCENE OF INITIATION BREAKFAST

A breakfast of pretty appointments in the private diningroom of The Castleton Sunday morning, March 24, interested members of the Junior Business and Professional Women's club, over which Miss Lucille Emery, president, presided.

At 9 o'clock, twenty-three were served at tables arranged with bouquets of jonquils and other spring flowers. Following, Miss Emery conducted the impressive initiation ceremonies, assisted by Miss Grace Sankey. Those who received the pledge, included Lucille Haben, Mary Whalen, Lucille Usselton, Helen Brown, Dorothy Boyles, Amelda Ruby, Jean Glenn, Mary Goehring, Matilda Chapman and Claudia Bowman.

Afterwards, the girls attended the Sunday services held at the First Methodist church.

TO ATTEND DINNER FOR NOTED WRITER

Mrs. S. D. Pearson, of Moody avenue, will be among a number of dinner guests Tuesday evening, at the home of Mrs. John M. Phillips, on Brownless road, Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Phillips, state president of Federation of Pennsylvania Women, is entertaining for Mrs. Anna Steese Richardson, internationally known lecturer, and a member of the editorial staff of the Woman's Home Companion. Mrs. Richardson is speaking in the William Penn hotel, Pittsburgh, Tuesday noon, at a luncheon meeting given in her honor by the League of American Pen Women and the Advertising club.

The dinner event in the evening is a federation courtesy to this noted writer and Mrs. Pearson will greet Mrs. Richardson as a director of the southwestern district of the state organization, and state chairman of conservation and gardens.

Birthday Party

William McChesney was pleasantly surprised Saturday evening when members of the Fife and Drum Corps of the Sons of Veterans and their wives, invaded his home on Atlantic avenue to share in celebrating his birthday anniversary.

Bingo, games, and music whiled away the hours in a delightful manner, and following, lunch was served to eighteen by the ladies in charge. Those who contributed to the musical program, included Harvey Brest, Ben Kennedy and Roy Kirkwood.

Many handsome gifts were received by the honored one.

Bestyette Bridge

Members of the Bestyette Bridge Club will be entertained by Miss Dorothy Boyles, at a local tavern on Tuesday instead of Thursday as planned.

LEWIS PITTLER AND YOUNGSTOWN GIRL WED

Of interest locally, is the wedding of Miss Sally Freed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Freed, Bryson avenue, Youngstown, Ohio, and Lewis Pittler, son of Mrs. C. Pittler, Reynolds street, New Castle, which took place March 24, at 5 o'clock in the former's home, in the presence of relatives and friends numbering approximately seventy-five.

Rabbi Kollin of the Anshe Enth Temple in Youngstown, officiated, and supplementing the ceremony, a wedding supper was served at tables beautifully decorated in nuptial suggestions. During the evening an informal reception was held, at the bride's home.

Mr. and Mrs. Pittler later left on an Eastern motor trip, and upon their return, will take up residence in Warren, Ohio, where he is affiliated with the Warren Automotive Service Company.

VETS AUXILIARY PLANS ACTIVITIES

Plans were outlined for many activities which will be carried out by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, at their recent meeting.

Mrs. Ruth Conner, president of the Auxiliary presided, and reports were received from the recent card party, of which Mrs. Flossie Potter was chairlady.

Mrs. Reba LaRue was named chairlady for the joint Mother's Day banquet, and will be assisted by Mrs. Georgette Wimer, Lillian Falls and Elsie Lach.

Mrs. Mary Cox was named chairlady for Poppy Day, when the Auxiliary will assist the post in the conduct of this evening.

Patriotic Instructor Mary Cox gave an outline of the historical events celebrated during March. The members were asked to get in touch with President Ruth Conner to receive their Americanization buttons, the proceeds from the sale of which will be used to combat communism.

A card party was planned for a later date at the home of Mrs. Louise Evans, the proceeds from which will be devoted to the construction of a recreation hall at the Widows and Orphans Home at Eaton Rapids, Mich. Plans were also made for a card party at the Legion Home on April 10. Mrs. Reba LaRue will be general chairlady.

Special guests of the evening were Mrs. Gertrude Smith, of Butler, Department District Deputy: and Mrs. Loretta Carney, of Butler, Tri-county Council Americanization chairlady, both of whom gave interesting talks.

The Auxiliary is making plans for an Americanization program to be presented in the Legion Home, April 24, the details for which will be announced later.

Lunch was served at the close of the evening, by the committee consisting of Mrs. Elsie Lach, Louise Evans and Georgette Wimer.

B. P. W. CLUB HAVING ANNUAL STLYE SHOW

Thursday of this week will bring the annual card party and style review sponsored by the New Castle Business and Professional Women's club and presented in the Strouss-Hirshberg store.

Always one of the spring's largest affairs, this year's event promises to be even greater than ever before. The style show will open at 8 p. m. and all the latest spring creations will be exhibited. Card playing will follow.

International Relations

International Relations committee of the Woman's Club will meet at the home of Mrs. M. Schoenberger, 408 East Moody avenue, Tuesday afternoon, at 2.

NEW FAMILIES MOVE TO CITY

Come April first and the proverbial moving day, New Castle will welcome many new residents from out of town this spring.

Among the number are Rev. and Mrs. John McIlvaine, new pastor of the First Presbyterian church, who will move here within the near future from Indiana, Pa., and will occupy the former Roy Bradford home, on Leasure avenue. While Dr. McIlvaine will not occupy the pulpit at the First church, until April 14, he will locate in New Castle about the first of the month.

Other new residents who have recently moved to town include Mr. and Mrs. George B. Smith and family, who have come from Springfield, Ill., and are living in the Fred Butz home on Sumner avenue. Also from Springfield, Ill., have arrived Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCoy who are residing in the 200 block on Sumner avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Piper and family have moved into a residence at 1059 Beckford street.

For Mrs. Coulter

Honoring Mrs. A. B. Coulter, of 917 Harrison street, a surprise birthday was given at her home Saturday evening by her brothers and her sister, who came from Wilkinsburg, Oil City and Butler for the occasion.

The group arrived at an appointed time and brought with them a delicious prepared chicken dinner and a large birthday cake. The group sat down to a merry repast at 6 o'clock, and the later hours were spent informally, with music being furnished by a seven-piece orchestra compared of youthful members of the families.

Among those present from out-of-town were H. Floyd Ramsey and family, Wilkinsburg, N. Leroy Ramsey and family, of Oil City, George Stoughton and family, of Butler, and James Ramsey, of Butler, who will remain for a few weeks with his daughter, Mrs. Coulter.

Three Anniversaries

A party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Kulkin, West Long avenue, on Saturday afternoon, celebrated a triple anniversary. It was the occasion of little Donald Sanford Kulkin's third birthday anniversary, his mother's birthday and the fourth anniversary of his parents' marriage.

Thirteen young friends and their mothers were invited to the party and the hours from 2 to 5 o'clock proved most delightful for all.

The youngsters played games in the nursery and prizes were awarded to Sylvia Moresky, Lois Pitnoff, Alvin Kulkin, Nolan Cobb and Jay Prubulsky.

Later the guests were seated at the dining room table where a large birthday cake was arranged in the middle and a delicious repast was served. The little honored guest received a number of lovely gifts.

Bridgettes Club

Thursday, April 4, the Bridgettes Club members will assemble in the home of Mrs. Richard Nesbitt, East Washington street, for a social time.

Their last gathering occurred on March 21 in the home of Edna Zassarena, North Ray street, when she entertained at a novel "kid party" Kid games replaced the usual bridge feature, and prizes were awarded to Blanche Claypool and Ruby Neme.

Miss Helen Neme was a special guest of the occasion.

After the program, the guests were served a delicious spaghetti supper with all the side delectables that completes such a feast. Radio music and other pastimes concluded the evening.

Farewell Party.

Members of the Neisbro club honored Joseph Friendman of 221 Northview avenue at a farewell party held in Neisner's store Saturday evening.

Mr. Friedman, who has been at the head of the shoe department here for some time, assumed his duties as manager of a Sharon store this morning. He received a valuable gift, presented by Miss Ravina Simon, president of the club. Mr. Friedman responded with a few words. Louis Weinstein, manager of the store, and Harry Weinberg, who succeeds Friedman, also spoke.

BIRTHDAY PARTY AT B. F. JOHNSTON HOME

Mr. and Mrs. B. French Johnston of Hillcrest avenue entertained a gathering of 17 youngsters in their home Saturday afternoon in honor of their little daughter Mary Ann Johnston, whose birthday fell Sunday, March 24.

The occasion proved a most enjoyable one and games of a wide variety interested the young folks, as did the toys scattered about.

At the appointed hour, the hosts served a delicious and attractive lunch, Mrs. Paul D. Weller assisting. The table was beautifully appointed in tones of green and white, and the center was graced with a large birthday cake topped with tiny candles.

A collection of pretty gifts was received by the honored guest in remembrance of a lovely party.

Depression Party

Mrs. Robert Welsh entertained 35 girls and boys in her home at 109 South Ray street on the evening of March 22. The occasion marked the birthday of her son Grover, and the young people spent the evening with games and music. Prizes were won by Wayne McEwen, Marcella Ely, Charles Byler, the favors being given for the best costumes depicting the times.

Ruth McEwan won a prize for being the poorest dressed. Lunch of a depression nature was served by Mrs. Welsh, assisted by Dorothy Montgomery. Lunch consisted of cake, cheese and jelly beans. The guest of honor received many presents, just what the boys and girls had lying around.

Kumfy Klub

Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Rudolph extended the hospitality of their home on Croton avenue, recently, to associates in the Kumfy Klub. The usual round of cards was of interest with Mrs. Carl McCreary winning the favor. A delicious repast was served.

On April 5, Mr. and Mrs. A. Tunison, of Croton avenue, will be hosts.

FAITH
Jokers in Some of Our State Laws

Anyone living in another state able to drive a car can drive all through Pennsylvania and never any questions asked. If the same party moves into our state and spends his money here or becomes a tax payer he is not allowed to drive a car until he answers a lot of questions that not one out of every fifty Pennsylvania drivers would be able to answer today.

ANOTHER ONE. The state compels the owner of every automobile to have his car inspected twice a year regardless of age and condition of same. The same state sells this driver who has passed this examination and has had his car inspected, liquors which if the driver drinks, as he often times does, he is not safe to drive his own car he has had inspected and holds a driver's card for but is also a detriment to the law-abiding drivers.

MARS CHORTLES

WORLD events of the last few days have brought the cause of international peace close to collapse and all of the results of the numerous endeavors in Washington, London, Paris and Geneva have been reduced to nothing.

Through his exalteration of the martial spirit, Chancelior Hitler has caused the war drums to roll, the sabers to rattle, hob-nailed shoes to echo through the streets and war planes to drone with growing volume in the air.

"Cannon are more beautiful than words," said Mussolini, who predicted eight years ago that 1935 would be the crucial year in Europe. The grim sentiment expressed at that time has been echoed in practical form by Germany and Japan, Poland and Jugoslavia.

In France and England, where there has been a sincere desire for peace on the part of the mass of the people, the apparent triumph of the militaristic urge must necessarily alter the trend toward peaceful objectives.

In the long run, Germany will not gain substantially by her defiance of her old enemies and her violation of the restrictions of the Treaty of Versailles. France and Britain and the nations that have most to fear from the possibility of German aggressions, will continue to maintain their present superiority in most lines of defense by materially enlarging existing naval and military forces.

Such a situation will naturally aggravate international relations on the continent and will contribute to the development of one of those crises from which the sparks of war fly upward.

NO HATRED

If a world war which extinguished ten million lives, reduced cities and towns to dust, laid waste miles of territory in many lands and produced a heritage of misery for generations yet unborn, can be viewed as having any redeeming feature, the absence of a spirit of hatred in the hearts of the combatants may be given this characterization.

There were many evidences during the war and there have been many others in the years of peace to prove that the fighting men were not permanently embittered against their opponents. For the most part they took a detached attitude toward their grim purpose, carrying out their deadly duty, killing and maiming, but not hating.

First Sergeant John W. Robson, now with the Fourth Infantry at Fort Missoula, Mont., and Franz Ackfel, a former German soldier, can testify to the absence of hard feelings. When Ackfel was taken prisoner in the San Mihiel drive, his watch was appropriated by an American soldier as a souvenir of a memorable occasion.

The soldier, as an expression of affection for his top-sergeant, probably without parallel in the whole A. E. F., gave the watch to Robson, who has sent it, through the medium of the American Red Cross, back to its original owner, Ackfel, who is now the keeper of a lighthouse in the Baltic Sea.

This incident is important only because it is significant of the relations now existing between old foes. It is this feeling that serves as the most substantial basis for lasting peace in a world of bungling statesmen.

"CANNED" LETTERS

This pother in the senate about the propaganda of the utility holding companies has its amusing side. The senators are fairly swamped by mail asking them not to vote for the administration bill, which would, with some exceptions, wipe these concerns out at the end of five years. So they quickly pass a resolution to have the federal trade commission investigate the methods of this propaganda and its cost.

There is no doubt, of course, that most of these are "canned" letters, that is to say communications directly inspired by some of the holding companies through orders to employees and solicitation to outsiders. Is there anything new about that? When national lawmakers are bombarded by communications from organized groups, however, they do not protest. These letters represent votes. If the holding companies now under the displeasure of President Roosevelt represented as many, would the senate have done what it did?

If the holding companies cannot make out a good case on its merits, all this propaganda falls of its own weight. But is it anything for the senate to get angry or self-righteous about?

There is always a La Follette to out-La Follette the Huey Longs.

A Springfield, Mo., co-ed has made application to spring the trap at a hanging. Sweet young thing.

Hollywood concedes that Dickens has possibilities. Apparently, then, the old master has arrived after 123 years.

A New York husband contends in court that he married to gain $10,000 and then failed to collect, which seems fair enough.

La Follette now wants to make it ten billion, saying five billion is not enough. But, Bobby, if the amount had been set at ten billion in the first place would that be enough or would it then require twenty billion?

TRAITS OF THE RACE

A Jew visited a village in Scotland, noticed there was only one church here, and was informed that all sects worshiped in it.

"How do you manage?" he asked.

"Oh," replied a villager, "the Catholics hold their service at 9 o'clock, the Presbyterians at 10 o'clock, the Methodists at 11 o'clock, and the Baptists at 12 o'clock."

"And what about the Jews?"

"They hold the mortgage."

WHIZ!

"What I say to my wife goes."

"You don't say."

"Yes—it goes all over the neighborhood."

EVERYTHING GETS AROUND

Everything gets around.
Sooner or later it does.
Everything circulates.

Even matter gets around. . . . A seed falls and germinates. It pushes its way through the dark earth, reaches the sunlight, grows toward the sky. It becomes a great tree and lives for a thousand years, dies and rots and nourishes the rich earth and is food for other seeds.

Water gets around. . . . It falls on the hills and flows to the valleys. It rushes to the sea and joins the great currents there. It rises toward the sun, congregates in clouds, falls again to the thirsty earth.

Ideas get around. . . . The thoughts that men have live undiminished and unscarred through the tumultous centuries. Rejected by the ignorant, embraced by the wise, they survive. . . . The thoughts men had in India 5,000 years ago fell into books and went across the sea to New England and into the brain of a Yankee named Thoreau. He wrote an essay on "Civil Disobedience" Half a century later a little brown Hindu read that essay in South Africa, took that idea back with him to India and proposed "Civil Disobedience" to the restless masses of his native land. . . . That idea got around.

Truth gets around. . . . Lies get around. . . . Gossip gets around. . . . Fear gets around. . . . Everything, today or tomorrow, this year or next, gets around. It creeps, it tunnels, it walks, it runs, it flies, it filters—and it gets around.

What you are truly like—gets around. People find out and they tell—with a wink, with a growl, with a lift of the eyebrows, with silence, with the eagerly spoken word. If you are a fine fellow or a hypocrite, a racketeer or a square shooter, the news gets around. People will know, because—as the wind moves and the water flows and thoughts fly from man to man — Everything Gets Around.

ACT YOUR AGE

The kittenish middle-aged woman is decidedly amusing, but not in the way she intends.

Her facial contortions are ridiculous: her attempts at "making eyes" are ludicrous: her efforts to be coy create laughter.

Her efforts to be vivacious are foolish.

Her attempt to appear demure brings only ridicule.

Her semblance of great interest in what a male companion is saying denotes poor acting.

Even her sympathy extended when a person has informed her of their afflictions has not a true ring.

Ever watch her try to put her feet in a graceful pose?

She thinks they are attractive and wants them to be noticed.

When she pouts, she is a scream.

When she tries to be profound, she appears to be even more shallow.

Why don't the "old gals" have better sense?

They might be attractive and create favorable impressions if they would be natural and do what is expected of women of their age.

If you are one of these kittenish women, take your own measure with these comments in mind, before you hear what others are saying of you.

BICKERING

I can stand rooms in disarray
But not ill temper's harsh display.

I can stand hallways, blocked with toys
And childhood's oft-repeated noise.

I can stand carpets tracked with mud
But petty quarrels, chill my blood.

I can untroubled wreckage see.
But from an angry word I flee.

Rather than orderly and neat
I'd keep the home a refuge sweet.

Where happily the children play,
Are glad to be, and glad to stay;

A place whate'er the days may bring
That's never marred by bickering.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

CAPACITY

A Marine pensioner reported sick one morning at the Navy Hospital and complained of indigestion.

The Medico asked him several questions about his diet one of them being "How much beer do you drink a day?"

The pensioner replied, 'Six to eight pints if I can get it."

"Gracious!" said the Doctor, "enough to have a bath in."

"Enough to have a bath in, sir!" replied the old warrior. "Why, when I was soldering, it wouldn't be enough to wet a good soldier's mustache!"

The old Marines did not shave their upper lips.

Correctly Speaking—

A passage more than 300 words long, even if it constitutes a single unit of the composition, should usually not be written as a single paragraph, but should be divided into two or three paragraphs of convenient length.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 6:16. Sun rises tomorrow 5:55.

We notice that city schools do not have much trouble any more with truancy. We're glad of that. In our younger days we played "hookey" so much our teacher was always delighted when occasionally we turned up in school. We thought we were fooling our-teacher then, but we weren't. She boarded around and grew fat, while we played "hookey", grew up lank and lean, and so full of ignorance that our skull became lopsided and we couldn't get a hat to fit. We wouldn't mention our defects in public only as a terrible example of what a boy comes to when he plays "hookey".

One ordinary man plus a private broadcasting station equals a great political power.

The world learned to read and outgrew oratory. Then along came the radio, and we call it progress.

When you see a man and his wife fighting it's a pretty good idea to let them have it out. We make this observation after reading of a Wheeling, W. Va., man who tried to intervene between husband and wife. They quit fighting and both went after the peacemaker with knives, inflicting serious injuries. Married folks just don't want anybody to come between them when they're out for blood.

A free country is one where you can go into court and stop almost anything except crime.

And now the Department of Agriculture is going to let farmers plant all the wheat they want to. The department has finally learned what most any schoolboy ought to have known from the start, that a reduction of the crop here gives Canada and other countries a chance to cop the American markets. Now if they'll only take the processing tax off hogs we may afford a slice of bacon for breakfast.

It is said that a woman has thrown her hat into the ring in the race for mayor of Chicago. Well, if her hat is anything like some worn in New Castle, it's going to take a microscope to see it.

Alas! when he outgrows humility, he also outgrows the ability to learn.

Hotels can recognize a bachelor. He thinks he isn't getting his money's worth if he doesn't leave his room in a mess.

Legislators are so busy thinking up new taxes at Harrisburg that the proposed new marriage license law is in cold storage. It would require young couples to give from three to five days notice of their intentions to wed. It's the same kind of a law that has proven so obnoxious in other states. Just because there are occasional elopements, some people are so foolish as to believe that they can be stopped by law.

Senator Norris is the latest bent on redistributing wealth in this country. It beats all how quickly some of our statesmen can learn Long division.

Jimmy Doolittle is one man who doesn't live up to his name. He's done everything but little for aviation.

There's always something. Senators are above poverty, dirt, hardship and the itch, but they have Huey.

Soon after we reached the long pants stage we had a hankering to go west and fight Indians. There were plenty of redskins beyond the Mississippi in those days and from the accounts we read of them in the yellow backed novels, the early settlers were having a hard time saving their scalps. But we didn't go and we're glad now, for the westerners seem to be having as hard a time as they did when they had to fight the Indians. Just now the old "Father of Waters" is overflowing its banks and many are losing their homes. Terrific wind storms are carrying way the top-soil. Last summer there was the drouth and the grasshoppers. Yes, we're sure glad we never yielded to the lure of the west, but have been content to remain right here in good old Pennsylvania with nothing to fear but the politicians and the tax collectors.

Suckers won't believe it, but a business that has great profits in sight doesn't offer shares to the public.

Nobody is supposed to carry firearms any more without a permit. It is said that thirteen thousands such permits have been issued in Pennsylvania during the past year. It's no wonder so much shooting is done. Nearly every family has a revolver, shotgun or rifle. Who ever heard of a thief or highwayman who didn't carry around an arsenal with him. It seems sort of one-sided to let thugs carry the guns and citizens the pop-guns, but we haven't any suggestions on how to stop it.

Another sign of a low I. Q. is the belief that any man interested in birds and trees is a sissy.

If a doctor helps a gangster and doesn't report it, he is an accessory. If he does report it, he is a corpse.

Scientists can still tell the natural span of life by watching Bermuda. It has no cars or trucks.

General Hugh S. Johnson says he will fire only one more shot at Rev. Charles E. Coughlin and Senator Huey P. Long when he is certain they have "shot their whole wad." From the way these boys ramble on, it looks like the General will die of old age before they ever dry up.

A seven-year-old girl in Baku, Russia, has developed a thick black beard. Bet she's the envy of all the boys in their teen age of that town.

Saving the wild ducks isn't a new idea. We even save a condemned man who attempts suicide so we can hang him later.

The bad man thinks he is safe in the bushes, but this isn't true unless they are ambushes.

Another unfair thing about marriage is that the preacher never refunds your money if it doesn't work.

It took Hugo Schultz, of Kelso, Wash., 46 years to find out he couldn't get along with his wife, so he is seeking a divorce. He should at least have waited until he celebrated his golden wedding anniversary. Look at all those years he has wasted.

History seems to prove that revolutions and reigns of terror are the result of action on the part of a comparatively small number of determined fanatics, so a contemporary informs us. A small number of determined people can raise an awful stink, whether they be right or wrong.

AMERICANISM: Itching to punish Japan for abusing poor weak China; allowing code authorities to make rules that ruin the little fellows.

A fussilade must be something dreadful. It always makes the worst criminal roar away at high speed.

It is said that Admiral Richard E. Byrd is in such poor health that he will never be able to make another trip to the Antarctic. This will probably result in his pension being increased.

"You don't have to pay for lightning," cam the prompt reply from one of the bright pupils.

It isn't that the cops can't shoot. It's just hard to hit a bandit while keeping so far away that he can't hit you.

Sudden prosperity made that poor old fellow in New York an egomaniac, which is much more serious than the usual swellhead.

This new scheme of writing letters to influence Congress isn't fair. It disfranchises those who haven't got 3 cents.

Efforts to the Y. M. C. A. to recruit its fishing club ought to be a whale of a success. The boy who can't enthuse over being a fisherman is a blind robin in a world of landscapes and waterscapes. We wouldn't trade our recollections of our fishing days for a diamond mine in Africa. There's something fascinating about digging bait, storing it in an old tin can, swinging a pole over your shoulder and hiking to some secluded spot on a winding stream. And as you spit on your bait and throw it far out a-stream, how you are lulled by the murmur of water over stony riffles, the bullfrog singing under cover of the swamp grass, the vision of turtles sunning themselves on a convenient log, and the water snakes clinging to pendant boughs of the weeping willow. My gosh, we wish we were a boy again just to join that fishing club.

Some youngsters have strict parents and others never learn to be convincing liars.

Correct this sentence: "Our church thinks card playing and dancing wicked," said the man, "so we kicked out all the rich people who violated our rules."

Westminster college coeds are said to be spending their spare time knitting, just like their great-grandmothers used to do, but knitting don't mean to them what it did to the aforesaid grandmothers. In grandmother's day she had to take wool from the carder and make it into yarns with the old spinning wheel. In those by-gone days girls knit their own stockings, mens socks, pulse warmers, and great long scarfs. We don't know what the coeds knit but if our eyes still see straight we know it's not their s'ockings. At any rate we're glad to know the coeds are industrious, and by way of relieving the monotony of knitting, we'd suggest they keep singing that old familiar hymn, "There's an old spinning wheel in the parlor", just to keep their minds off the boys.

A man is lucky. If he had 30 suits, all over a year old, he would still have something to wear.

Business for the last month is reported better than the pessimists expected. It usually is.

That old geezer who used to go around with a lantern looking for an honest man, if he is still alive, ought to go down to Vandergrift, Pa. We learn that there is a coal miner down there who has been out of work for many long months. But recently he secured a job in a mine and his very first weekly check was turned into relief headquarters.

Prisons Increase Crime Treatment Breeds Insanity Idleness Also Blamed

Central Press
New York Bureau
235 East 45th street

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Mar. 25.—During these periods of depression, when poverty and depressed home conditions bring on increases in crime, a cry goes up from fortunate ones to "treat them rough."

And the rougher that malefactors are treated the greater is the increase in crime.

"Treating them rough" formerly was the "cure" for insanity, too. It merely increased insanity.

A noted authority on the mental condition of prisoners is Dr. Amos T. Baker, director of the classification of New York's Sing Sing penitentiary.

He says:

"Mental diseases in correctional institutions show a definite connection with the manner in which the institutions are operated."

In Sing Sing, where the maximum of freedom is allowed prisoners, the number of prisoners with disturbed mental states is only one per cent.

In prisons where there is rigid discipline and a complete prison atmosphere, the number of inmates with disturbed mental condition runs from 12 to 15 per cent.

Those men later are turned out on society in a far worse condition than when they were committed to prison.

They no longer are fit to cope with the world on an equitable basis, that the world accords a released convict.

In the meantime, only a few states are there any men in charge of prison capable of understanding and correcting the man sent to prison. Politics still rules and incompetent wardens and brutal guards do treat the unfortunates in their care "rough". From police to judge to warden to guard, the entire process is one designed to crush the good in a man, to embitter him permanently toward society.

ONE REFORMATORY

Depression breeds chiefly the young criminal.

Idleness turns youth to mischief.

Once, however, he does come within the clutches of the law, his descent is hastened in every conceivable manner.

We read, for example, these newspaper headlines concerning the Ohio State reformatory (for young offenders):

"Mansfield's cells bulge, breed sloth. Three prisoners for every shop job, 3,247 in reformatory designed for 1,500. Crime germs multiply. Hardened punished, but few of others salvaged."

Those headlines tell the story.

Young boys are imprisoned helter-skelter with already hardened criminals in the twenties, with mental defectives, with moral degenerates. It would take a strong youth to resist—in that old, ramshackle, vermin-infested, smelly, gloomy institution. There are few visitors, no really good contacts, no literature, no learning, no vista for the future.

There is merely prison—forgotten youth, among the debris of humanity.

That probably is a description of "reformatories" in many states.

IDLE EAGER TO WORK

There is another statement that gains during a depression:

"Oh, most of them wouldn't work if they could."

That is a conscience easer for the man who has against the man who has not.

One of the best authorities in America contradicts the statement. Says New York City's commissioner of public welfare, William Hodson, a student of unemployment problems:

"I resent on their behalf the libelous statements and accusations that these people are not willing to work. . . . There ought to be some decency and fairness in comments on these people. . . .

"If I had my way and the money, I would take every able-bodied person off relief and put him to work. There is no question concerning the demoralizing effect on the morale and the spirit of people on relief who sit at home with no opportunity to work. My opinion is that the great mass of people on relief want nothing so much as a job."

TODAY Is The Day

MONDAY, MARCH 25.

Today's Yesterdays— This, the traditional Lady Day, was the beginning of the year in England and its American colonies until an act of Parliament in 1751, moved the beginning of the year to the day after December 31st, substituted the Gregorian for the Julian calandar, and directed that Sept. 3, 1752, should be reckoned as Sept. 14, thus cancelling the 11 days difference then existing between the two calendars.

March 25, 1519—Hernando Cortes, 34, took possession of the three-centuries-old town of Tobasco, at the southern extremity of the country, and began his ruthless conquest of Mexico.

This is a notable date in American history, of course, because from Mexico the Spanish spread northward to settle in California, New Mexico, Arizona, Texas, Louisana, etc.

This was only a preliminary to abolition of slavery itself in all British territory, an action which Britain took 30 years before the U. S.

You're Wrong If You Believe— That the U. S. was the first republic to be established in North America.

It wasn't. The republic of Tlaxcala, which was strong enough to resist the attempts of the Azteo empire of Montezuma to conquer it, was flourishing in Mexico when the Spanish began their invasion.

William E. Long, Elizabethton, Tenn., tells us we're wrong if we believe that John the Baptist was ever baptized.

What do our Write-a-Wrong club members say of this? We're still hearing from those who say M. L. Tampke, San Antonio, is wrong if he believes the Bible doesn't say Jonah was swallowed by a whale. Mrs. George Holland, Minneapolis, Minn., and J. V. Bell, Fontana, N. C. mention it in letters with right more Wrongs.

What Back To Farm Meant For One Jobless City Man

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON.—What the rural rehabilitation program of the Federal Emergency Relief Administration has done for one family is told in a letter received at relief headquarters here.

It came from Herbert Huffman, of Franklin County, Ill., He says:

"I am a graduate of the college of architecture of Chicago Tech, and before the depression was architectural engineer for Montgomery Ward and Company.

"Now I am a farmer, on my way to security and independence. But the years between the time that my position was discontinued, and the time that I became established on a farm, were very black years.

"When my savings were all spent, I moved to the country. I had lived 15 years of my boyhood on a farm, and thought I could not be starved there. I borrowed horses and managed for a little land on the shares, here and there.

"But it was a hopeless job. I got a few weeks work teaching in an emergency relief school, and earned $50, with which I bought two very scrubby horses. One of them died. I arranged for use of a farm of 113 acres, 85 acres of it tillable. The house was dilapidated to the point where it was not habitable. There were no fences worth the name. Water had to be hauled. Wheels on the two wagons were about ready to go. The mouldboards on the old walking plow were worn through, and the landslide worn out.

"Last spring I was accepted as a rural rehabilitation client. I was allowed $170 in materal for the dwelling, and with the help of other clients, rebuilt the foundation, plastered and papered the interior, built a good fireplace and mantel, and built some new floors. I managed for a furnace which, installed, cost $20. Livestock and other farm production goods were advanced to me as follows:

"Two horses, 100 baby chicks, 12 bu. soy beans, 300 lbs. potato seed, 10 bu. corn, 1 set harness, 50 lb. sudan seed, 3½ tons fertilizer, 100 lbs. control mash, 100 lbs. growing mash, kerosene, 70 bu. wheat seed.

"I produced this season 308 shocks of corn, and 100 shocks of fodder, and raised to maturity 85 of the 100 baby chicks which were supplied to me. I have obtained 17 head of cattle with the help of a loan from the Production Credit Corporation. I have put in a pump which gives an adequate water supply, and have built a milk house and 300 rods of fence.

"The acreage that I have planted for 1935, or have ready for planting, will yeild at average rate of production and average prices $1,245.

"My wife has been working part time, and has used the money to buy furniture. We have managed for a pony for our boy. We are on our way up again."

Huffman sent in snapshots showing his house, a comfortable appearing storey and half frame building; his boy, a sturdy youngster, and his pony, and his wellgroomed team of farm horses.

NOVELTY

A Civil war veteran had spent a week at a New York hotel. When he went to pay his bill the clerk asked:

"What was your rank?"

"Oh just a private," the old soldier replied.

"Well, I won't charge you anything. You are the first private I ever met."

The Sunday school kiddies were each given a treat by Tifereth Israel Sisterhood and the teachers of the classes, were responsible for the untiring efforts in co-operating in making the occasion such a success. They were Adel and Harriet Wolfe, Ruth Markley, Mamie Levine and Jeanette Ginsberg. Trustees also are due credit for their assistance.

Local Dogs Fare Well At Beaver Falls

New Castle owned dogs fared well at Beaver Falls, Saturday, according to reports received here today. Joe Williams ran his own Gay Sam to first place in the puppy class and also L. A. Wygant's Tammy to second place in the same class. In the all-age, Mr. Wygant's dog, handled by Williams, took third place. Another distinction was that of the 10 dogs which placed in the trials, six of them were Gayboy dogs, Gaybook being Williams' national champion. All of them are setters.

A trainload of MAYTAGS

valued at over ¼ of a million dollars for PENNSYLVANIA

For homes without electricity, Maytags are equipped with gasoline multi-motor

MODEL 30

Maytag

• Yes, a solid trainload of Maytag washers was rushed into Pennsylvania to meet the insistent demand. Here's indisputable proof that women recognize real value when they see it. For it is true that Maytag quality at today's low prices represents value even greater than Maytag has ever offered before.

• It is an investment in sound, practical economy . . . in lower cost washings for more years than any other washer.

• Prove it to yourself. Compare this fine, square-tub, cast-aluminum Maytag with any other washer—regardless of price. Then learn how small a down payment will place one in your home.

Rumor Princess Mdivani Has Two Rivals For Hand

Two European Noblemen Reported Seeking Hand Of Princess Barbara

(International News Service)

LONDON, Mar. 25.—Barbara Hutton Mdivani isn't half way across the Atlantic on her way to a Reno divorce yet, but gossips already have, first her, then Prince Alexis Mdivani practically at the church door for new matrimonial ventures.

Nominee No. 1 for the third Princess Alexis Mdivani is Mlle Gita Alpa, famous Viennese operetta and film star, but no sooner had her name been read in the teacups of Mayfair than Mlle. Alpa denied the reports.

Out Of Order

"The Prince and I are most intimate friends," she told International News Service, "but the question of marriage has never arisen. Marriage is out of the question."

The dazzling actress, however, did reveal that Prince Alexis might appear on the stage, if not at the altar.

Alexis intends, it is understood, to continue his work with the Georgian legation in Paris, in spite of reports that Barbara gave him enough of the Woolworth millions to insure him a luxurious life.

The German Count Kurt Haukwitz and Austrian Count Szapery were mentioned in the Sunday dispatch as two of Barbara's possible suitors.

Junior Council Sabbath Held At Temple Israel

Large Attendance Marks Impressive Junior Council Sabbath Friday At Temple Israel

Junior Council Sabbath at Temple Israel, Friday evening, was marked by an exceptionally large attendance, including many from out of town as well as local residents.

The impressive services were carried out in perfect order, with Reva Love opening by reading a part of the services, including Hebrew. Miss Doris Shenkin read "Portion Of The Week" and Miss Esther Fishskin read the 31st chapter of the book of Proverbs beginning with the tenth verse.

Of special interest was the talk given by Miss Rheba Frank on "What It Means To Be A Jew" who stressed in well chosen words, the steadfastness of the Jewish faith, world peace, world brotherhood and love among men.

A social period concluded the evening, with members of the Junior Council presiding as hostesses. Miss Dorothy Blau, chairman, was assisted by Sara Adelman, Doris Shenkin, Bertha Rosen, Fannie Braunstein and Beatrice Gonick.

WHERE NIGHT OF REVELRY TURNED INTO TRAGEDY

Six persons were burned to death and 34 others were seriously injured at the Club Rendezvous in suburban Chicago, when more than 500 Northwestern university students jammed into the place to celebrate the closing of a school show. Investigators said that the main entrance had a door which swung inward and not outward. Fleeing guests were trapped when the main door jammed, leaving only one other door for escape. The holocaust, which was attributed to an overheated toaster, spread rapidly to all parts of the tavern trapping the merrymakers. Photo at top shows investigators searching ruins; lower photo is exterior view of the wayside inn after disaster.

Powerful Naval Aerial Bombers Are Being Built

New Type Fighting Planes Will Carry Six Machine Guns

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 25.—The United States will possess a fleet of the most powerful naval aerial bombers known to exist in the world today if current tests prove successful.

Naval officials disclosed today that two of these bombers already have been built and now are undergoing experimental tests, one on the west coast and one at Norfolk, Va.

Representing the latest development in giant bombing planes, each machine is equipped to carry two tons of bombs and six machine guns.

The machines are twin-engined, with each motor developing 830 horsepower, and have a wing spread of 100 feet.

If the tests prove successful the navy hopes to acquire a fleet of five squadrons of six planes each.

Dresch Will Not Be Appointed As Relief Director

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 25.—Earl Dresch, Mercer county poor director, is ineligible for appointment as county relief director, Robert L. Johnson, state relief administrator, said today.

Informed petitions were being circulated asking Dresch's appointment, Johnson said:

"Mr. Dresch is not and will not be considered for appointment as director because of his position on the poor board."

Johnson explained it was the board's policy not to place persons holding elective or political office in administrative positions. He declined to reveal the names of any persons under consideration for the post.

Louis Howe Is Better Today

Doctors Do Not Hold Much Hope For Secretary To President Roosevelt

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 25.—Louis McHenry Howe, senior secretary to President Roosevelt, spent the "most comfortable night" since his illness became critical, physicians reported at the White House today.

Upon awakening this morning, Howe asked for and was given a cigarette. Little hope for his recovery was held by physicians, however. Howe is suffering from bronchial and asthmatic ailments, lately aggravated by pleurisy in one lung.

New Jersey Pair Face Paris Trial

(International News Service)

PARIS, Mar. 25—Midst the wails of two babies born to two of the defendants during their long period in jail, twenty-one persons accused of espionage against the French government went on trial today.

The accused included Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gordon Switz of East Orange, N. J., alleged active participants in the spy ring which France accuses soviet Russia of financing.

The Rio Grande river is navigable for only sixty miles from its mouth.

Versailles Treaty Remains In Force

Despite Repudiation By Germany Of Military Clauses, Treaty Remains In Force

(International News Service)

LONDON, Mar. 25.—The treaty of Versailles remains in full force despite Germany's repudiation of the military clauses, Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald told the house of commons today.

Gordon Hall-Caine, conservative, asked whether the German action "affected or intended to affect any provisions other than those relating to fighting forces."

"The treaty of Versailles did not provide for denunciation by its signatories," MacDonald said.

Mrs. Ethel Koop Somewhat Better

Woman Faces Criminal Action As Result Of Death Of Husband At Akron, Ohio

(International News Service)

AKRON, O., Mar. 25—Codition of Mrs. Ethel Koop, suffering alleged self-inflicted gun wounds, was reported as "fair" by attaches at city hospital here today.

The 48 year old woman, whose serious wounds have kept her in serious condition at the hospital for some time, faces possible criminal charges as the result of the death of her 48 year old husband, Henry J. Koop, of wounds Mrs. Koop is alleged to have inflicted.

Council Passes Two Ordinances

Measures Compensate Employes For Using Own Cars; Cut Engineer's Pay

Council adopted two ordinances when the body met in the city hall today. One prescribed compensation for city employes who use their own cars in the transaction of city business. According to the ordinance, each of the employes will receive $8.50 a month and be allotted a reasonable supply of oil and gasoline. They must carry their own liability insurance. The other ordinance fixed the salary of the city engineer at $2,500, which is $500 less than the former engineer received.

It takes time to provide an old-age pension. You see Congress must first consider all the nutty ways of doing it.

Alleged Bank Bandit Is Held

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, Pa., Mar. 25.—The third person indicted for the robbery of the First National Bank of Avonmore last May 21, in which $9,700 was taken, was under arrest here today.

The man, Warren Cert, 22, was arrested in Wheeling, W. Va., and returned here. He has been identified through fingerprints, police say. The other two, Vance Carter of Vandergrift and Joseph Plezarki of New Kensington, convicted, are now serving prison sentences.

TO VIEW PROPERTY

April 5 was set as the time when council will view the property located at 512 East Division street which has been declared a hazard by Fire Chief Stockman, according to action taken by the officials when they met in the city building today. The building was damaged by fire in 1931.

Slayer Of Small Girl Given 50 Years Sentence

(International News Service)

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Mar. 25.—Lawrence Clinton Stone, 24, today was sentenced to from 50 years to life imprisonment by supreme court justice William F. Blsaklsy after pleading guilty to second degree murder in the slaying of Nancy Jean Corrigan, five years old.

Stone was arrested after the charred body of the little girl was found in a furnace.

GIRL SCOUTS

Girl Scout troop No. 6 held its regular Saturday morning meeting in city hall. A new folk dance was studied and a relay game was played. In patrol corners, a list of the good and bad points was made, which was read in the Court of Honor afterwards.

Plans were made for a luncheon hike to be held in two weeks. After the regular work, the meeting was closed with Taps.

Cannot Stretch Hose Across Sidewalk

Mayor Charles B. Mayne today stated that the practice of big trucks being filled with gasoline by hose stretched from a tank across the sidewalk to the tank of a truck or car must stop immediately.

He made the ruling after the practice had been brought to his attention by Solicitor Robert White who had received complaints about the practice.

White told the mayor that should a pedestrian trip on the hose the city would probably be held liable for damages, hence the mayor's edict.

MISS GLADYS MAE KELLY, DAUGHTER OF MRS. PAYNE

Authorities continued to investigate the murder of 52-year-old Adelbert Ewing of North Fairfield, O., shot to death in a tourist camp at Pascagoula, Miss., by Mrs. Vivian Payne when she found Ewing in a "compromising position" with her 15-year-old daughter, Gladys, shown above. The mother asserted she killed Ewing to save her daughter's honor, police say. The girl's step-father, the Rev. J J. Payne, saw the shooting, according to police.

Relief "Chiseling" Measure Is Taken Up By State Senate

Bill Has Passed House, Will Try To Take "Chiseling" Out Of Relief

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 25.—Legal anonymity behind which persons on relief rolls can hide their savings and securities would be torn away by legislation which has passed the house and today was before the senate.

The bill, introduced by Rep. Samuel Weiss, Allegheny, was aimed at so-called relief "chiselers," who accept government aid before they have exhausted their personal resources.

At present there is no way to determine how many are in relief lists. The law prohibits banks from revealing the accounts of customers. Weiss' bill would make it mandatory for banks to disclose the accounts of relief recipients upon demand of the relief director or of legislative investigating committees.

Hit-Run Driver Kills Youth And Injures Another

Two Boys Found Lying In Ditch Near Punxsutawney, Pa., Probe Is Started

(International News Service)

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., Mar. 25.—One boy dead in a ditch on Fairview Hill, just east of here. Another boy, bruised, cut and perhaps internally injured. Motorists whizzing by in the dusk, none stopping, thinking the two were merely "thumbing hitch-hikers."

This was the story disclosed to police today after they learned Homer Hoeh, 17, of Fairview, had been instantly killed by a hit-and-run motorist. Clifford Brown, 15, was the injured boy.

Finally James Coble, school director, stopped his car. But the Hoeh boy was dead. Brown said the car which struck them had no lights.

Death Sentence For Burglar In Robbery Slaying

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Mar. 25.—John W. Koziar was in a cell here today marked for death in the electric chair by a jury which found him guilty of the wanton slaying of Samson Rosenshein during an attempted burglary of Rosenshein's home. The jury deliberated for five hours.

Koziar, West Virginia miner, testified "he got scared" while robbing Rosenshein's home, and killed the man. He claimed that a "devil" entered him after a mine accident some years ago and he turned to a life of crime.

POLICE CHARGE RECKLESS DRIVING

W. A. Gould and William Jenkins of 422 Neshannock avenue, were found in a truck in Sampson street late Sunday afternoon after it was alleged the truck had knocked down a mail box in Harbor street. In police court today Gould was held on a charge of reckless operation of an automobile. Jenkins was discharged.

Teacher Attempts Unsuccessfully To Revive Husband

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Mar. 25. — A high school teacher who found her husband, Robert Conn, 40, hanging by a rope from a rafter in the private garage in the rear of their home, tried to save him by using artificial respiration, it was revealed here today. Her efforts failed.

Mrs. Anna Conn, finding the suspended body, cut it down hurriedly and worked over it for an hour until a respiration squad arrived. She said her husband, World War veteran who had undergone treatment for infirmaries, probably had been despondent.

Many Drivers Lose Licenses

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 25.—Revocations and suspensions of drivers' licenses zoomed sharply upward the week ending March 19 when 310 drivers lost their cards, the Bureau of Highway Patrol and Safety reported today. Of this number 128 were revoked and 173 suspended, a total of 70 more withdrawals than the preceding week. Revocations to date totaled 922 and suspensions 1275.

Look and Feel Clean, Sweet and Fresh Every Day

Drink a glass of real hot water before breakfast to wash out poisons.

Life is not merely to live, but to live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatism; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store which will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

Atterbury Says Legislation Will Hamper Railroad

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 25.—General W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, today charged that proposed legislation in congress and the state legislature would adversely affect the railroad industry.

Striking at bills providing for larger train crews, increased wages and decreased working hours, Atterbury declared "such legislation will mean ultimately less employment".

The warning was sounded in the company's annual report for 1934, which confirmed preliminary figures showing a net income of $18,815,694, a decrease as compared with 1933 of $465,476, and equal to $1.43 a share on the railroad's capital stock.

Two dividends of one per cent each, totaling $13,167,696, were paid out of earnings during 1934. Both railway operating revenues and expenses increases during the year. Revenues were $343,668,699, an increase of $18,952,886 of 5.8 per cent over 1933, and expenses $282,351,683, a jump of $19,612,729 or 9.7 per cent. Net operating income dropped $659,843 to $61,317,016, equal to 2.4 per cent on investment in road equipment.

Gross income was $101,330,907, a decrease of $2,265,551.

Mayor McNair Says He'll Not Proclaim Daylight Savings

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 25.—Mayor McNair will not proclaim daylight saving in Pittsburgh this year unless the state law forbidding the change of time is repealed.

This announcement from the mayor threatens to cause confusion in this, the eighteenth year of daylight saving, so dear to the heart of Council President Robert Garland.

Under normal conditions, the clocks of Pittsburgh would be turned forward one hour April 28.

The mayor, somewhat low in spirits following the extraction of a tooth, announced:

"Unless the state law is repealed, I will not proclaim daylight saving time this year. I won't openly violate the state law with the ripper bill coming out of committee in a few days. I have had a warning to behave and I am going to heed."

Ryan Discusses New Coal Strike

Insurgent Leader Declares Workers Will Be Placed In Two Hostile Camps

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 25.—Coal miners of Western Pennsylvania today discussed the prediction of Martin Ryan that if a coal strike of the bituminous fields occurs next Monday, workers will be placed in two hostile camps.

Ryan is a leader of the insurgent members of the United Mine Workers of America and has been the head of several "outlaw" strikes of miners of the Frick Coal Company at Uniontown and Brownsville.

In an address to 100 miners here he bitterly assailed John L. Lewis, union head, and P. T. Fagan of Pittsburgh, head of District No. 5. Ryan also denounced policies of William Hynes of Uniontown, president of District No. 4.

"I have been crucified for years by these so-called union leaders," Ryan shouted. "They called a special convention to try me, and the only reason I was not fired out of the union was that they decided my following was too strong.

"We have got to plan what stand we are going to take in the coming fight. Personally I don't want to be kicked around by these self-styled leaders. We must take the public into our confidence and tell them what is going on."

Ryan accused Hynes and Fagan of making contracts with producing companies without protecting rights of the "captive tonnage" miners.

Railroad Man Is Fatally Burned

Explosion Takes Life Of Brakeman In Philadelphia Yards

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 25.—John A. Lobue, 30, a railroad brakeman, was killed today when he thrust a lighted lamp through a porthole atop an empty alcohol tankcar in a South Philadelphia freight yard.

The resulting explosion blew Lobue nearly 20 feet in the air and transformed him into a human torch. He died before receiving medical attention.

Accident Victim Out Of Hospital

William Edward Steele, of 1717 East Washington street, who together with his wife was injured several weeks ago, when his automobile skidded and crashed into a telephone pole on Adams and East Washington streets, returned to his home from the New Castle hospital, over the week end.

Mrs. Steele, who is confined to the New Castle hospital, is steadily improving.

PLACE RYDER IN PATROL'S CUSTODY

Chief of Police John F. Haven today turned William Ryder, youth, over to the custody of the state highway patrol on a charge of operating an auto without a license. He was arrested Sunday. He was alleged to have taken and driven a car Saturday night which belonged to Raymond McFarland, Volant, R. F. D. 2.

PAY LOOT COST, FREED

Two Beaver Falls girls, Nina Douglas and Margaret Matthews, nabbed here a short time ago for shoplifting, had been discharged today by Alderman Wallace J. Ewing upon payment of the cost of the stolen store goods and the costs of the case.

THE best complexion advice you can give—the best you can follow yourself—is get the Lifebuoy habit! Its rich, penetrating lather deep-cleanses clogged pores, brings new radiance. Yet tests made on the skins of hundreds of women show Lifebuoy is more than 20 per cent milder than many so-called "beauty soaps." Millions say, "It agrees with my skin."

Don't be caught napping!

"B. O." (body odor) is a real danger. Any one of us may offend, for we all perspire a quart of odorous waste daily. Play safe—bathe regularly with Lifebuoy. It lathers richly in hardest water, purifies and deodorizes pores. Lifebuoy's own clean, pleasant scent vanishes as you rinse.

Treasury Department Explodes Myth Being Widely Circulated

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 25.—Have you a 1922 penny? If you have, take the word of President Roosevelt, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, Nellie Tayloe Ross, director of the mint, and W. A. Julian treasurer of the United States, that your copper is worth exactly one cent, and cannot be exchanged for a new Ford automobile.

But before going any further into "how you can't trade a 1922 penny for a Ford," here is some other business the federal government is not transacting:

The PWA has not furnished funds to buy in confederate money, dollar for dollar—this was the conception held by a southern gentleman whose grandfather wore the gray in the Civil War;

Secretary Morgenthau is "fresh out" of gold detectors, delicate mechanisms with which buried treasures are "found"—A man in Kansas, who "suspected" the general location of a gold cache, wanted the secretary to ship him one and he would pay all freight charges;

No Fords For Penny

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation is not bidding on old coin collections, as a man in the southwest has been led into believing. Neglecting to disclose any details—whether they were foreign or domestic, dimes or dollars—this man asked the FDIC to submit a bid on his collection of 1,736 coins.

The "Ford for a penny" buncombe has been by far the most popular with the nation's gullibles, however. Hundreds of letter relating that Henry Ford owns 150 of 200 outstanding pennies minted in 1922," and is so anxious to possess the other 50 that he's trading automobiles for them have been received at the treasury. All seek confirmation by the government.

Now, that's correct, except for the trifling detail: Instead of 200, there are 7,160,000 pennies of 1922 outstanding.

News Briefs From City Hall

Stamp Club Will Meet This Evening

The New Castle Stamp club will hold their regular meeting tonight. This meeting will be held in the Home Service room on the first floor of the Pennsylvania Power Company at 8 o'clock.

The main plans for the evening as announced by Dan Hennon, sales manager were that the club is sponsoring an auction from which much fun and entertainment will be derived. This is the first time that the New Castle club has undertaken this type of program and the outcome of it will depend almost wholly upon Mr. Hennon.

A BUILDER, GIVES PEP

MANY folks have thin, pale blood—they're weak, feel tired, logy and dull. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a dependable tonic which will increase the appetite and eliminate poisons from the intestines. It stimulates the digestion, makes the blood redder, and you gain in vim and vigor.

Michael Walsh of 1928 Washburn St., Scranton, Pa., said: "I used to have quite a bit of stomach complaint. I did not rest well at night either. I felt weak, had no strength or 'pep' and hardly felt like working. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery built me up in fine shape—improved my appetite, rid me of the indigestion, and the tired feeling."

70 Years Spry

On March 22nd, this year, Provident Mutual was 70 years old. That's a lot of years. According to the best colloquialisms, that makes us "ripe." It makes us too ripe, in fact—too ripe by 15 years—to buy for ourselves a PROVIDENT PROVIDOR, that comprehensive retirement plan for men under 55. However, not being an individual, we find ourselves as gay as we ever were, a whole lot stronger, and more mellow with each new birthday. And if the years deny us the PROVIDENT PROVIDOR, they can't deny our offering its opportunities to others. So, if you are under 55—if, let us say, you were "founded" after 1880—it will pay you well to investigate the PROVIDENT PROVIDOR. In addition to paying you $200 a month for life beginning at 55, 60 or 65, it will pay $20,000 to your family if you die before that age. Ask your Provident Mutual agent about the PROVIDENT PROVIDOR today.

CLASS PARTY

Mrs. George Nicholls and Mrs. Joseph Cercella, were delightful hostesses when they entertained the Loyal Ladies Bible class of the Christian church at the home of the former, on Thursday evening. After a short business meeting in charge of the vice president, Mrs. Elizabeth Mitcheltree, social conversation, games and music whiled the hours away. A number of Irish songs were sung and later the hostesses assisted by Mrs. James Mayberry, served delicious refreshments the color tones of green and white being carried out in the menu and napkins. The next party will be held at the home of Mrs. Mary Morrow with Mrs. Sarah McIntosh as associate hostess.

ENTERTAINMENT

Much praise is due the members of the Young People's Christian society and their leader, Bessie Hofmeister, of the Christian church in the manner in which they conducted the plays "Aunt Alviras and Uncle Ezras Sociable and "Betty's Paris Hat" in the church Friday evening. During the sociable special musical numbers were rendered by Betty Jane Miller of Youngstown, Miss Edith Jones of New Castle, and Evelon and Walter Jacobson, and a reading by Miss Ruth McClelland which was enjoyed very much. A nice sum of money was received which will be used for the work of the young people. After the programs the missionary women served sandwiches and coffee.

On Court House Hill

Motion for a new trial has been made in the case of William Thompson, who was convicted of adultery at the recent term of court. The motion will be argued later.

A notary public commission has been placed on record at the register and recorder's office for Miss Belle Dillon, of this city. Bond has also been filed.

An application for a new trial has been made in the case of M. A. Newton, of Ellwood City, who was convicted of driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor. Newton denied the charge at the trial.

An application for a new trial has been made by George Fox, who was convicted of failing to stop and render assistance in connection with the death of Charles Pattison on the New Castle-New Bedford road. Fox claimed at the trial that he had stopped his car to get a milk can which had fallen off, when he found Pattison lying by the roadside. He had no knowledge of striking him.

County commissioners will install a separate hot water heating tank at the county home. Heretofore the hot water has been taken from the boilers of the heating system, and on account of the large amount used, it has interferred with the successful operation of the plant.

Petition for the appointment of a guardian for Simon Sankovich of Bessemer, has been presented by his daughter, Mildred Sankovich. The elder Sankovich was recently taken to the Torrance hospital. He had an insurance policy for $1,000 upon which the payments are $51.04 per month, but the company will not pay out the insurance until a guardian is appointed. A hearing on the petition will be held April 1.

Prothonotary R. M. Campbell has prepared a trial list for the three terms of common pleas court which will be held during the month of April. There are 46 cases on the list. Judges Hildebrand and Chambers held a session of court this forenoon at which they went over the list with attorneys and fixed the time for hearing the different cases.

Will of the late Adeline McGinnis, of North Beaver township, has been admitted to probate at the register and recorder's office. To her nephew, C. Dale Robinson, of North Beaver township, and niece, Mabel Byers, of New Wilmington, decedent, left a property in North Beaver township. To a nephew, Harlan Wilson, $500; to a nephew, John Robinson, $500. Other bequests are made to grand nephews and nieces. Attorney W. K. Hugus is named as executor.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Clark have presented a petition in court asking that the Lawrence Savings and Trust Company, guardian of their son, Samuel, advance $210 with which to purchase an artificial leg for the boy who is ten years old. Samuel was injured while returning home from school when a dead tree fell upon him. There was long litigation over the case but the owner of the property on Pennsylvania avenue, on which the tree was located, finally had to pay the verdict. The Lawrence Savings and Trust Company was appointed guardian to take care of the funds. The petition for $210 for the artificial leg was granted.

In the case of Roy C. Raubenolt, administrator of Carol Raubenolt against Morris Newmark, Judge Hildebrand has handed down an opinion in which a rule to strike off statement of claim is discharged and the defendant is allowed fifteen days in which to file an affidavit of defense. The case is one growing out of an automobile accident in Ohio, which resulted in the death of Carol Raubenolt.

Alas! If the statesman is big enough to think of the whole country, he doesn't fatten his own district enough to hold his job.

HER QUIVERING NERVES

A woman's nerves often get the best of her. Here is a medicine that quiets quivering nerves, makes you sleep better, gives you the extra energy you need.

TRIPLE PROBE FOR CHICAGO ROADHOUSE FIRE

Six Persons Die In Flames

Eighteen Others Who Were In Fire Disaster Are in Hospitals

CAUSE OF BLAZE REMAINS UNKNOWN

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Mar. 25.—A triple investigation of the disastrous fire in a roadhouse where six persons kept a rendevous with death, was begun today. Terming the roadhouse a fire trap city, county and state officials promised action to prevent a recurrence of such a holocaust.

A coroner's inquest is to be held with survivors of the tragedy repeating their vivid and gruesome stories.

Eighteen In Hospital

Eighteen of the merry-makers who saw the scene of gayety and laughter change in a moment to one of horror and death, are in hospitals, several of them in critical condition with little chance of surviving.

Cause of the fire remained unknown but the rapid spread of the flames was blamed on the highly inflammable drapes about the dance floor and the tissue paper decorations. Officials blamed the trapping of the 100 guests on the lack of exits.

There was but one door leading from the dance floor. Windows were screened or covered by the heavy drapes. The door opened inward and when the hysterical patrons surged against it they were trapped.

Among the guests were a number of Northwestern University students. Two of them were among the victims.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 48 hours ending at 3:30 p. m., March 24, 14 arrests on charges as follows: Suspicion 2, drunkenness 5 and violation of parking regulations 7.

It is anticipated that, if not today a bill will be introduced Friday in council which will provide how many and how goats shall be kept within the city limits. One place is said to have 21 goats which has ired neighbors who claim the odor is offensive. Councilmen are not averse to anyone keeping one goat for milk but have indicated they are opposed to maintenance of a herd of goats.

New Castle police department sergeants who have been licensed to radio police calls have reported that they hear important calls sounded in Hartford, Conn., Cleveland, O., Youngstown and other places. Some of the operatives in the cruiser cars have the monotony of the night broken when calls come in on their receivers from Camden, N. J., and other places. Locally, radio calls have resulted in the police cars giving good service when calls are sent to the police station and are relayed by radio to the scout car operatives.

Chief of police Haven and Solicitor Robert White have recommended to members of city council that the latter, should they be so disposed, make refunds of portions of monies paid for the holding of dances in places where liquor is dispensed. The communication covers the month of February. The places entitled to a return if council concurs in the recommendation are as follows: Bay of Naples, $1.00; Cooper's casino, $16.00; Elite cafe, $5.00; Riviera cafe, $14.00; Riverside cafe, $1.00; Rendzevous cafe, $21.00; Savage hotel, $9.00 and Zoiwoski gardens, $1.00. According to the ordinance, each place must pay a yearly license of $15.00 and $1.00 for each day dancing is permitted. The law calls for a refund of 90 percent of the amount paid the city. Sometime ago Solicitor White ruled in an opinion to Controller Earl Wimer that the ordinance was legal. However, no refunds have been granted. It has been intimated that Wimer would welcome some proprietor taking the fight to court.

City employes who use their own automobiles in the transaction of city business, will receive $8.50, each month for the use thereof, according to an ordinance introduced before council and now in committee. The employes also will receive sufficient oil and gasoline for their trips. The owners of the cars must carry their own public liability, according to the bill.

Make Plans For Oriental Dinner

Third Annual Oriental Dinner And Dance At Cathedral On June 15

Preparations are now being made for the third annual Oriental dinner and dance to be held at the Cathedral on Saturday evening, June 15, for the benefit of the St. Elias Syrian Orthodox church. On previous occasions the dinner has been very successful and was approved by the people who attended.

This annual event will produce the color and charm of the Far East, and the entertainment, including the fascinating dances and music of the Syrian people will be a spectacle that will always be remembered. Excellent food, tasty dishes of the Orient, will be one of the many features.

The Syrian people of New Castle are making every effort to raise funds for the church. The committee in charge of this dinner includes Arch Priest Rev. Constantine Abou Addel, Elias Jacob, Tom Deep, Esper Bashour, Moses Jacob, Anthony Deep, Mrs. Charlie Albert, Mrs. John Davis, Mrs. Gus Taleganis, Mrs. Esper Bashour and Mrs. K. W. Siyufy.

MAN KILLED IN "BORROWED" AUTO

YOUNGSTOWN, O. Mar. 25—Jack Lyons, 35, of Warren, O., was killed instantly and two companions were badly injured Sunday afternoon, when an automobile in which they were riding careened around a corner and struck a pole.

The driver and a woman companion disappeared after the accident. The auto owner reported to state highway patrolmen that he had left his car to be washed in a Warren service station.

The Bonus And 1936.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

GALLUP, New Mexico, Mar. 24.—This is written traveling over the mountains toward the east high up in Arizona. In all directions are beautiful pine trees, magnificent high peaks covered with snow, dark romantic gullies, fertile valleys that need only cultivation, and at this moment looking from the car window, not a house or a human being in sight. Man may be "a gregarious animal" but it is pleasant, sometimes, to see this earth with no human being busy spoiling its beauty.

THE WORLD'S NEWS comes in the Phoenix Gazette, ably run by Messrs. Stauffer, Knorpp and Nuckolls.

Part of the news tells of food prices going up, not good news for the consuming citizen, but good for farmers of all kinds.

The consumer should realize that prices going up does not mean, absolutely, that producers are getting more. It means that we are really using fifty-nine cent dollars; inflation is with us, although we do not realize it yet.

Prices indicate inflation before human beings know of it.

IF CONSUMERS COULD get food at prices nearer to the price paid to the producer, everything would seem marvelously cheap. The whole problem is one of distribution.

For instance, driving toward the Cajon pass through the Southern Sierras, east of Los Angeles, you read a citrus growers' advertisement, "Large sweet grapefruit, one cent apiece. Six dozen oranges for twenty-five cents." Cheap vitamines there.

OTHER EDITORS may be interested in an idea developed by the Phoenix Gazette, which each day prints a "guest editorial" written by one of its readers.

Mr. Lynn M. Laney, in his "guest editorial" says "notwithstanding the free and easy flow of potent beverages under present conditions, it is just as important, now, as ever, to be sober."

This guest editor recommends sobriety in spite of the fact that "if a man stays sober and works hard and as a result makes a fair income, both the government and the state levy a fine, in the form of an income tax, against him for his conduct; but despite this discouraging circumstance, we still say there are decided advantages in remaining sober."

MR. CLARENCE DARROW, able clever criminal lawyer, tells the Senate committee, "Big business has all the advantage, and NRA only has increased that advantage."

If that be true, big business knows about its own affairs less than Mr. Darrow does, for big business men, and little business men as well, are extremely anxious to get rid of NRA and resume business as they have learned to run it.

THE HOUSE voted 318 to 90 in favor of paying the soldiers' bonus in what is foolishly called "inflation" money.

Geese, in and out of office, think money cannot be good unless it first appears in the shape of bonds that pay interest and double the debt, and the cost to taxpayers.

All the soldiers will ever get is plain American greenbacks. Why give them two billion dollars of those greenbacks and insist on giving two billions more in interest, to some one else?

Has not the government brains and character enough to decide how much it will print and then stop? Must it play the part of a drunkard who cannot take one drink without a debauch to follow?

THE PRESIDENT would veto the bill. The House would override his veto. What the Senate will do about overriding the veto is uncertain. It would like an excuse not to pay the soldiers, and at the same time avoid losing the soldiers votes. For that the veto would be convenient. Sentors could tell the veterans, "don't blame me, blame the President".

DANGEROUS and destructive sand storms continue throughout large areas, Kansas most severely afflicted. Yesterday an engineer and fireman overcome by dust, almost suffocated, were lifted from the locomotive. Numerous cases of pneumonia have developed as a result of breathing dust, that clogs the lungs, weakens resistance.

A dispatch from Springfield, Colorado, to the Albuquerque Journal tells of four residents of Baca county dead from "dust pneumonia". Many others will die.

AT NEWTON, KANSAS, one determined farmer, with a large broom swept the dust from a five foot swatch on the windward side of his wheatfield, that his cows might eat the green winter wheat before dust kills it.

The national government might well take serious interest in this dust danger, increasing year by year.

Rows of trees creating windbreaks might be used to stop the flying dust clouds, and the agricultural department might develop some swiftly growing plant that could easily be sown, by government airplanes, if necessary, immediately after the harvesting of corn, wheat, rye and other crops. Early planting of winter wheat or rye, might develop a sufficient "cover crop" to meet the winter wind and dust storms. The cost of the seed and sowing would be offset by increased fertility after "plowing under" building up the land with humus.

This offers opportunity for the inventive mind to work and for the government to act.

Eckert Supports Patman Inflationary Bonus Measure

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 25.—Representative Charles L. Eckert of Beaver voted consistently for the inflationary Patman bonus bill last week when the house considered and finally passed the measure.

The bill calls for payment of adjusted service certificates to the extent of their full matured valued with printing press money, and Mr. Eckert opposed any modification of this. He voted against the Vinson amendment which would have floated government bonds to raise money with which to pay the bonus. He voted against an amendment which would have paid the veteran by giving him a government bond worth the present value of his certificate.

Both amendments were rejected, and Mr. Eckert then voted for the unchanged Patman measure when it was finally approved in the house by a 228 vote margin. It is widely predicted President Roosevelt will veto the bill if the senate passes it, which is unlikely.

Organist Here Now Is Qualified Pilot

While piloting an airplane thru the skies is a far cry from presiding over a mighty organ, Thomas H. Webber, Jr., organist at the First Presbyterian church here, has found thrills from both of them.

At Pittsburgh last Friday Webber completed his flying and theoretical tests for a private pilot's license. He took the flight test in a Taylor Cub monoplane with Aeronautics Branch Inspector Russell A. Young.

Mr. Webber received his flight training at New Castle airport and was soloed last October 18 by L. G. Theakston, flight instructor here, and is the first of 34 to receive a pilot's license since classes started here last May.

To Remove House From College Campus

(Special To The News.

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Mar. 25—Landscaping plans for the Westminster college campus, started last spring through the generosity of J. S. Mack, McKeesport, a member of the board of trustees, are gradually taking form as workmen are completing grading, seeding, and planting.

Work was renewed on the campus last week. Additional grass seed was sown, the entire campus was rolled, additional shrubs and trees will be planted and older trees on the campus will be trimmed and treated by tree surgeons.

Many of the trees and bushes around the Elliott house will be removed within the next two weeks. In all probability, the Elliott house acquired by the college through a donation by Mr. Mack last spring, will be moved from the campus some time in early May. This will give Westminster a campus sweep from the United Presbyterian church on Maple street at the north to the football field on the south.

Future plans for the development of the campus are being made by landscape architects under the direction of Mr. Mack and of the board of trustees committee which includes Dr. John McBride, Attorney Bruce McCrory and Dr. H. H. Donaldson.

THOUSANDS HAVE LEARNED PLYMOUTH COSTS LESS TO RUN!

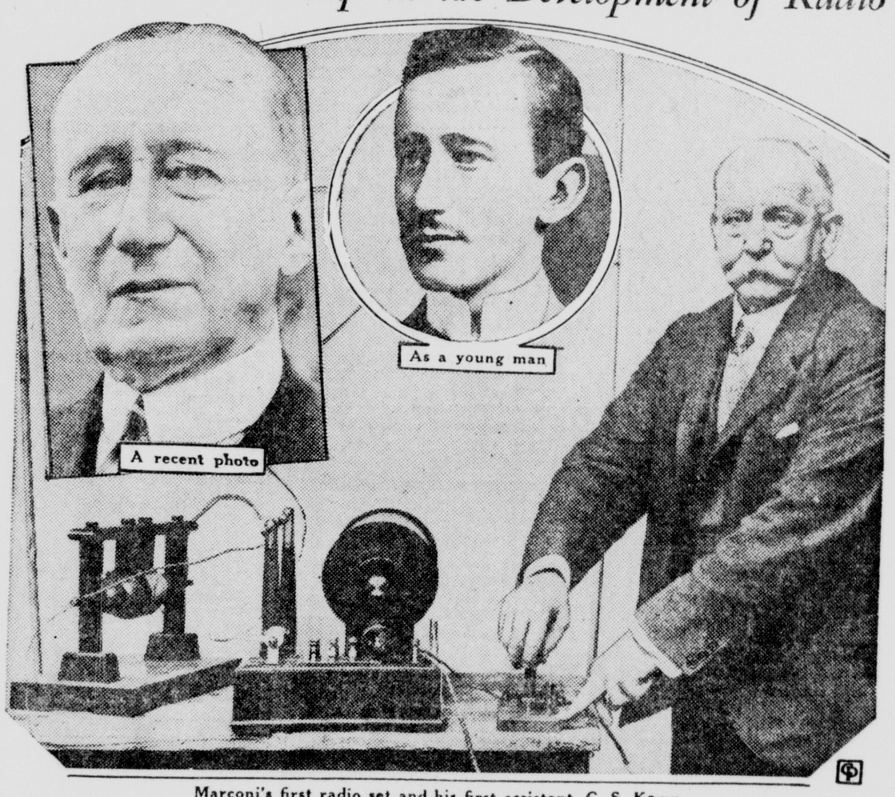
When Marconi Invented Wireless Telegraphy, The First Step in the Development of Radio



Marconi's first radio set and his first assistant, C. S. Kemp

ALTHOUGH several scientists contributed to its invention, the distinction of being called the "father of radio" undoubtedly is due Guglielmo Marconi, Italian electrical engineer. While attending the University of Bologna, at Bologna, Italy, Marconi came into contact with Professor Righi, who had long been interested in the nature of the Hertzian waves. Seeing the possibilities of the waves, Marconi began experiments in 1895, and before the end of the year had established successful wireless communication over a distance of a mile. In 1896 he went to England and secured the first patent on wireless telegraphy by means of electric waves. Later he developed equipment to contact a ship 18 miles away, and from that time on radio development grew by leaps and bounds into its present form.

St. Michaels, Hearts Battle In Title Game

Championship Of Second Half Of Church League To Be Decided Tonight

SUNDAY SCHOOL GAMES POSTPONED

Tonight at the "Y" floor at 8 o'clock two of the finest basketball teams in the city, will meet for the second half championship of the New Castle Church League. The teams are, St. Michaels, first-half champions and the Sacred Hearts. Seats will be at a premium tonight as these two quintets tangle.

There is a strong rivalry between the two contesting teams. The Hearts have defeated the Mikes three times this year, can they make it five straight? This is the question of the hour. The St. Michaels say that tonight the "jinx" will be chased far far away. The Sacred Hearts are quite confident that the St. Michaels will succumb to their attack.

Strong Lineups

Coach Michael "Jake" Babovsky will start his strongest lineup in an effort to snap the Sacred Hearts. "Shimmy" Balla and Andy Motsko will go to the forward posts, with Chernyavsky at center, and Johnny Carik, Mikey Slosernick, Mackiewicz, Hnat and Johnny Slosernick holding down the guard jobs.

The Hearts will have Gennock, Gallagher, Viggiano and B. Cooper as their big stars.

If the St. Michaels wallop the Hearts tonight, it will mean the church championship as the Babovskymen took the first-half championship in easy fashion. If the Hearts win tonight it will mean a playoff for the church league title.

The Sunday school games scheduled for tonight have been postponed until Wednesday night.

Pirates Lose To White Sox

Yarosz Again Injures Knee

Yarosz Forced To Postpone Bout With Abie Bain In Cleveland

(International News Service)

MONACA, Pa., Mar. 25—Another injury to the knee he hurt when defeated by Babe Risko, at Scranton on New Years today forced Teddy Yarosz, middleweight champion, to concel an eight-round bout against Abie Bain in Cleveland tonight.

Yarosz pulled a tendon in his knee while going through a final workout with his brother here Saturday afternoon. On the advice of physicians, his manager, Ray Foutts cancelled the Cleveland bout. Physicians said the injury was not serious, but recommended the fighter remain inactive for another month.

Pulaskis Defeat Farrell Boosters

K. Pulaskis End Fine Basketball Season With 38 To 35 Victory

MATEJA-BORON STARS OF GAME

K. Pulaski closed a most successful basketball season Sunday afternoon at the Pulaski hall before a large crowd, by handing the highly touted and heretofore undefeated Farrell Boosters a 38 to 35 defeat, with "Cash" Mateja and "Kitty" Boron the big scoring stars for the Oaklanders with 29 of the points.

Mateja, Boron Stars

Ginsberg and O'Flaherty were the best in the lineup of the Farrellites. The Farrell boys outscored the Pulaskis in the second half, 17 to 15, but the lead piled up by the Peplowsky quintet in the first half was enough to carry the Oaklanders through victorious.

In the preliminary game the K. Pulaski Reserves defeated the Acmes of New Castle 29 to 18, with "Tillie" Slezeski and Gorgacz the best for the Pulaski Reserves, and Raskowski and Duncho the best for the Acmes.

Pulaski Fine Team

The Pulaskis in their first year of organization have gained a place in the basketball sun of New Castle and Lawrence county. Next year the Pulaskis will be back with a stronger team and will be out to take the championship, according to Business Manager Peplowsky and Coach Walter Sniezek.

Washington Will Be In Flag Race, Says Bucky Harris

International News Service Staff Correspondent

BILOXI, Miss., Mar. 25.—The fate of the Washington Senators in 1935 will be decided by the pitchers. The team is sufficiently powerful in other departments to give a good account of itself. In the event that Detroit, ranking favorite, should should slip; that Cleveland should be thrown out of stride by Billy Knickerbocker's illness, and that the New York Yankees fail to add power where it is obviously needed, the Senators might slip in and grab the pennant.

With all other clubs playing to normal form, the Senators have an outside chance if the hurling is of real major league calibre.

Cronin Sold

The baseball world looked to Washington as a center of winter and spring trading activity after the sale of Joe Cronin to the Boston Red Sox. It was thought that President Griffith would launch an impressive building campaign.

The anticipated activities, however, simmered down to the purchase of Irving "Bump" Hadley from the St. Louis Browns.

Lyn Lary, who was tossed in by Tom Yawkey in the deal for Cronin, looks as the shortstop of the Senators for the coming season, although it is by no means assured that he will beat out Red Kress, another contender for a steady job.

To the outfield of 1934 have been added Jakie Powell and Fred Singlton of Albany, two powerful hitters and prolific run producers. Sam Holbrook and Jack Redmond are young catchers of exceptional promise.

Whitehill Best

The best pitcher on the Washington club last year, and one of the probable leaders this season is Earl Whitehill, veteran left-hander. Bob Burke, who is in better form this spring than ever before in his life, looms, as a winning pitcher.

Monte Weaver and Bump Hadley are ranked as probable first string right-handers, with Ed. Linke rating right behind them.

Strong Outfield

Heinie Manush, perennial contender for hitting honors in the American League, and sometime winner of the batting crown, will be in left field and hit third. Johnny Stone will be in right, and either Fred Scuhlte or Powell will be in center.

It is safe to say that Washington has three of the best young catchers in the game in Cliff Bolton, Sam Holbrook and Jack Redmond.

Bucky Harris, the new manager, is really an old Rover come home. He has instilled a fine spirit in the club, and if the boys don't finish high in the race you may look to other causes than the management of Harris.

Westminster College News Notes Of Sport

Ray Sweeney, Youngstown, a forward and John Wilhelm, Kittanning, a guard, two seniors on the Westminster college basketball team this year will be on the all-star team which plays an all-star New York district team in St. Nicholas arena, New York on March 29. Others on the team from this section and the middle west will be Ginsberg, Geneva: Serany, Duquesne: Cottom and Shaver, Purdue.

Wes Bennett, star center on the Westminster basketball team will have his tonsils removed this week. Bennett was sick during the last three and one-half weeks of the schedule, and has been considerably underweight. It is thought that the removal of his tonsils will aid him in keeping in top-notch form next season, his last on the Titan team.

John Lawther and R. X. Graham, athletic director and assistant at Westminster College, will attend two meetings of athletic officials and coaches in Webster Hall, Pittsburgh, on March 30. One meeting will have to do with selection of basketball officials for next year, and the other with the selection of football officials.

Mauno "Whitey" Siljander, former Titan three-sports star and now a member of the W. S. Willigs basketball team, has a good chance of becoming head football and basketball coach at a large high school in the section this year. Announcement of Siljander's appointment is expected at any time.

Although there are plenty of applications in for the football coaching position at Westminster next year, it is probable that the men selected will be one who has at least an M. A. degree and who can be a full-time faculty member, teaching in the college as well as coaching the grid team. The officials and Athletic Council are of the opinion that such an arrangement will be best. The winning applicant will be required to teach an academic subject, not physical education. Bill Gilbane, head coach last year, has been made freshman coach at Brown University. Tom, Bill's brother. Tom was line coach last year, is still in the running as a candidate for the Westminster position for the Titans.

"Y" Tossers Defeat Hotel Boys In First Game Of Championship Series

The "Y" Devil Dogs defeated the Castletons 23 to 17 Saturday night at the Y. M. C. A. floor in the first game of a series for the House-Indus championship. Mike Kulich was the ranking star of the battle with 20 of the points and the reason the "Y" Devil Dogs took the first engagement.

At the end of the first half the score was 12 to 7 with the Devil Dogs leading, with Kulich having three field goals and Baptiste one. In the second half Kulich ran wild to score four more field goals and shot four straight fouls in the second half.

Marlin and Nocera led the Hotel boys in scoring. The second game of the series will be played at a later date.

Sportsmen Ask Citizens To Send Appeals To Batchelor, Kelso, Eroe

Committee on forests and waters will hold an open hearing Tuesday at Harrisburg on senate bill 273 which is an anti-pollution of streams measure and organizations and individuals of Lawrence county were today asked by the Lawrence County Sportsmen's association to urge passage of the measure.

According to Jack Boyles, secretary of the league, telegrams should be sent to Senator Batchlor and Representatives Kelso and Eroe.

During the past several years there has been many claims that pollution in Lawrence county streams has killed fish and endangered the health of bathers.

Cottagers are also requested by the sportsmen to interest themselves in the move and wire their representatives to help prevent pollution.

Last week the sportsmen, in session at the Armory, passed a resolution urging that support of the bill be given.

Lasky Claims Injured Hand

Says Injured Hand Kept Him From Defeating James J. Braddock

BELGRANO TO BE HERE ON MAY 9

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Mar. 25.—By this time, it is evident that the writer owes Art Lasky, Minneapolis and Los Angeles heavyweight, an apology and somebody in New York boxing owes him an explanation. He came out of the ring after 15 rounds with the astonishing James J. Braddock on Friday a badly beaten man but it is quite clear that he should never have been in the ring in the first place.

Lasky's left hand was not injured, as reported, during the fight. It was injured ten days before, at which time a reporter visited his camp, learned of the situation and was asked by the Lasky people not to use the story.

Hand Was Hurt

Somebody had persuaded them to "go through," doubtless pointing out that Lasky had taken one powder on Braddock two months before and couldn't afford another. It sounded like disinterested advice but probably wasn't.

The story, in fact, is that this looked like a spot to get Lasky knocked off, so that nothing could interfere with a Schmeling-Baer fight for the championship in June. In a manner of speaking, of course, I'm convinced that they did Lasky a favor in keeping him away from Schmeling. On what I saw of him Friday night, I should say, good hands or bad, he can't fight fast enough to keep off a swarm of mosquitoes.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Teddy Yarosz, middleweight champion, will not fight Abie Bain in a benefit for distitute Carl Tremaine at Cleveland tonight, the Monaca fighter having reinjured his knee in his last day of preparation for the bout. Jimmie Belmont of Braddock will box Babe Risko who scored a technical knockout over Yarosz in a non-titular scrap at Scranton recently.

Russell Powers, 21, University of Southern California football player, who lived at Cleveland, was killed Sunday at Los Angeles when a car in which he was riding, crashed into a truck parked without lights on a curve on a highway.

The Herald-Advertiser of Huntington, W. Va., in a story reports that Coach Tom Dandelet of Marshall college is slated for demotion and among those mentioned for the job is Cecil B. Ross, present coach of West Virginia Wesleyan.

"After the way he beat me up, Schmeling has a chance to beat anybody in the world" said Steve Hamas at Paris yesterday. He declared the German is a lot smarter and better fighter than when he lost to Hamas at Philadelphia.

Jock Rosenberg, coach of Rankin's basketball team upon his arrival home from Philadelphia, ascribed the defeat of Rankin by Allentown, 32 to 19, on the razzing given Wylie Campbell, 16 years old colored boy, ace of the Rankin team.

Polish Falcons Topple Gersons By Score 24-15

Falcons Take City-County Independent Championship In Two-Game Series

KAWA-BUDAI HIGH SCORERS

Polish Falcons basketball team is looking for new world's to conquer today following their 24 to 15 defeat of the Gersons, city league champions, yesterday afternoon at the Falcon floor. This was the second setback administered to the Gersons by the Ostroskymen. The victory gives the Falcons the independent championship of Lawrence county.

"Rus" Kawa and Budai helped to defeat the Gersons, these two fine forwards having more points than the Gersons combined team. The entire Falcon team deserves credit for the victory, as they played a great game defensively as well as offensively. "Jimmy" Shaffer was the only Gersons player able to score consistently, he had seven points. Reiber and Hutchison were held scorcless from the field.

The teams started out cautiously and at the end of the first period the Falcons were leading 4 to 3. In the second period the Gersons put on steam and the score was deadlocked at 9-9 as the whistle ended the first half.

Falcons Lead.

Play was fast and furious in the third period, but the Falcons managed to squeeze ahead 14 to 10 as the third stanza ended. In the final period the Falcons outscored the champions 10 to 5 and took a 24 to 15 victory. The guarding of Joe Kolodjeski, Sniezek and Brownie Ostrosky was the best seen this year at the Falcon floor, the highly touted Gersons being held to four field goals. There were no outstanding stars in the battle. Every man did his part. Coach Tony Ostrosky was highly pleased with the showing made by his Falcons.

The Gersons tried hard, but could not match the Falcons for cleverness and accuracy in locating the hoops.

In the preliminary the Falcon Reserves lost to the Indian Heads 44 to 32, with S. Deep, Nocera, B. and Henry Koszela doing the bulk of the scoring.

Biggest Crowd of Year.

The biggest crowd of the year witnessed the game, the Falcon hall was packed to capacity, with about 800 fans, while several hundred were turned away, according to Business Manager Russell Ficht. The Falcons will play any team in Lawrence county that disputes their championship rights.

Allentown Will Honor Champions

RANKINS LOSE BY SCORE 32-19

(International News Service)

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Mar. 25—A testimonial dinner and a victory parade tonight will be the reward tendered by this city of its scholastic basketball champions, the Allentown high school quintet which captured the state title Saturday night by defeating Rankin high school at Philadelphia.

While the victorious team remained in Philadelphia last night thousands of Allentown citizens staged one of the wildest demonstrations seen here since the Armistice celebration in 1918. Nearly 3000 returning rooters who saw the Allentown five win by the score of 32 to 19 were met by nearly double the number and formed a cheering section in Central Square.

High school classes were suspended today in preparation for tonight's events which will be climaxed by a victory bonfire.

Rosenberg Angered

Pittsburgh, Mar. 25—Race prejudice, in the opinion of Jock Rosenberg coach of the Rankin high school basketball team, was one of the major reasons for his team losing the state title to Allentown by a 32 to 19 score at Philadelphia Saturday night.

Rosenberg today attacked the unsportsmanlike tactics of spectators, saying personal insults were hurled at Wylie Campbell, Rankin's colored star, to such a degree that he did not score.

"Of course,' observed Rosenberg, "this will sound like an alibi to all except those who witnessed the spectacle of unsportsmanship. I add hastily that Allentown was a well-coached team, but I do not believe the team was better than several W. P. I. A. L. teams we played and defeated."

THE SPORT PATROL

THE BASKETBALL TIP-OFF

If the opinion of the coaches can be taken as an indication, it is very likely that the basketball center-jump will be eliminated from the game by the national rules committee which is to hold its annual meeting soon. The Pacific coast has already tried the game minus the tip-off, and now some of the leading coaches in the Middle West and East are favoring its abolition.

Coach Bill Chandler of Marquette, who saw a game without the jump when his team defeated Stanford, noted where several more minutes of actual play were injected into the contest. "In football the team scored upon has its choice of possession of the ball afterwards; why not in basketball?" he asks.

Harold G. Olson, coach at Ohio State, claims that some way must be found to give the ball to the little fellows part of the time, and believes that elimination of the tip-off would turn the trick. "Such a ruling would guarantee each team possession of the ball at least half the time, which is impossible these days when a big center and a smaller one jump for the ball," he says.

The main idea in mind seems to be to put the little fellow on an equal basis with the six-footer. This would be all right if the diminutives had no chance in the game as it is being played, and could not in any way cope with the giants. But are the little fellows really hopelessly outclassed?

Take some of the stars in this district as an example. Ray Sweeney of Westminster, Jimmy Murphy and Serany of Duquesne, and Hurley and Ginsberg of Geneva are classy cagers, yet all are in the pigmy division.

If a fellow happens to be blessed with unusual height, it should be his privilege to use this advantage. The center position provides him with this opportunity and, at the same time, there are four other posts on the team at which the smaller men can compete on equal terms with the taller ones.

So why not permit the tall individuals to dominate the tip-off and pivot play when the Lilliputians appear to have an equal chance in the other departments of the game?

There have in the past and are today many short players who have developed into floor stars. To what can the ability of these men to match the play of the tall youths be attributed?

There is only one answer. While these fellows lack height, they have something else—speed and agility—usually not found in the physical make-up of the bigger men. No matter how adept a huge athlete is in shaking the signs of awkwardness, he can never match the smaller man who is skilled in this art.

You have heard it said frequently that this or that athlete, though a giant in stature, has the speed and agility of a flyweight. This is not wholly true. He may seem to have it when compared with other large men, but he'll come out second best when matched with a smaller man in this phase of physical quality.

The smaller basketball players are permitted to use their speed and alertness to the utmost, in fact, such is encouraged, so why shouldn't the tall men be allowed to use a physical advantage bestowed on them? If a man has ability, he'll find a place in basketball, and it doesn't matter whether he's 5-feet-six or 6-feet-five.

The fact that the football team scored upon has its choice of possession of the ball afterwards is true, but injected as an example in a basketball discussion it doesn't hold water. In hockey, after a score is made, the puck is brought back to the center of the rink for a face-off just as the basketball is returned to the middle of the court for a tip-off. Of the two games—football and hockey—the latter is more closely allied to basketball and would provide a better parallel than football in the tip-off controversy.

Recreation Park Will Be Built In Somerset County

National Parks Service Approves Of Project Of 5000 Acres Of Ground

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 25—The national park service has finally approved establishment of a 5,000 acre recreation park in Somerset county, Pa., 60 miles from Pittsburgh, Rep. Snyder (D) of Pennsylvania announced today.

Purchase of the land is expected to be made in the near future, he said.

The survey of the land, which is on Laurel Hill creek, was made a year ago. It has been the subject of intense consideration since that time.

The park is designed to furnish recreational facilities, not only for the people of Pittsburgh, but for Johnstown and many other towns and cities in Pennsylvania.

Lawn Tennis Association Orders Cubans To Go To Mexico For Cup Matches

(International News Service)

MEXICO CITY, Mar. 25.—Acting as arbitrator, the U. S. Lawn Tennis association today advised the Mexican Lawn Tennis association that Cuba must play its Davis cup round with Mexico in Mexico or lose by default. Cuba wished to have the matches played in Havana.

Cuba is scheduled to play Mexico while the United States is playing Canada, the winners to meet.

It won't do. If nobody had millions, who could build the giant machines to stamp out new model cars?

World's First Brewery Sought

Believe That First Brewery Dates Back Possibly Some 6,000 Years

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 25.—Spurred by the uncovering of a flat seal in the ancient mound of Tepe Gawra in far-off Mesopotamia, archeologists today are reported to be hot on the trail of the world's first brewery, an establishment dating back possibly 6,000 years.

The seal, dug up by the University of Pennsylvania museum and American School of Oriental Research joint expedition, shows two men stirring the contents of a vat with long poles.

Flat Seals Used.

Charles Bache, expedition director, in a letter received at the University of Pennsylvania museum here, points out that "flat seals were used to identify property and carried the monograms of their owners. Thus, we may conclude in the present instance that, if individuals had property worth identifying, the Tepe Gawrans were not communistic, nor did all property belong to one ruling noble."

Near the hoary mound of Tepe Gawra lay the ruins of 20 "world's oldest" cities, piled one on the other, tracing the story of man back to Neolithic times.

"At Tepe Gawra every level, from the 12th which we have just excavated in part, down to level 20, which has been revealed to us only through a trial trench, shows this painted pottery to be a predominating feature," Bache stated in his report.

DR. IDA SHANNON IS WILLING TO ENDORSE HONEY CRUSHED BREAD

This Professional Woman, Woman Familiar With Corrective Diets, Does Not Hesitate to Recommend O. C. Orr's New Product As Constipation Relief.

Dr. Ida Shannon, Osteopath, personally investigated Orr's Honey Krushed Wheat Bread, found it filled with energy-giving ingredients, and writes as follows:

"My family and I have been eating your Honey Krushed Wheat Bread and I am glad to recommend it to my patients suffering from constipation, and others who have been forced to take laxatives and purges which many times are habit-forming. While I am reluctant to offer my endorsement to most products, I am glad to do so in your case."

Many leading doctors now prescribe Honey Krushed Wheat Bread to their patients because it contains the entire whole wheat kernel which gives the diet sufficient roughage to prevent constipation. And because it contains pure honey which doctors have found has a stimulating action upon the intestines.

Physicians throughout the country now prescribe Honey Krushed Wheat Bread in the treatment of Constipation because they have found that bran sometimes "packs up" in the intestines and causes serious harm whereas Honey Krushed Wheat Bread does not.

Make This Ten-Day Test

Try eating Honey Krushed Wheat Bread for just ten days. Before you know it the poisons that have accumulated in your intentines will vanish, you will feel like a new person and your elimination will be greatly improved. Then keep well by eating it every meal!

Be sure to get the Original Honey Krushed Wheat Bread which has a liberal extra coating of crushed wheat upon the outer crust and a red, purple and yellow band around the loaf.—Adv.

4 OPERATORS WANTED

I will grant an interview at The Hotel Leslie Tuesday, 10 a. m., this hour ONLY. Come prepared to spend the day if selected, as it will take that much time to thoroughly acquaint you with the operation of this new machine.

Married men with family responsibilities, 24 to 42 years of age preferred.

We have a number of men who in the past three weeks have learned to operate this machine successfully that are earning $35 per week now. Do not confuse this with the ordinary ad. This is different. Come, see for yourself and be convinced. Four references will be required.

SISTERS ARE REUNITED AFTER 34 YEARS

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 25—Reunited for the first time after 34 years, two sisters have started a search for their father, last heard of in Canada.

Members of the family became separated at the death of the mother, Mrs. Minnie McFeely Baumgardner, in East Pittsburgh 34 years ago. The sisters were re-joined recently as Mrs. Jessie Hamilton, of nearby North Braddock, and Mrs. Sylvania Baumgardner McEneney, of Youngstown, O.

A brother resides at Turtle Creek, near here, but nothing has been heard of their father, William Baumgardner, who is believed working in Quebec, Canada.

Stock Market Quiet, Steady

Market Awaits Clarification Of European Situation Before Taking Action

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 25.—The stock market was quiet and steady today pending clarification of the foreign situation.

Utility shares held their own in the face of moderate profit taking which forced Consolidated Gas down a small fraction.

General Motors and Chrysler were steady in light trading, but Hudson lost more than a point on a fairly large turnover.

Industrial shares were dull. U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and other representative issues showed little change from Saturday's close.

Railroad shares were quiet and moderately steady as New York Central and several other of last week's favorites met with profit taking.

Liquors were quiet after last week's selling.

Aviation, specialties, building and food shares marked time.

German reverence for law and constituted authority is well exemplified by an old story of those last war days in 1918 when a crowd pushed towards the kaiser's palace just before his abdication and flight. It was a rioting mob in the making, mad with passion and anger—but the mob dared not walk on the grass lawn in front of the palace!

Beggar's Fortune Pawn In Court

(International News Service)

OBION, Tenn.—A beggar filed suit here to recover $14,000 he collected in alms. W. L. Brogden, crippled mendicant, banker his nickels and dimes under the name of C. S. Earp, of McConnell, Tenn., because, he said, someone was trying to take the money from him." Earp said the beggar gave him the money in return for a promise to take care of him for life.

"Brogden sneaked out of a window of my home several days after we made the bargain," Earp said, "and disappeared."

"I couldn't stand the food—what there was of it at Earp's house," the beggar declared.

Start Battle For Share Of Fortune

State Of Pennsylvania And Alleged Heirs From 21 Countries, Seek Part Of $16,000,000

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 25.—The long-delayed battle for the Garrett millions got underway today in orphans' court here.

Five thousand odd claimants, including the State of Pennsylvania and purported heirs from 21 countries, are seeking possession of the $17,000,000 fortune left by Mrs. Henrietta E. Garrett, widow of a Philadelphia snuff manufacturer.

Mrs. Garrett, who died in November, 1930, disposed of $62,000 in her will, but failed to carry out her husband's provisions in naming beneficiaries with respect to the balance.

Today's hearing concerned itself with interpretation of a clause placed by Walter Garrett in his will more than half a century ago. The real fireworks over claims will come later, possibly six months or a year from now.

Willed To Wife

Originally the proceedings today were to have dealt with an accounting, but that was postponed pending consideration of the clause. Garrett, who died in 1895, mentioned in his will:

"I give, devise and bequeath to my dear wife, Henrietta E. Garrett, her heirs, executors, administrators and assigns, all the rest, residue and remainder of my estate, real and personal whatsoever situate for her own absolute use and disposal.

"And not having been blessed with any children, I desire that at my death she shall make a will disposing of all her property so that she may know to whom it shall descend."

KING'S DAUGHTERS MEET

Thursday the King's Daughters of Mahoning held an interesting meeting with Mrs. Larmer Carlisle.

A delicious dessert luncheon was served by the hostess, after which the usual missionary program followed.

Mrs. Berneice Kuhn led the devotionals. Some qualities that distinguish a true Christian were given by the following: Attendence at church, by Mrs. Hannah Kretzer; Sabbath-keeping, by Mrs. Stella Montgomery; abstinence of alcohol, Mrs. Berniece Kuhn; interest in appearance of self, home and community, Mrs. Dora Cover; voting right, Mrs. Alice McBride, and closing with a prayer written by George Washington, by Mrs. Carlisle.

Miss Grace Crawford sang "The Little Church in the Wildwood" with the society joining in the chorus. "Authority and Influence of the Church" was ably discussed by Mrs. Winifred Baird. "Building the Church in America" was told by Mrs. Ada Munn.

The business meeting in charge of the president, Mrs. Harry Kretzer, followed. It was the annual election of officers and all the old ones were re-elected. Mrs. F. A. Montgomery was appointed as a delegate to Grove City in June. Mrs. Roy McBride and Mrs. Earl Cover as delegates to Beaver Falls in April.

The April meeting will be with Mrs. E. F. Munn.
